New Mobilization Base Plan Assures Speedy Arms Output

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) — A new plan for keeping the nation's industrial equipment in readiness to roll into quantity production of modern weapons of war was made public today by Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming.

A spokesman for the Office of Defense Mobilization said "hundreds of millions of dollars a year," will be spent by the government to keep together key production personnel, to keep products and production techniques up to date with defense requirements and to maintain idle machinery and tools.

The long-awaited blueprint, of which more than a dozen previous versions are known to have been prepared and withdrawn, was concerned only with maintaining a production base for the output of military end items like planes, tanks, guns, ammunition and vehicles.

It did not touch on the vast, related problem of keeping defense-supporting industries making steel, electricity, aluminum and other basic things producing at a high level or at high production capacity.

Flemming ordered into being a Defense Facilities Maintenance Board to coordinate activities under the new mobilization base plan.

Representatives of the Defense Department, the three military services, the Commerce Department and the Atomic Energy Commission, plus the ODM chairman, will make up the board. Members have not yet been selected.

The plan attacked the twin problems of:

1. What production facilities, including plant, equipment and people, are needed for "use or conversion" in a time of emergency, to meet the onset of hostilities.

2. How to keep an essential production base, from which all out war production could pyramid, in readiness and up-to-date through a period of peace which might be either short or long.

Declining defense production in recent months made issuance of the new order increasingly urgent because the drop has progressively made idle skilled workers.

Housewife Flees Reds By Crossing Flooded Austria

BONN, Germany, Aug. 24 (AP)—A 24-year-old Slovak housewife swam and waded through flooded areas in the Soviet zone of Austria for eight days to join her refugee husband in West Germany, the Voice of America reported tonight.

She told American authorities she deliberately chose a time for escape when recent floods in Europe had reached their crest, forcing many Communist guards to abandon their posts.

She arrived in West Germany three weeks ago. Her name is being withheld.

U.S. Production Turns Upward

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Commerce Department said today the public stepped up with a wide open purse in the second quarter of this year and more than made up for a further sharp drop in federal spending.

It said the result was to give general business activity a "firmer tone" after nine months of steady weakening.

For the first time since the second quarter of 1953 the sum total of the nation's production of goods and services, the gross national product, turned upward. The upturn in April, May and June was tiny—from an annual rate of $355,800,000,000 in the first quarter to 356 billion dollars in the second quarter.

But this contrasted sharply with slides in the previous four quarters, when national production of goods and services sank by an annual rate of $14,100,000,000.

The small gain in the second quarter of this year was an abrupt change from the decline in overall production of $4,700,000,000 a year that occurred in the first quarter.

National security spending continued to drop off in the second quarter of this year, although at a less drastic rate than in previous quarters.

ROK Armed Forces Hike OK'd By Wilson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Adm. Sohn Won Il, South Korea's defense minister, announced today that agreement has been reached with U.S. Secretary of Defense Wilson on an increase in South Korea's armed forces backed by American aid.

Sohn said in a statement the agreement covers both "the fundamental principles regarding this aid program" and the method of implementing it.

Negotiations have been under way on these questions since July 26. Sohn said the meetings will be completed by Thursday. He expects to leave with his staff for Korea by the end of the week.

Sohn said questions relating to the withdrawal of American troops from Korea, announced by the Pentagon last week will be discussed later.

Huge, Powerful Radar Tube Is Developed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (AP) — The Air Force today announced development of a new electronic tube producing four million watts of radar power, more than 250 times as much as was used to bounce radar pulses to the moon and back in 1946.

Air Research and Development command headquarters here said the eight-foot tube—called a megawatt klystron—also controls the frequency of the power more precisely.

The accomplishment, the Air Force said, opens the way for large and powerful radar tubes needed for missiles, aircraft, television, communications systems and medical and atomic research.

The reticulated python of India and Malaya, which sometimes grows more than 30 feet in length is rated as the world's largest snake.

Mystery Woman Describes Mass Rape By Soviets

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—A mystery woman—her nervous hands visible behind a protective screen—described today how Russian wartime troops raped her in a mass attack. She collapsed as she finished her dramatic recital.

The woman detailed her own personal horror story to a House Committee on Communist Aggression, which is compiling reports on Red atrocities.

Austrian-born, she said she was in Hungary in 1944 when the Red army rolled in. Russian soldiers raped her nine or 10 times in quick succession, she added, and left her terrified and diseased.

Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich), committee chairman, asked her at one point if rape by Red soldiers wasn't the exception rather than the rule.

"It certainly was not," she replied. "It was the rule. If you met a young girl or even an older woman and she said she had not been raped, you looked at her as if something must be wrong with her.

"We talked about it freely. It was nothing to be ashamed of. Every girl was raped at least once."

The mystery woman was billed only as "Madame X" as she took the witness stand. The committee withheld her identity to spare her embarassment.

In her 30's, she was a short, slender brunette. She testified in excellent English from behind a large screen that concealed the upper part of her body. However, her hands were visible underneath, clenching and unclenching until the knuckles grew white with strain.

She left the witness stand after about 35 minutes and sagged into the arms of her husband, who had been standing in anteroom directly behind her.

President To Wave Radioactive Wand, Start A-Plant Work

DENVER, Aug. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower will wave a radioactive wand here Labor Day to signal the start of construction of the nation's first atomic power plant, at Shippingport, Pa.

Announcing this today, the President's vacation headquarters said the ceremony, Sept. 6, will include a 5-minute talk by Eisenhower.

The atomic power plant at Shippingport is situated near Pittsburgh. The nuclear unit to be constructed there is being built by the government. Eisenhower will wave a radioactive wand which will send an impulse to the site of the plant in Pennsylvania and set in motion there a groundbreaking device.

W. Virginia Gets Aluminum Plant

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 24 (AP)—Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. announced today it would build a huge multi-million dollar aluminum rolling mill on a 2,500-acre site along the Ohio River near Ravenswood.

The official announcement by D. A. Rhoades, vice president and general manager of the Oakland, Calif., firm, ended weeks of speculation on where the giant facility would be located.

Kaiser said construction is scheduled to start about Jan. 1, 1955, with the first stage to be completed by mid-1956.

The company gave no cost estimate but the sprawling plant is expected to cost at least 67 million dollars, the amount of certificates of necessity issued by the Office of Defense Mobilization.

When the sheet and foil plant is a complete rolling mill, it will employ 2,000 workers and have an annual capacity of 250 million pounds of aluminum.

Iowa Fair Makes Exception For Ike

DES MOINES, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Iowa State Fair Board today made a major exception to its long-standing rule of "No free admission for anyone."

The board said gate and grandstand admission charges would be lifted next Monday afternoon for everybody while President Eisenhower is the fair's guest for a non-political address.

Actress Scratched By "Tame" Tiger

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Aug. 24 (AP)—Actress Marilyn Maxwell came off second best in a swimming pool tiff with a "tame" tiger today, and promptly fired the animal.

According to a spokesman for a hotel, where the singer and the tiger shared billing in a casino act, the two were splashing around in the shallow end of the pool while photographers took pictures when the tiger got panicky.

Miss Maxwell got in the animal's way as it tried to scramble from the water, the spokesman said, and suffered several scratches on her leg.

Buick's biggest hit brings you a 3-way bonus

1. You get the car that's in step with tomorrow

From stem to stern, Buick today is styled a year ahead—with long, low glamor lines, with the very look of tomorrow, and with that broad panoramic windshield that many other cars won't have till 1955. Equally important, you get in Buick advanced V8 power, big room, luxurious comfort, the famed Million Dollar Ride—and all for prices that start just a few dollars above those of the so-called "low-price three." Is it any wonder, then, that Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of these "low-price three"?

2. You get the car that's a sure high resale value

Buicks have always had a high trade-in value. But the 1954 Buick has an extra advantage in its year-ahead styling. That means your Buick will stay well up in the style parade for years to come—will stay fresh and new-looking well into the future. So you're bound to be way ahead in actual dollars when trade-in time comes.

Come see for yourself why—

3. You get a bigger allowance from our volume business

Every month's sales figures this year have firmed this fact: Buick sales are soaring; Buick is outselling all other cars in the nation, regardless of price range, except two of the "low-price three." So with this tremendous volume, we can—and do—offer higher trade-in allowances. Come in, see and drive a new Buick—then check for yourself that our volume business really does mean a far bigger allowance for you.

Vargas' Death Sets Off Riots

President Signs Legislation Outlawing Communist Party

Spokesman Says Reds Will Fight For Invalidation

Ike To Approve Other Anti-Subversive Bills

DENVER, Aug. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed legislation outlawing the Communist party and hailed it as a reflection of American determination to smash conspiracies aimed at "violent overthrow of our entire form of government."

The President's history-making action also wrote into a law a provision for a crackdown on Red-infiltrated labor unions. And he announced that in the next few days he will sign three other measures which aim blows at Communists and other subversives.

The administration did not ask Congress to enact the Communist outlawry bill, which was pushed through in the closing days of the session, and it had made no secret of misgivings that the legislation might drive Reds further underground.

Ike Has No Misgivings

But Eisenhower, in signing the measure today at his vacation headquarters, made no mention of any misgivings.

"The American people," he declared in a formal statement, "are determined to protect themselves and their institutions against any organization in their midst which, purporting to be a political party within the normally accepted meaning, is actually a conspiracy dedicated to the violent overthrow of our entire form of government.

"The American people likewise are determined to accomplish this in strict conformity with the requirements of justice, fair play and the constitution of the United States.

"They realize that employment of any other means would react unfavorably against the innocent as well as the guilty, and, in the long run, would distort and damage the judicial proceedings of our country. The whole series of bills which the administration has sponsored in this field have been designed in this spirit and with just these purposes."

Unconstitutional Reds Say

Shortly afterward, a Communist party spokesman in New York asserted the party would "continue to function as a legal political party."

The spokesman declared the new law was "profoundly unconstitutional" and that the party would "join with other groups to seek the bill's invalidation."

In his statement on the anti-Red legislation he approved, Eisenhower announced that during the next few days he will sign bills providing for:

1. Stripping citizenship from those advocating overthrow of the government by force and violence.

2. The death penalty for persons found guilty of peacetime espionage, and broadening the definition of sabotage to include acts involving use of radioactive, biological and chemical agents.

3. Banning government payment of pensions and annuities to former officers and federal employes who have been convicted of certain criminal offenses.

Mitchell Called To Tenn. Valley Power Hearing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee today called on Democratic Chairman Stephen Mitchell to give it on Sept. 2 "any evidence of malfeasance or impropriety" he has with regard to the administration plan to contract for private power in the Tennessee Valley area.

Chairman W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) of the joint committee made public a copy of the invitation to Mitchell, who has called the plan "A raw deal . . . a shocking story."

Cole telegraphed Mitchell he was being asked to testify "in view of your repeated intemperate charges against President Eisenhower in this matter."

Mitchell Ready To Testify

From Chicago, Mitchell replied that he would "be glad to accept your invitation to attend the meeting" but said Cole's reference to "intemperate charges" would seem to indicate that "you have prejudged the case in such a way as to raise doubts over your ability to conduct an impartial hearing."

Thus another round was indicated in the controversy, which has already had a series of climaxes.

One high point came during the 13 days of debate in the Senate on the atomic energy bill when critics of the proposed private contract, most of them backers of the Tennessee Valley Authority, sought in vain to wipe the contract out by legislation.

Another climax came on Aug.16 when Mitchell intimated in Chicago that Eisenhower's friendship with golfer Bobby Jones influenced the decision to award the contract to a utility group in which Jones has an interest.

Pact With Dixon-Yates Group

The contract would be with Middle South Utilities, Inc., and the Southern Co., called the Dixon-Yates group after the firm's top officers. It would provide for the AEC to buy power from a 107-million-dollar steam plant to be built by Dixon-Yates at West Memphis, Ark. The power would be supplied to the TVA for distribution in the Memphis area to replace TVA power being fed to the AEC plant at Paducah, Ky.

Five Categories Of Charges Chosen For M'Carthy Probe

Most Revolve Around Red-Hunt Activities

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) — A special Senate committee today requested Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) to defend himself against five categories of charges that his conduct warrants public censure by the Senate.

Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) said the categories include about 13 of the 46 overlapping charges filed originally against the controversial senator from Wisconsin.

They range from alleged abuse of fellow senators to alleged incitement of government employes to disobey the law. Most of them revolve around McCarthy's Red-hunting activities.

A committee announcement formally asked McCarthy to appear at public hearings opening Aug. 31 —one day later than previously scheduled. The senator was notified he had the right to be represented by legal counsel and to present evidence.

"Most Important" Charges

Watkins said he and the five other senators on the committee felt that the categories embraced "the most important" charges filed by Sens. Flanders (R-Vt), Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore). He added, however, this did not preclude the committee from considering all the charges during the hearings.

McCarthy was not available immediately for comment on the committee's announcement. He is vacationing near La Jolla, Calif.

The categories:

1. Alleged "incidents of contempt of the Senate or a senatorial committee" by McCarthy.

This refers to a 1952 probe of McCarthy's financial affairs by a Senate Elections subcommittee and includes charges by Fulbright that McCarthy was "repeatedly invited to testify (but he) contemptuously refused to comply," by Morse that "he declined to comply with a request" to testify, and by Flanders that "he has continued to show his contempt for the Senate by failing to explain in any manner . . . charges" concerned with his financial affairs.

"Incitement" Charge

2. "Incidents of encouragement of United States employes to violate the law and their oaths of office or executive orders."

This group goes back to McCarthy's statements during the McCarthy - Army hearings and includes a charge by Morse that he "openly invited and incited employes of the government to violate the law and their oaths of office by urging them to make available information, including classified information, which in the opinion of the employes would be of assistance" to him in his investigations.

3. "Incidents involving receipt or use of confidential or classified documents or other confidential information from executive files."

Morse charged that McCarthy offered such information during the McCarthy - Army hearings "in the form of a spurious document which he falsely asserted . . . to be a 'letter from the FBI.'"

Taken From FBI Memo

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover later denied that he had written the letter, dated Jan. 26, 1951, and warning of Red spy danger at Ft. Monmouth, N.J. But Hoover added that the document was taken almost verbatim from a much longer FBI memo of the same date.

4. "Incidents involving abuses of colleagues in the Senate."

One of Flanders' charges was that McCarthy has "ridiculed his colleagues in the Senate, defaming them publicly in vulgar and base language (regarding Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ)—'a living miracle without brains or guts'; on Flanders — 'senile — I think they should get a man with a net and take him to a good quiet place.'"

5. Charges that McCarthy abused Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, then commanding officer at Camp Kilmer, N.J., during an investigation of the alleged Communist background of Maj. Irving Peress.

Dulles Hopes France Will Approve EDC

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today he still has hope, if not expectation, that France will approve a European army plan including rearmed Germans.

He voiced deep regret at French failure to agree at the recent Brussels conference with five other European countries on the European Defense Community treaty.

He said the other five—Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg, West Germany and Italy—"stood firm" for the principles of peace and freedom.

U. S. Navy Defends Formosa

But that was as far as the secretary, speaking carefully at his news conference, would go in chiding France. In fact, when asked whether he blamed France for the failure at Brussels, he paused and said his statement spoke for itself.

On other points, Dulles said:

1. The U. S. Navy's 7th Fleet has basic orders to defend the Nationalist Chinese island stronghold of Formosa against any Red Chinese assault from the nearby mainland. But he noted that smaller islands in between are related to the defense of Formosa. The fleet would be justified in defending some of those islands.

Philippines Trip Planned

2. He expects to leave one week from today for the Philippines, primarily to attend an eight-nation conference of foreign ministers to start the ball rolling on some sort of Southeast Asian defense alliance. He may visit Japan and Formosa on the way home.

3. He learned with sorrow of the death of President Getulio Vargas of Brazil, a country which he said always has been close to the United States. Vargas committed suicide after being forced to step out of office.

Heat Was Against Snow Suit Thief

DETROIT, Aug. 24 (AP)—Moses Coats, 26, was sentenced today to 30 days in jail—for filching a snow suit from a downtown store while the thermometer stood at 93 yesterday.

Moses didn't impress the judge when he admitted taking the snowsuit, explaining: "I have five kids, your honor, and I wanted to be ready for winter."

Coffee Trading Limit Is Set By Exchange

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Coffee and Sugar Exchange today set a trading limit of one cent a pound a day in coffee prices because of unsettled conditions in Brazil following the suicide of President Getulio Vargas.

Gustavo Lobo, president of the exchange, said the action, effective tomorrow morning, would cover the current month and continue until further notice.

It means that trading will stop when any coffee price rises or drops 100 points—one cent a pound—in a single day.

Crashing Plane Smashes Auto

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24 (AP)—A Navy plane crashed today in a heavily-populated section just south of the Municipal Airport, killing the pilot and smashing a parked car.

The naval air station at the airport, about 12 miles northwest of St. Louis, identified the pilot as Lt. Cmdr. Amos B. Buchanan, 34, a reserve officer of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

The single-engine Corsair clipped the top off a utility pole and crashed in a parking lot of the bachelor officers' quarters at the air station, then skidded out onto Natural Bridge Road, a main traffic artery between the city and the airport area.

Buchanan, who died at St. Louis County Hospital, apparently was trying to avoid striking residential areas of suburban Bridgeton and St. Ann when he crashed, the naval air station reported.

He had radioed ahead for permission to make an emergency landing and his plane was seen trailing smoke. The engine failed before the crash.

Pennsylvania Pilot Holder Of New Plane Altitude Mark

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Air Force hasn't permission to say so, but it is no longer much of a secret that the new altitude king of powered flight is 36-year-old Maj. Arthur Murray.

Murray is one of more than 30 test pilots attached to Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Well-founded reports are that he flew the Bell X1A rocket plane to a new altitude record earlier this month — possibly a mile or two higher than the 83,235 feet reached by Marine Lt. Col. Marion E. Carl in the Douglas Skyrocket D558-2 Aug. 31, 1953.

Murray, a native of Harrisburg, Pa., has the Air Medal and eight Oak Leaf Clusters, the last for flying high-altitude test missions at the flight research center at Edwards. He has test flown the F80, F84 and F86 and jet fighters in addition to several Bell experimental aircraft.

Air Force Secretary Talbott announced, at an Air Force Assn. dinner Saturday, that an Air Force test plane had "broken the world's altitude record—and it will go higher."

But identity of the plane, pilot and record was withheld for security reasons.

Air Force test pilot Maj. Charles Yeager, also attending the dinner, denied he flew the record flight. Yeager was the first man to fly faster than sound, and more recently set a new speed mark of 1,650 miles an hour.

Murray's altitude flight presumably was made over the desert from Edwards Base at Muroc, northeast of Los Angeles.

The Air Force said Murray was born in Cresson, Pa., but lists Harrisburg as his home.

Churchill Rebuffs Rumor

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill will address the annual conference of the Conservative party at Blackpool on Oct. 9. This disclosure today seemingly rebuffed rumors of his imminent retirement.

Brazilian Demonstrators Burn Cars

Crowds gather around cars which demonstrators overturned and burned on streets of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, yesterday in the aftermath of the military ouster of President Getulio Vargas, who committed suicide. Mendes-France Won't Risk EDC Confidence Vote

PARIS, Aug. 24 (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France declined tonight to stake the life of his government on parliamentary approval of the European army treaty.

He told newsmen after a late-hour Cabinet meeting that his government had agreed not to call for a vote of confidence when ratification of the European Defense Community treaty comes before Parliament Saturday.

This meant, in effect, that Mendes-France would ask the National Assembly to vote on the treaty but would not recommend approval as a government policy.

Crucial Decision

This appeared to be a crucial decision since proponents of a unified army that would include West German troops have been urging the Premier to come out strongly for ratification despite his defeat at Brussels.

There he failed to convince representatives of the other five EDC countries the treaty should be sharply modified.

Mendes-France told the newsmen the government would oppose any efforts to postpone debate on EDC. He added that any further delay in facing the problem would be disadvantageous to the country.

Asked whether he would call on the National Assembly to take up the Bonn treaty, granting West Germany sovereignty, at the same time the EDC pact comes up, the Premier replied "No comment."

German Resurgence Feared

One of France's chief objections to EDC is that it does not sufficiently safeguard French interests against possible German aggressive resurgence.

Mendes-France also replied "No comment" when asked whether his ministers would be free to vote according to their conscience on EDC. He explained all problems regarding the treaty have not been decided.

Before today's Cabinet meeting Mendes-France received U. S. Ambassador C. Douglas Dillon. The Premier gave the ambassador a report on the Brussels talks last week and presumably filled him in on some details of Mendes-France's conference with Churchill yesterday.

SEC Rejects Charge Against Otis & Co.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Security and Exchange Commission today dismissed proceedings against Otis & Co. of Cleveland which grew out of an offering of common stock of Kaiser-Frazer Corp. in 1948.

The commission rejected a contention that Otis & Co. had violated antifraud and registration provisions of the Securities Act.

The commission said no harm came to public investors to whom the stock was offered.

The order instituting the proceedings alleged that Otis & Co. headed by Cleveland financier Cyrus Eaton caused a lawsuit to be filed against Kaiser-Frazer for the purpose of evading its obligation under an underwriting agreement connected with the proposed stock issue.

Socialite Turns Back On Portrait By Dali; Is Sued

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—For a whole year Mrs. Ann Woodward of the Social Register sat for a painting by surrealist Salvador Dali.

As agreed in advance, her lawyer, Theodore Miller, said today, she never once peeked to see how it was coming along.

In April, 1953, it was finished. Mrs. Woodward looked. She saw herself—or a woman resembling her attractive self—standing on a beach in front of a coral cave, Miller said. The portrait was executed in Dali's studio.

She turned her back on it and never looked at it again.

"It's something she would not have in her home," said Miller.

Democrats Seek Air Time To Give Congress Views

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee said tonight it has asked all radio and television networks for air time to give the Democrats' views on the accomplishments or shortcomings of the 83rd Congress.

In answer to a question, a committee spokesman said the request was not made on the basis of an answer to President Eisenhower's speech last night lauding the just ended session of Congress.

"In view of the partisan nature" of the President's speech, the committee said, however, "We asked for time for an official spokesman to state our views."

In New York, the Columbia Broadcasting Co. said it had turned down the committee's request in line with its policy of not granting air time for replies when the President speaks in his official capacity.

'Hope' Discussion Of World Churches Nearing Climax

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 24 (AP) — The big Christian discussion on whether mankind's main efforts should be to get to heaven or to make the earth more heaven-like neared a climax today.

The subject, phrased in the words, "Christ — the hope of the world," is the main theme of the historic assembly of the World Council of Churches, now in its 10th day.

For the first time tomorrow, the question of whether Christian hopes should be focused on defeating evil in the present world, or on a righteous kingdom in the hereafter, will come before a general session.

"We need to rethink the Christian message in each generation," said Bishop Johannes Lilje, of Germany's Evangelical Church. "We have to consider it more methodically, to find out anew why we believe in Christ. Only then can we tell our fellowman."

Up to now, church representatives from various denominations and regions of the earth have worked in 15 separate groups to try to cut through the differing concepts and approaches to declare a clear-cut "hope."

In hour after hour of discussions in many tongues and dialects and which sometimes have flared into complex disagreements the mingled Christians have set down their group findings.

These will go before 1,500 church representatives of 163 denominations, beginning tomorrow, for the body to frame the boundaries and basis of the hope found in their beliefs.

Social Security Checks Increase Early In October

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Social security officials prepared today to start paying an added 400 million dollars a year to the program's beneficiaries, beginning early in October.

President Eisenhower is expected to sign into law a bill expanding the program in ample time for adding the increased amounts to September checks, which will be delivered about Oct. 4.

6½ Million Will Benefit

Officials said about 6½ million beneficiaries—some five million retired workers and widows and other survivors of deceased workers—will automatically receive the higher payments. They will be told of the coming increase in folders to be mailed with the checks they will get early next month.

The retired worker now getting the minimum $25 a month will get $30, and the man getting the maximum $85 a month will find his check increased to $98.50. The average increase is $6 a month.

Those retiring in future years will get even more. The maximum will go up to $108.50, but to qualify for that rate, an employe must continue working for at least six quarter-years after next Jan. 1 at a salary of at least $4,200 a year.

Tax Will Be Increased

For workers making that much or more, the new bill will add $12 to the annual social security tax effective Jan. 1. The 2 per cent tax on workers and employers, now collected only on the first $3,600 of salary, will be extended to the first $4,200.

The increases will go also to beneficiaries. A widow and one child now getting $37.60 a month will get $45, and those getting $127.60 will get $147.80.

The minimum for a single survivor—a widow, for instance—will go up to $30 a month from the present $18.80, but where the monthly payment now is $30 it will go up only to $33.80.

Ousted Brazil Leader Fires Bullet In Heart

Undisclosed Number Killed As Angry Mob, Police Exchange Fire

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 24 (AP)—President Getulio Vargas fired a bullet through his heart today after Brazil's military brass forced him to resign. Violence quickly spread throughout the country, and a number of persons were reported killed by gunfire in Brazil's big southern city of Porto Alegre.

The suicide of Brazil's 71-year-old strongman was an explosive climax to the two-week-old crisis over the murder of an air force major during an attempted assassination of an anti-Vargas newspaper editor.

Reports from the Atlantic port city of Porto Alegre said police fired into an angry mob and the mob fired back, leaving an undisclosed number of dead and wounded.

There were reports that some of the attacks—many of them against U. S. firms or those thought to be owned by U. S. interests—were inspired by Communists who seized the opportunity of today's tension to foment anti-American reaction.

Mob Smashed Into Consulate

The raging mob smashed into the U. S. consulate in Porto Alegre, 670 miles southwest of Rio De Janeiro, and damage was reported heavy. Another U. S. consulate at Belo Horizonte in eastern Brazil was reported smashed by a Communist-led crowd.

A crowd of several hundred tried to surge past some 200 troops guarding the U. S. Embassy here in Rio.

Cavalry and police fired over their heads and drove the mob back. From across the street, they hurled rocks and smashed four big plate glass windows in the big, ultra-modern building.

As night fell in Rio the demonstrations ended. Armed guards and cavalry continued to patrol the streets.

Rioters accused the United States of fomenting the government crisis that led to Vargas' dramatic end.

Police Fire Into Air

At Sao Paulo, mobs attacked shops that refused to close down. Most places of business in Rio were quickly shuttered.

Crowds in the capital converged around the Senate, where police once fired into the air to disperse them. They immediately regathered but this time were scattered by a barrage of noise bombs.

"To the wrath of my enemies I leave the legacy of my death," Vargas wrote in the 600-word letter shortly before taking his own life.

"To those who think they have defeated me, I respond with victory," he wrote. "I was a slave of the people and today I free myself for eternal life."

Soon after Vargas' death, and without ceremony, Joao Cafe Filho assumed the presidency. Cafe, 55, a former editor, had been elected vice president with Vargas in 1950. In a statement, the new President identified himself closely with the dead leader and said Vargas' suicide "hit me like a blow."

Presumably at the request of the air force, Cafe named Lt. Gen. Eduardo Gomes—who sparked the opposition to Vargas—as the new air minister, replacing pro-Vargas Gen. Epaminondas dos Santos.

The new President asked Gen. Zenobio da Costa to remain as war minister and the latter accepted.

Eastland Wins In Miss. Primary

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 24 (AP)—U. S. Sen. James Eastland rolled to a top-heavy victory tonight in his bid for re-election in Mississippi's Democratic primary.

With only 299 of the state 1805 precincts unreported, most of them in rural areas, Eastland had 117,858 votes to 71,410 for Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin.

Eastland seeking his third term, carried all but a handful of the counties. He received heaviest support in Jackson, the capital, and the rich, agricultural Delta, his home territory.

Gartin's support came mainly from cities. But most city precincts were reported and he was too far back to catch up.

Biologist Roundup Suggests Soviet Germ War Research

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (AP)—Allied security agents said today it looks as though the Soviet Union is rounding up a research staff in East Germany for experiments in germ warfare.

They voiced the belief after being apprised of reports that Russian agents in East Germany have arrested at least a dozen biologists and presumably whisked them off to the Soviet Union.

All the scientists seized are biologists who would be qualified for such study.

The clandestine roundup has been going on for weeks. First confirmation of it reached West Berlin several days ago with the arrival of four student scientists who disclosed the details of abductions of their professors. The four refugees have been given the protection of anonymity and seclusion.

A Mecklenburg scientist got word out to a friend in American intelligence circles last week that eight of his associates had been snatched by Soviet agents and taken away, presumably to the Soviet Union.

Through underground channels, the West Berlin Free Jurists League said it had established the identities of some of the abducted scientists.

Both Allied and German quarters said the roundup is wide in its scope but that the East security agents have sealed off contact among biology centers to maintain secrecy.

German biologists have long been recognized among scientists as among the world's best. The Soviets have tapped German brains in a forced program ever since 1945.

U. S. Will Have Over 100 Million Persons Of Voting Age In Fall

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Census Bureau said today that this year for the first time the United States will have over 100 million persons of voting age.

In a new estimate for the November elections, the bureau said that figure would be exclusive of 2½ million voters in the armed services.

There will be approximately 100,223,000 civilian Americans old enough to vote this November, compared with 98,135,000 in November, 1952, the bureau reported.

Some persons old enough to vote however will not be eligible to cast their ballots. Among them will be about 2½ million aliens and those old enough to vote who have not met state voting requirement.

The Census Bureau listed by states the percentage of increase, or decrease since 1950, and the number of civilians of voting age Nov. 1, 1954. The list included:

Maryland, up 5.1	1,585,000
Virginia, up 3.6,	2,031,000
West Virginia, down 4.5,	1,118,000

The District of Columbia showed an increase of 0.8 to a Nov. 1, 1954, total of 563,000.

Statue Of Christ Will Be Lowered Into Sea

GENOA, Italy, Aug. 24 (AP) — An eight-foot statue of Christ, which will be sunk in 52 feet of water off the Ligurian coast, was blessed yesterday by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Antonio Massa, Roman Catholic priest expelled from China by the Communists a year ago.

Actual lowering of the 80-ton statue into the sea 500 yards off Camogli was postponed, however, until next Sunday. Yesterday the seas were too rough.

Italy's newest liner, the Cristoforo Colombo, just leaving Genoa on her second trip to New York, altered course to pass the scene. A wreath contributed by passengers was tossed onto the waters where the "Christ of the Depths" will be lowered.

The statue is dedicated to sailors and all who have perished at sea.

Identification Of War Dead Will Be Slow

SEOUL, Aug. 24 (AP) — The U. S. Army said today it may take months to identify some of the 4,011 bodies the Communists have promised to deliver in an exchange of Korean War dead starting Sept. 10.

The Allies will return about 14,000 bodies of Communist dead to the neutral zone at a rate of up to 600 each morning except Sunday, the Army said. The Reds will deliver an unspecified number of Allied dead each afternoon.

10 Air Force Pilots To Fly In Speed Test

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Air Force today announced the names of 10 pilots from five commands who will make the 1,900-mile Bendix Trophy speed dash from California to Ohio Sept. 4.

The speed test winner will be decided on the basis of elapsed time from the "wheels rolling" signal on take-off at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. to the "pass-by" time at the home pylon at Dayton's James M. Cox Municipal Airport at suburban Vandalia.

The event will be one of the features of the National Air Show to be held at the airport Sept. 4-6.

Five alternate pilots also were named. They will be on a "stand-by" basis, as replacements if any of the principal starters are unable to leave the ground.

The five major commands are the Air Training Command, Air Research and Development Command, Air Proving Ground Command, Strategic Air Command, and Tactical Air Command.

Among the pilots named to fly in the race are:

Air Proving Ground Command—Maj. George G. Loving, Lynchburg, Va., and Capt. Jesse E. Green, Leavenworth, Kan., principals, and Capt. Maurice M. Benitez, Washington, D. C., alternate. All APGC pilots are stationed at Eglin AFB, Fla.

Tactical Air Command—Lt. Col. Thomas D. Robertson, St. Paul, Minn., and Maj. Harry K. Evans, Heaters, W. Va., principals, and Col. William S. Cowart, Cowart, Va., alternate. All TAC pilots are stationed at Langley, AFB, Va.

Young Plane Spotters On Week's Marathon

PARK RIDGE, N. J., Aug. 24 (AP)—Two teen-age boys are on a one-week plane spotting marathon aimed at giving their fellow members of the Ground Observer Corps a vacation from duty.

William Mozak, 18, and Ronald Newman, 17, started their tour Sunday morning and will continue on the job until Aug. 28. They have set up a cot at the observation station atop a building.

Breakfast is served to them by the station supervisor, and lunch and dinner are provided by local restaurants.

A physician is giving them daily physical checkups.

The boys are alternating on the duties. They are regular observers of the post which has 90 volunteers.

The boys said they are performing the one-week of continual duty in order to give everyone at the post at least a full week of rest.

New Mobilization Base Plan Assures Speedy Arms Output

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) — A new plan for keeping the nation's industrial equipment in readiness to roll into quantity production of modern weapons of war was made public today by Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming.

A spokesman for the Office of Defense Mobilization said "hundreds of millions of dollars a year," will be spent by the government to keep together key production personnel, to keep products and production techniques up to date with defense requirements and to maintain idle machinery and tools.

The long-awaited blueprint, of which more than a dozen previous versions are known to have been prepared and withdrawn, was concerned only with maintaining a production base for the output of military end items like planes, tanks, guns, ammunition and vehicles.

It did not touch on the vast, related problem of keeping defense-supporting industries making steel, electricity, aluminum and other basic things producing at a high level or at high production capacity.

Flemming ordered into being a Defense Facilities Maintenance Board to coordinate activities under the new mobilization base plan.

Representatives of the Defense Department, the three military services, the Commerce Department and the Atomic Energy Commission, plus the ODM chairman, will make up the board. Members have not yet been selected.

The plan attacked the twin problems of:

1. What production facilities, including plant, equipment and people, are needed for "use or conversion" in a time of emergency, to meet the onset of hostilities.

2. How to keep an essential production base, from which all out war production could pyramid, in readiness and up-to-date through a period of peace which might be either short or long.

Declining defense production in recent months made issuance of the new order increasingly urgent because the drop has progressively made idle skilled workers.

Housewife Flees Reds By Crossing Flooded Austria

BONN, Germany, Aug. 24 (AP)—A 24-year-old Slovak housewife swam and waded through flooded areas in the Soviet zone of Austria for eight days to join her refugee husband in West Germany, the Voice of America reported tonight.

She told American authorities she deliberately chose a time for escape when recent floods in Europe had reached their crest, forcing many Communist guards to abandon their posts.

She arrived in West Germany three weeks ago. Her name is being withheld.

U.S. Production Turns Upward

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Commerce Department said today the public stepped up with a wide open purse in the second quarter of this year and more than made up for a further sharp drop in federal spending.

It said the result was to give general business activity a "firmer tone" after nine months of steady weakening.

For the first time since the second quarter of 1953 the sum total of the nation's production of goods and services, the gross national product, turned upward. The upturn in April, May and June was tiny—from an annual rate of $355,800,000,000 in the first quarter to 356 billion dollars in the second quarter.

But this contrasted sharply with slides in the previous four quarters, when national production of goods and services sank by an annual rate of $14,100,000,000.

The small gain in the second quarter of this year was an abrupt change from the decline in overall production of $4,700,000,000 a year that occurred in the first quarter.

National security spending continued to drop off in the second quarter of this year, although at a less drastic rate than in previous quarters.

ROK Armed Forces Hike OK'd By Wilson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Adm. Sohn Won Il, South Korea's defense minister, announced today that agreement has been reached with U.S. Secretary of Defense Wilson on an increase in South Korea's armed forces backed by American aid.

Sohn said in a statement the agreement covers both "the fundamental principles regarding this aid program" and the method of implementing it.

Negotiations have been under way on these questions since July 26. Sohn said the meetings will be completed by Thursday. He expects to leave with his staff for Korea by the end of the week.

Sohn said questions relating to the withdrawal of American troops from Korea, announced by the Pentagon last week will be discussed later.

Huge, Powerful Radar Tube Is Developed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (AP) — The Air Force today announced development of a new electronic tube producing four million watts of radar power, more than 250 times as much as was used to bounce radar pulses to the moon and back in 1946.

Air Research and Development command headquarters here said the eight-foot tube—called a megawatt klystron—also controls the frequency of the power more precisely.

The accomplishment, the Air Force said, opens the way for large and powerful radar tubes needed for missiles, aircraft, television, communications systems and medical and atomic research.

Mystery Woman Describes Mass Rape By Soviets

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—A mystery woman—her nervous hands visible behind a protective screen—described today how Russian wartime troops raped her in a mass attack. She collapsed as she finished her dramatic recital.

The woman detailed her own personal horror story to a House Committee on Communist Aggression, which is compiling reports on Red atrocities.

Austrian-born, she said she was in Hungary in 1944 when the Red army rolled in. Russian soldiers raped her nine or 10 times in quick succession, she added, and left her terrified and diseased.

Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich), committee chairman, asked her at one point if rape by Red soldiers wasn't the exception rather than the rule.

"It certainly was not," she replied. "It was the rule. If you met a young girl or even an older woman and she said she had not been raped, you looked at her as if something must be wrong with her.

"We talked about it freely. It was nothing to be ashamed of. Every girl was raped at least once."

The mystery woman was billed only as "Madame X" as she took the witness stand. The committee withheld her identity to spare her embarassment.

In her 30's, she was a short, slender brunette. She testified in excellent English from behind a large screen that concealed the upper part of her body. However, her hands were visible underneath, clenching and unclenching until the knuckles grew white with strain.

She left the witness stand after about 35 minutes and sagged into the arms of her husband, who had been standing in anteroom directly behind her.

President To Wave Radioactive Wand, Start A-Plant Work

DENVER, Aug. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower will wave a radioactive wand here Labor Day to signal the start of construction of the nation's first atomic power plant, at Shippingport, Pa.

Announcing this today, the President's vacation headquarters said the ceremony, Sept. 6, will include a 5-minute talk by Eisenhower.

The atomic power plant at Shippingport is situated near Pittsburgh. The nuclear unit to be constructed there is being built by the government. Eisenhower will wave a radioactive wand which will send an impulse to the site of the plant in Pennsylvania and set in motion there a ground-breaking device.

W. Virginia Gets Aluminum Plant

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 24 (AP)—Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. announced today it would build a huge multi-million dollar aluminum rolling mill on a 2,500-acre site along the Ohio River near Ravenswood.

The official announcement by D. A. Rhoades, vice president and general manager of the Oakland, Calif., firm, ended weeks of speculation on where the giant facility would be located.

Kaiser said construction is scheduled to start about Jan. 1, 1955, with the first stage to be completed by mid-1356.

The company gave no cost estimate but the sprawling plant is expected to cost at least 67 million dollars, the amount of certificates of necessity issued by the Office of Defense Mobilization.

When the sheet and foil plant is a complete rolling mill, it will employ 2,000 workers and have an annual capacity of 250 million pounds of aluminum.

Iowa Fair Makes Exception For Ike

Actress Scratched By "Tame" Tiger

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Aug. 24 (AP)—Actress Marilyn Maxwell came off second best in a swimming pool tiff with a "tame" tiger today, and promptly fired the animal.

According to a spokesman for a hotel, where the singer and the tiger shared billing in a casino act, the two were splashing around in the shallow end of the pool while photographers took pictures when the tiger got panicky.

Miss Maxwell got in the animal's way as it tried to scramble from the water, the spokesman said, and suffered several scratches on her leg.

Buick's biggest hit brings you a 3-way bonus

1. You get the car that's in step with tomorrow

From stem to stern, Buick today is styled a year ahead—with long, low glamor lines, with the very look of tomorrow, and with that broad panoramic windshield that many other cars won't have till 1955. Equally important, you get in Buick advanced V8 power, big room, luxurious comfort, the famed Million Dollar Ride—and all for prices that start just a few dollars above those of the so-called "low-price three." Is it any wonder, then, that Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of these "low-price three"?

2. You get the car that's a sure high resale value

Buicks have always had a high trade-in value. But the 1954 Buick has an extra advantage in its year-ahead styling. That means your Buick will stay well up in the style parade for years to come—will stay fresh and new-looking well into the future. So you're bound to be way ahead in actual dollars when trade-in time comes.

Come see for yourself why—

3. You get a bigger allowance from our volume business

Every month's sales figures this year have firmed this fact: Buick sales are soaring; Buick is outselling all other cars in the nation, regardless of price range, except two of the "low-price three." So with this tremendous volume, we can—and do—offer higher trade-in allowances. Come in, see and drive a new Buick—then check for yourself that our volume business really does mean a far bigger allowance for you.

Early Decision Promised

Court Takes Mahoney's Plea Under Advisement

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 24 (AP) — The Court of Appeals heard arguments today in a legal test which could make or break George P. Mahoney's bid to knock Dr. H. C. Byrd out of the Democratic nomination for governor.

It took under advisement Mahoney's plea that the high court direct election supervisors in Talbot County to throw out 254 votes and thereby give him that county's four nominating votes for governor.

Chief Judge Frederick W. Brune promised a decision "as soon as possible." He did not indicate whether the court would do as Mahoney attorneys suggested and examine for itself the ballots which Mahoney contends are illegally marked and should be thrown out.

The court afterward heard arguments on an Anne Arundel County election contest and then began deliberations on the Mahoney appeal. It recessed, however, at 5:45 p.m. and was expected to resume deliberation at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Tie Is Possible

If the court should decide in favor of Mahoney, it would place him in a tie with Dr. Byrd at 76 unit votes each for the nominating convention.

To win the nomination, he would still need the three unit votes of Queen Annes County, where Byrd's 22-vote margin in the June 28 primary is undergoing a second recount. The recount was held up pending the outcome of today's arguments before the Court of Appeals.

If Mahoney wins today's round, he would next attempt to capture Queen Anne's three unit votes. If he loses he probably will give up his tenacious, eight-weeks old battle to upset through court action Byrd's margin in the official vote canvass.

Democrats have decided to wait until all the legal fireworks are over before calling their convention back into session to nominate a candidate.

Third Trip To Appeals Court

Today was Mahoney's third trip to the Court of Appeals in an unprecedented effort to capture the nomination.

In his last appearance, three weeks ago, he won a court order directing Circuit Judge William R. Horney to look further into Mahoney claims that ballots improperly marked were counted in Talbot and Queen Anne's counties and that this resulted in Byrd being nominated by narrow margins.

Judge Horney examined the 254 questioned ballots in Talbot, but threw out only 28—16 marked for Byrd and 12 for Mahoney. He contended marks on the others, ranging from dots to lipstick smudges, were apparently made accidentally. He said the election supervisors were granted discretion under the law in whether to count them.

Mahoney attorneys argued otherwise before the Court of Appeals today. Chief Counsel Francis B. Burch said the law specifically forbade any mark on a ballot other than an X and that Judge Horney's decision was "arbitrary, capricious, inconsistent and unlawful."

Walsh Criticizes Mahoney

Most of today's four hours of arguments revolved around whether the boards of election supervisors had discretion in counting ballots which might contain extraneous marks.

Former Judge William C. Walsh of Cumberland, chief counsel for Byrd, said they did have such discretion and accused Mahoney of dragging out the election results.

He said Mahoney lost the county by 60 votes on the basis of official returns, picked up three votes on a recount and gained four more in the most recent survey of challenged ballots.

He also threatened to prolong the dispute by renewing a motion that Talbot County ballot boxes be reopened and Byrd attorneys allowed a chance to challenge ballots similar to those now being questioned by Mahoney. Walsh said Byrd counsel had considered the markings so insignificant in the original county that it had not challenged some of the ballots.

Fireworks Blast Kills 13

BOMBAY, India, Aug. 24 (AP)—Police said 13 persons were killed and six injured in an explosion today at a fireworks factory at Andheri, 12 miles from Bombay.

ILONA TESTIFIES — Hungarian-born movie star Ilona Massey wipes away a tear as she testifies at a hearing at Federal Courthouse, N. Y., of the House subcommittee probing Communist aggression. State Education Board To Study Budget For 1955

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (AP) — The State Board of Education has a meeting scheduled Wednesday and plans to take up Maryland's public school budget for next year.

The budget for the school year beginning next month was approved by the Legislature last winter and it's already time for submission of proposed expenditures for the school year which will start in September 1955.

State School Superintendent Thomas G. Pullen said today there is nothing on tomorrow's agenda about segregation.

Dr. Pullen explained a committee of county school superintendents is working with the attorney general's office on recommendations to be made to the Supreme Court between now and Oct. 15.

The Supreme Court, when it decided last May 17 that segregation is illegal in public schools, asked the affected states to file suggestions on how it should word its final ruling to facilitate orderly elimination of segregation. Atty. Gen. Edward D. E. Rollins has ruled the Maryland law providing for segregated schools remains in effect until the Supreme Court issues its final ruling.

Dr. Pullen said it is not expected the special committee of superintendents will have any report to make at tomorrow's meeting.

He said it is possible some board members will initiate a discussion of the problem.

Some Md. Schools Reopen Next Week

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (AP)—Public schools in some of Maryland's 23 counties will open next week for the 1954-55 school year, but most of them won't get into operation until after Labor Day.

The early birds are Somerset County, opening next Wednesday, Talbot County on Thursday and Charles County on Friday.

The most popular opening date is Sept. 7, the day after Labor Day, with schools starting their fall terms that day in Allegany, Baltimore, Caroline, Carroll, Harford, Howard, Kent, Montgomery, Prince Georges, St. Marys, Washington, Wicomico and Worcester counties. Baltimore City schools also will open Sept. 7.

Calvert, Dorchester, Frederick and Garrett County schools will open on Sept. 8; Anne Arundel, Cecil, and Queen Annes counties on Sept. 9.

Problems Of Coal Industry Discussed At Conference

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) — Fields of action for attacking the problems besetting the bituminous coal industry were discussed yesterday at a two-hour meeting of government and industry representatives.

The closed session was between the Interdepartmental Coal Committee, headed by Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming, and the newly organized Bituminous Coal Industry Committee.

Sen. Cooper (R-Ky), who has been acting as sponsor and liaison man for the coal group, said the two groups went over the numerous suggestions that have been made to restore the industry to economic health. For one thing, they want to decide which proposal they can put into effect themselves and which would require legislation.

Cooper said both groups will study the proposals in light of today's discussion and then meet here again Sept. 10. He said the government representatives did not make any specific promises of aid but added:

"It was a good, serious meeting. I feel that the interdepartmental committee is really going to look into the problem."

The goal of the coal people, he said, is to raise production from the present level of about 400 million tons a year to 450 million or 500 millions tons a year. A 45-500 million ton level is felt necessary to keep the industry reasonably healthy and to reduce unemployment, he said.

Cooper said no suggestion was made that lower wage scales be instituted to help meet the problem.

The interdepartmental group includes, besides Flemming, assistant secretaries Wormser of interior, Waugh of state, Teetor of commerce, Siciliano of labor and Pike of defense.

Prior to today's meeting the coal group organized into a permanent committee. The chairman is R. E. Snoberger, president of Truax-Traer Coal Co., Chicago. The secretary is James W. Haley, vice president of Jewell Ridge Coal Corp., Washington, D. C. Among other members:

George Lamb, associate, Pittsburgh (Pa.) Consolidation Coal Co; A. R. Mathews, president of Pocahontas (Va) Fuel Co., Inc. and Ray E. Salvati, president of Island Creek Coal Co., Huntington, W.Va.

Voting Machines For Queen Anne's County Approved

CENTREVILLE, Md., Aug. 24 (AP) —The Queen Anne's County Commission learned its lesson quickly from the prolonged Byrd-Mahoney recount and today approved purchase of voting machines.

The 35 machines, costing $54,250, will be ready for use in November's general election.

Recounting of paper ballots cast in the June 28 Democratic primary election for governor started July 5 in Queen Anne's. It took two weeks to go through them and there's still an argument over whether some of them are illegal because of extraneous marks.

After finishing the recount, the Board of Election Supervisors hustled to the Commission and urged them to buy machines.

The commissioners agreed today even though no money had been provided in this year's budget.

"We'll have the money at the proper time," promised Caspar T. Seney, president of the commission.

State Crops Improve After Heavy Rains

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 24 (AP)—Most crops in Maryland and Delaware improved considerably after heavy rains last week, the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service said today.

Corn, one of the crops hardest hit by the long mid-summer dry spell, is "responding fairly well," the weekly survey said, although much of the tomato crops is undersized because of the dry weather.

Pastures have improved and are beginning to provide limited grazing, and the fruit crop improved in sizing because of the increased moisture supply.

Snap and lima beans and tomatoes are being harvested, and both apples and peaches are being picked on the Eastern Shore and in Western Maryland.

Accused Kidnaper Held In Baltimore Jail

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (AP)—Robert J. Ellars, 26-year-old unemployed beautician from Washington accused of terrorizing a Seat Pleasant, Md., family earlier this month, has been transferred here for custody.

Ellars faces trial in federal court on a kidnaping charge. He was held in Washington yesterday in $25,000 bond.

The kidnaping charge was brought after officers were told Ellars forced one of the Prince Georges County family members, Harold Grimm, to drive him across the state line into Washington.

Man Accused In Wife's Poisoning Arraigned

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (AP) — The grand jury Friday will consider a murder indictment against David E. Roche, 28-year-old city employe accused in the poison death of his wife Dorothy.

Roche was arraigned before Magistrate Vernon H. Wiesand today.

The 23-year-old pregnant mother died Aug. 14. Medical officers said her death was caused by potassium cyanide.

Mrs. Roche had been released from Spring Grove State Hospital last Feb. 5. She was the mother of a 14-months-old daughter.

In 1953, the U. S. auto industry produced 7,328,000 cars.

Biologist Roundup Suggests Soviet Germ War Research

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (AP)—Allied security agents said today it looks as though the Soviet Union is rounding up a research staff in East Germany for experiments in germ warfare.

They voiced the belief after being apprised of reports that Russian agents in East Germany have arrested at least a dozen biologists and presumably whisked them off to the Soviet Union.

All the scientists seized are biologists who would be qualified for such study.

The clandestine roundup has been going on for weeks. First confirmation of it reached West Berlin several days ago with the arrival of four student scientists who disclosed the details of abductions of their professors. The four refugees have been given the protection of anonymity and seclusion.

A Mecklenburg scientist got word out to a friend in American intelligence circles last week that eight of his associates had been snatched by Soviet agents and taken away, presumably to the Soviet Union.

Through underground channels, the West Berlin Free Jurists League said it had established the identities of some of the abducted scientists.

Both Allied and German quarters said the roundup is wide in its scope but that the East security agents have sealed off contact among biology centers to maintain secrecy.

German biologists have long been recognized among scientists as among the world's best. The Soviets have tapped German brains in a forced program ever since 1945.

U. S. Will Have Over 100 Million Persons Of Voting Age In Fall

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Census Bureau said today that this year for the first time the United States will have over 100 million persons of voting age.

In a new estimate for the November elections, the bureau said that figure would be exclusive of 2½ million voters in the armed services.

There will be approximately 100,223,000 civilian Americans old enough to vote this November, compared with 98,135,000 in November, 1952, the bureau reported.

Some persons old enough to vote however will not be eligible to cast their ballots. Among them will be about 2½ million aliens and those old enough to vote who have not met state voting requirement.

The Census Bureau listed by states the percentage of increase, or decrease since 1950, and the number of civilians of voting age Nov. 1, 1954. The list included:

Maryland, up 5.1	1,585,000
Virginia, up 3.6,	2,031,000
West Virginia, down 4.5,	1,118,000

The District of Columbia showed an increase of 0.8 to a Nov. 1, 1954, total of 563,000.

Statue Of Christ Will Be Lowered Into Sea

GENOA, Italy, Aug. 24 (AP) — An eight-foot statue of Christ, which will be sunk in 52 feet of water off the Ligurian coast, was blessed yesterday by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Antonio Massa, Roman Catholic priest expelled from China by the Communists a year ago.

Actual lowering of the 80-ton statue into the sea 500 yards off Camogli was postponed, however, until next Sunday. Yesterday the seas were too rough.

Italy's newest liner, the Cristoforo Colombo, just leaving Genoa on her second trip to New York, altered course to pass the scene. A wreath contributed by passengers was tossed onto the waters where the "Christ of the Depths" will be lowered.

The statue is dedicated to sailors and all who have perished at sea.

Identification Of War Dead Will Be Slow

SEOUL, Aug. 24 (AP) — The U. S. Army said today it may take months to identify some of the 4,011 bodies the Communists have promised to deliver in an exchange of Korean War dead starting Sept. 10.

The Allies will return about 14,000 bodies of Communist dead to the neutral zone at a rate of up to 600 each morning except Sunday, the Army said. The Reds will deliver an unspecified number of Allied dead each afternoon.

10 Air Force Pilots To Fly In Speed Test

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Air Force today announced the names of 10 pilots from five commands who will make the 1,900-mile Bendix Trophy speed dash from California to Ohio Sept. 4.

The speed test winner will be decided on the basis of elapsed time from the "wheels rolling" signal on take-off at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. to the "pass-by" time at the home pylon at Dayton's James M. Cox Municipal Airport at suburban Vandalia.

The event will be one of the features of the National Air Show to be held at the airport Sept. 4-6.

Five alternate pilots also were named. They will be on a "stand-by" basis, as replacements if any of the principal starters are unable to leave the ground.

The five major commands are the Air Training Command, Air Research and Development Command, Air Proving Ground Command, Strategic Air Command, and Tactical Air Command.

Among the pilots named to fly in the race are:

Tactical Air Command—Lt. Col. Thomas D. Robertson, St. Paul, Minn., and Maj. Harry K. Evans, Heaters, W. Va., principals, and Col. William S. Cowart, Cowart, Va., alternate. All TAC pilots are stationed at Langley, AFB, Va.

Young Plane Spotters On Week's Marathon

PARK RIDGE, N. J., Aug. 24 (AP)—Two teen-age boys are on a one-week plane spotting marathon aimed at giving their fellow members of the Ground Observer Corps a vacation from duty.

William Mozak, 18, and Ronald Newman, 17, started their tour Sunday morning and will continue on the job until Aug. 28. They have set up a cot at the observation station atop a building.

Breakfast is served to them by the station supervisor, and lunch and dinner are provided by local restaurants.

A physician is giving them daily physical checkups.

The boys are alternating on the duties. They are regular observers of the post which has 90 volunteers.

The boys said they are performing the one-week of continual duty in order to give everyone at the post at least a full week of rest.

LaVale Residents Protest Against Junkyard Nuisance

An angry group of LaVale residents appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today to protest against what they say is a continuing nuisance in the operation of a junk yard in their neighborhood by Abe Feldstein.

The group included H. R. Freeman, Henry Wintermyer, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Campbell, Mrs. George Deal, Mrs. Elmer Beechley, Mrs. Ernest Emery and James Yeargan.

Among the incidents cited by the group was the unloading of junk at all hours of the night and as early as 4 or 5 a. m. They also said that Feldstein's junk yard has been expanded recently, further depreciating properties in that area.

Fumes From Fires

Mrs. Deal said that during one of the hottest nights of the year old wire or batteries were burned at the junk yard and the fumes forced her to close every window in her home. Another woman said she found two dead rats in her yard, which she said could only have come from the junk yard. She said she had resided in the neighborhood for 29 years and it was the first time such a thing had happened.

An interesting sidelight of the meeting was the appearance of Thomas L. Smith, an official of the Super Concrete Company on Henderson Avenue. Smith, who is also a resident of LaVale, said he was in attendance to clarify a situation which arose in connection with the sale of a piece of property to Feldstein.

Smith said that the firm at one time had planned on locating a batch plant on the property, which adjoins the junk yard. It changed its plans and decided to sell the land. It was given to a real estate man on option for sale.

To Seek Injunction

His firm did not enter into the proceedings other than having the real estate man handle the transaction, Smith said. He also said that he personally is against the junk yard being allowed to remain as a nuisance. In fact, he signed a petition which the LaVale group presented to the commissioners at yesterday's session.

After a lengthy explanation by Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, the group decided to call a mass meeting in the near future to make plans for filing injunction proceedings against Feldstein's operation of the junk yard.

Getty said the board's hands are tied in connection with the case as the law pertaining to licensing of junk yards was passed in 1945 and only provided for permits and regulations of ones established after that time.

The commissioners said they would assist the LaVale group in its efforts to have the alleged nuisance eliminated.

Delaney Slated To Participate In Roundtable

A member of the Allegany County Committee on the Employment of the Physically Handicapped will be on a national roundtable discussion in Washington, D. C., Friday.

He is J. Leo Delaney, counselor for Allegany and Garrett counties for the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation for the State Department of Education.

The roundtable will be conducted during the fall meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped Thursday and Friday.

Delaney will speak with three other commentators on "State and Community Experiences and Problems" in connection with employment of handicapped persons.

Carpenters Union Offers Room For Children's Aid

Local 1024 United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America has offered Friends Aware of Handicapped Children a large room for use as a classroom in the AFL Labor Temple.

F. Patrick Allender, business manager, made the offer on behalf of the union membership and also proposed to draw a blueprint of the room which Friends Aware will send to Mrs. Geneva Fleckinger, state supervisor of special education, for comments and recommendations. Friends Aware is concerned with mentally retarded children.

Plans for the first class to be opened at the Kiwanis Sunshine Camp were discussed at a recent meeting. Volunteers to assist with the training program are being sought. Additional information may be acquired from Mrs. John J. Long, 518 Ridgewood Avenue.

Friends Aware will hold a clothing sale Saturday, August 28, at the Canada Hose House, North Mechanic Street. Most of the articles for sale will be new and bear the tag of the merchant who donated them. Every article will be sold for half the price on the tag. Any one wishing to donate out-grown clothes but still suitable for school wear may call Mrs. David Hamilton, chairman of the sale, or Mrs. Long. Arrangements will be made to pick up the clothing at a convenient time.

The next meeting of Friends Aware will be held at 7 p. m. Friday, August 27 at Canada Hose House.

Confusion In Names Cited In Circuit Court Cases

An odd combination of names figured in hearings in Circuit Court on two petitions for writs of habeas corpus.

Associate Judge George Henderson heard the petition of William Alfred Henderson, who was sentenced to six years in the Maryland penitentiary from Wicomico County Circuit Court in December of 1953 upon his conviction on a charge of manslaughter.

Henderson, the prisoner, was turned down by Henderson, the judge, due to the failure of the petitioner to provide any facts to back up his contention. Twice before, Henderson, the prisoner, was turned down on petitions for writs of habeas corpus.

Cumberland Also Loses

The other case involved a hearing on the petition of Harry L. Cumberland, who was sentenced to the Maryland penitentiary for four years by Judge Joseph Carter in Baltimore City on a charge of forgery.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris denied the request of Cumberland (the prisoner) with a written opinion listing reasons for so doing.

Cumberland stated in his petition that he had been arrested illegally, held incommunicado for four days and denied the right of a jury trial.

Not Proper Claims

Judge Harris pointed out that the claims of Cumberland were not proper ones to be decided under the habeas corpus procedure. He also noted that Cumberland had been turned down by eight other judges in previous individual cases.

In the claims by Cumberland that he had been arrested illegally the court stated that the prisoner should have asked for a new trial or filed an appeal. In respect to the claim he had been held incommunicado, the court said the record in the case indicated that he had made no request to communicate with counsel. The final claim, that he had been denied the right of a jury trial, was held to be not subject to the habeas corpus procedure as the Maryland Court of Appeals has ruled on this matter in a number of cases.

Girls Softball Team Will Be Honored

The North End Playground Association will honor the playlots girls softball team tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at a hot dog and corn roast in Constitution Park.

The team, comprised of girls from 13 to 16 years of age, won the city's Northern Division finals by defeating Centre Street, and the city championship by beating Mapleside in two straight finals games.

Leo E. P. Law, manager of the team, said trophies will be presented to each player.

Robert R. Tabor Gets MA Degree In Education

Robert Ray Tabor, of Cumberland, has been awarded a master of education degree from the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va.

He was among a total of 63 students who received degrees during summer session commencement exercises. The exercises were held August 13 on the college campus.

Reservoir Will Be Cleaned On Friday

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards announced yesterday the Ridgedale reservoir will be drained and washed Friday, beginning early in the morning.

Edwards said service might be disrupted but assured residents of the area pressure will be restored at the earliest time possible.

The department washed the Fort Hill reservoir last week.

Segregation Continues

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 24 (AP) — Schools Superintendent William M. Brish said today that segregation would continue in Washington County public schools until the Supreme Court issues formal instructions on ending the color ban.

Bridge Steel To Arrive Next Week

Steel for the interstate bridge connecting Cumberland and Ridgeley is expected here by next Tuesday, according to G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission.

The steel for the new span will be erected on the abutments and center pier of the industrial dam built in the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection works.

The State Roads Commission is building the bridge from the approach on Greene Street to the West Virginia bank of the Potomac River. The West Virginia State Roads Commission will build the approach on that side of the river.

Both states share in the cost of the bridge while the Maryland SRC handles the engineering work.

Chaires said he has conferred with Robert A. Ferber, contracting manager for the American Bridge Company, in the Baltimore District, and has been informed the steel is being fabricated and is scheduled to arrive by the end of this month.

The bridge firm has an 80-day working schedule.

The same bridge building concern will erect the steel on the Valley Street bridge, having a sub-contract with the prime contractor, the S. T. Brotemarkle Company of this city.

Work at that important intra-city span is scheduled to start this week, according to C. Arthur Brotemarkle, president of the local construction company.

Six Will Leave For Induction

Six men from Midland, Frostburg and Lonaconing will leave Frostburg Thursday, September 9, for induction into the armed forces.

Earl L. Hill, clerk of Selective Service Board 30, said the inductees are:

Glenn O. Workman, 179 West Main Street; and Frederick D. Robeson, 7 Centennial Street, both of Frostburg.

Henry I. Stafford, 50 West Main Street, Lonaconing; and James R. Winters, Michael C. Crowe and Neil W. Alexander, all of Midland.

A chartered bus on the same day at 7:15 a. m. will leave Cumberland with 18 inductees whose names have been previously announced. The bus will pick up the six Frostburg area men at 8 a. m. at the Gunter Hotel.

Meanwhile, P. Emmett Fahey, clerk of Selective Service Boards 27, 28 and 29, reported 18 young men registered in the three boards will leave Thursday at 7 a. m. from here, to take physical examinations at Fairmont receiving station.

The Cumberland registrants will be joined at Frostburg by 12 men registered in Board 30. Fahey said a chartered bus will take the group to the examination center.

Early Decision Promised

Court Takes Mahoney's Plea Under Advisement

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 24 (AP) — The Court of Appeals heard arguments today in a legal test which could make or break George P. Mahoney's bid to knock Dr. H. C. Byrd out of the Democratic nomination for governor.

It took under advisement Mahoney's plea that the high court direct election supervisors in Talbot County to throw out 254 votes and thereby give him that county's four nominating votes for governor.

Chief Judge Frederick W. Brune promised a decision "as soon as possible." He did not indicate whether the court would do as Mahoney attorneys suggested and examine for itself the ballots which Mahoney contends are illegally marked and should be thrown out.

The court afterward heard arguments on an Anne Arundel County election contest and then began deliberations on the Mahoney appeal. It recessed, however, at 5:45 p.m. and was expected to resume deliberation at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Tie Is Possible

If the court should decide in favor of Mahoney, it would place him in a tie with Dr. Byrd at 76 unit votes each for the nominating convention.

To win the nomination, he would still need the three unit votes of Queen Annes County, where Byrd's 22-vote margin in the June 28 primary is undergoing a second recount. The recount was held up pending the outcome of today's arguments before the Court of Appeals.

If Mahoney wins today's round, he would next attempt to capture Queen Anne's three unit votes. If he loses he probably will give up his tenacious, eight-weeks old battle to upset through court action Byrd's margin in the official vote canvass.

Democrats have decided to wait until all the legal fireworks are over before calling their convention back into session to nominate a candidate.

Third Trip To Appeals Court

Today was Mahoney's third trip to the Court of Appeals in an unprecedented effort to capture the nomination.

In his last appearance, three weeks ago, he won a court order directing Circuit Judge William R. Horney to look further into Mahoney claims that ballots improperly marked were counted in Talbot and Queen Anne's counties and that this resulted in Byrd being nominated by narrow margins.

Judge Horney examined the 254 questioned ballots in Talbot, but threw out only 28—16 marked for Byrd and 12 for Mahoney. He contended marks on the others, ranging from dots to lipstick smudges, were apparently made accidentally. He said the election supervisors were granted discretion under the law in whether to count them.

Mahoney attorneys argued otherwise before the Court of Appeals today. Chief Counsel Francis B. Burch said the law specifically forbade any mark on a ballot other than an X and that Judge Horney's decision was "arbitrary, capricious, inconsistent and unlawful."

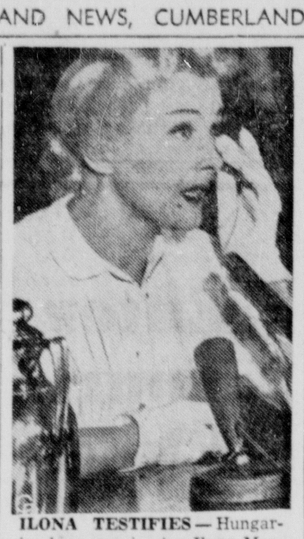
Walsh Criticizes Mahoney

Most of today's four hours of arguments revolved around whether the boards of election supervisors had discretion in counting ballots which might contain extraneous marks.

Former Judge William C. Walsh of Cumberland, chief counsel for Byrd, said they did have such discretion and accused Mahoney of dragging out the election results.

He said Mahoney lost the county by 60 votes on the basis of official returns, picked up three votes on a recount and gained four more in the most recent survey of challenged ballots.

He also threatened to prolong the dispute by renewing a motion that Talbot County ballot boxes be reopened and Byrd attorneys allowed a chance to challenge ballots similar to those now being questioned by Mahoney. Walsh said Byrd counsel had considered the markings so insignificant in the original county that it had not challenged some of the ballots.



ILONA TESTIFIES — Hungarian-born movie star Ilona Massey wipes away a tear as she testifies at a hearing at Federal Courthouse, N. Y., of the House subcommittee probing Communist aggression. The actress testified that her mother fled Communist-ruled Hungary in 1947 and that her sister and other relatives are still there.

Problems Of Coal Industry Discussed At Conference

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) — Fields of action for attacking the problems besetting the bituminous coal industry were discussed yesterday at a two-hour meeting of government and industry representatives.

The closed session was between the Interdepartmental Coal Committee, headed by Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming, and the newly organized Bituminous Coal Industry Committee.

Sen. Cooper (R-Ky), who has been acting as sponsor and liaison man for the coal group, said the two groups went over the numerous suggestions that have been made to restore the industry to economic health. For one thing, they want to decide which proposal they can put into effect themselves and which would require legislation.

Cooper said both groups will study the proposals in light of today's discussion and then meet here again Sept. 10. He said the government representatives did not make any specific promises of aid but added:

"It was a good, serious meeting. I feel that the interdepartmental committee is really going to look into the problem."

The goal of the coal people, he said, is to raise production from the present level of about 400 million tons a year to 450 million or 500 millions tons a year. A 45-500 million ton level is felt necessary to keep the industry reasonably healthy and to reduce unemployment, he said.

Cooper said no suggestion was made that lower wage scales be instituted to help meet the problem.

The interdepartmental group includes, besides Flemming, assistant secretaries Wormser of interior, Waugh of state, Teetor of commerce, Siciliano of labor and Pike of defense.

Prior to today's meeting the coal group organized into a permanent committee. The chairman is R. E. Snoberger, president of Truax-Traer Coal Co., Chicago. The secretary is James W. Haley, vice president of Jewell Ridge Coal Corp., Washington, D. C. Among other members:

Voting Machines For Queen Anne's County Approved

CENTREVILLE, Md., Aug. 24 (AP) —The Queen Anne's County Commission learned its lesson quickly from the prolonged Byrd-Mahoney recount and today approved purchase of voting machines.

The 35 machines, costing $54,250, will be ready for use in November's general election.

Recounting of paper ballots cast in the June 28 Democratic primary election for governor started July 5 in Queen Anne's. It took two weeks to go through them and there's still an argument over whether some of them are illegal because of extraneous marks.

After finishing the recount, the Board of Election Supervisors hustled to the Commission and urged them to buy machines.

The commissioners agreed today even though no money had been provided in this year's budget.

"We'll have the money at the proper time," promised Caspar T. Seney, president of the commission.

State Education Board To Study Budget For 1955

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (AP) — The State Board of Education has a meeting scheduled Wednesday and plans to take up Maryland's public school budget for next year.

The budget for the school year beginning next month was approved by the Legislature last winter and it's already time for submission of proposed expenditures for the school year which will start in September 1955.

State School Superintendent Thomas G. Pullen said today there is nothing on tomorrow's agenda about segregation.

Dr. Pullen explained a committee of county school superintendents is working with the attorney general's office on recommendations to be made to the Supreme Court between now and Oct. 15.

The Supreme Court, when it decided last May 17 that segregation is illegal in public schools, asked the affected states to file suggestions on how it should word its final ruling to facilitate orderly elimination of segregation. Atty. Gen. Edward D. E. Rollins has ruled the Maryland law providing for segregated schools remains in effect until the Supreme Court issues its final ruling.

Dr. Pullen said it is not expected the special committee of superintendents will have any report to make at tomorrow's meeting.

He said it is possible some board members will initiate a discussion of the problem.

State Crops Improve After Heavy Rains

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 24 (AP)—Most crops in Maryland and Delaware improved considerably after heavy rains last week, the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service said today.

Corn, one of the crops hardest hit by the long mid-summer dry spell, is "responding fairly well," the weekly survey said, although much of the tomato crops is undersized because of the dry weather.

Pastures have improved and are beginning to provide limited grazing, and the fruit crop improved in sizing because of the increased moisture supply.

Snap and lima beans and tomatoes are being harvested, and both apples and peaches are being picked on the Eastern Shore and in Western Maryland.

Some Md. Schools Reopen Next Week

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (AP)—Public schools in some of Maryland's 23 counties will open next week for the 1954-55 school year, but most of them won't get into operation until after Labor Day.

The early birds are Somerset County, opening next Wednesday, Talbot County on Thursday and Charles County on Friday.

The most popular opening date is Sept. 7, the day after Labor Day, with schools starting their fall terms that day in Allegany, Baltimore, Caroline, Carroll, Harford, Howard, Kent, Montgomery, Prince Georges, St. Marys, Washington, Wicomico and Worcester counties. Baltimore City schools also will open Sept. 7.

Calvert, Dorchester, Frederick and Garrett County schools will open on Sept. 8; Anne Arundel, Cecil, and Queen Annes counties on Sept. 9.

Accused Kidnaper Held In Baltimore Jail

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (AP)—Robert J. Ellars, 26-year-old unemployed beautician from Washington accused of terrorizing a Seat Pleasant, Md., family earlier this month, has been transferred here for custody.

Ellars faces trial in federal court on a kidnaping charge. He was held in Washington yesterday in $25,000 bond.

The kidnaping charge was brought after officers were told Ellars forced one of the Prince Georges County family members, Harold Grimm, to drive him across the state line into Washington.

Fireworks Blast Kills 13

BOMBAY, India, Aug. 24 (AP)—Police said 13 persons were killed and six injured in an explosion today at a fireworks factory at Andheri, 12 miles from Bombay.

Man Accused In Wife's Poisoning Arraigned

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24 (AP) — The grand jury Friday will consider a murder indictment against David E. Roche, 28-year-old city employe accused in the poison death of his wife Dorothy.

Roche was arraigned before Magistrate Vernon H. Wiesand today.

The 23-year-old pregnant mother died Aug. 14. Medical officers said her death was caused by potassium cyanide.

Mrs. Roche had been released from Spring Grove State Hospital last Feb. 5. She was the mother of a 14-months-old daughter.

In 1953, the U. S. auto industry produced 7,328,000 cars.

Sacred Heart Graduation Exercises To Be Today

Rev. Elbert Gay, C. M., Germantown, Philadelphia, is giving the baccalaureate sermon this morning for the Sacred Heart Hospital School of Nursing graduating class and will address the graduates at the graduation exercises tonight.

Graduation exercises will begin with a mass in the hospital chapel at 8:30, with Rev. Gay celebrant and giving the baccalaureate sermon. Following the mass the Sisters of Charity will entertain with a breakfast in the nurses' dining room.

Very Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, dean of Western Maryland, will confer diplomas at 7:[illegible] p. m., at St. Patrick's Church and Rev. Gay is addressing the graduates.

A special musical program is being presented by the Nurses' Choir, with James Burns organist. It includes the processional, "We Come To Thee Sweet Saviour," "Ave Maria," and closed with the solemn benediction and the singing of "O Esca Viagorum," "Tantum Ergo," "O God of Loveliness," and the recessional.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Amoruso entertained the graduates at a spaghetti supper in the Decatur Street nurses' home.

Tomorrow the graduates will be honor guests of the Alumnae Association at a dinner and dance at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

Members of the graduating class are Miss Patricia Ann Amoruso, Miss Rose Mae Bartlett, Miss Rosemary Brinker Miss Wilda Cunningham, Miss Genevieve Emerick, Miss Jane Iliff, Miss Mary Margaret King, Miss Margaret Lee Lynch, Miss Mary Rita Madden, Miss Dorothy Ann Marshall, Miss Dolores Mary Martin, Miss Esther Mary Miller, Miss Kathryn Elaine O'Rourke, Miss Wanda Leah Oss, Miss Enid Elizabeth Ours Miss Mary Jo Shirley, Miss Jean Shockey, Miss Mary Louise Teter, Miss Helen Rebecca Thompson and Miss Patricia Ann Webb.

SITTER-MILLER BRIDAL PARTY — Lt. Charles R. Sitter and his bride, the former Miss Marjorie Ann Miller, are shown leaving SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church following their marriage yesterday. Rev. John U. Lyness, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, read the nuptial high mass and officiated at the ceremony. Very Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny., pastor of St. Patrick's Church and rural dean, was in the sanctuary. Left to right are Mrs. Jean Lindner, who was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant; the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Miller, 413 Washington Street; the bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sitter, 400 Piedmont Avenue; and Bernard E. Sitter, who was his brother's best man. In the second row to the left is Michael Lindner and Jack Kalbaugh, ushers. Prior to her resignation the bride was employed at Peskins Store. The bridegroom was graduated from George Washington University in January and went on active duty in the Marine Corps, in February, receiving his lieutenants commission. He was graduated from officers basic school at the Marine Corps School, Quantico, Saturday. He has been stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif. Following the reception at the Ali Ghan Country Club the couple left for a motor trip to California.

McCoole Homemakers Club Wins Theme Booth Contest

McCoole Homemakers Club won first place in the theme booth contest at the Cumberland Fair yesterday, with its "Music Around the World Through Extension." Done in black and white, songs studied by the Homemakers, were printed in white ink on black musical notes with dolls, dressed in costumes of the countries originating the songs, standing by each. The club receives a $25 award.

The second prize of $22 was awarded to the Progressive Young Women's Club of Potomac Valley for its booth that was on the theme of "Prayer Solves Problems." It depicted a flight of steps with the words, "For the Individual" at the bottom, "For the Nation" ascending and "For the World," higher up, and on the top large praying hands against a background of red silk.

Lonaconing Young Women's Club won the $20, third prize for its, "The Unprejudiced Path," theme. It portrays a large school in the background with children of all races going up the path to it.

Mapleside Homemakers Club received the $18 fourth prize with the theme, "Our Guides." It depicts a sea with the ships of the four freedoms of Religion, Speech, Press and From Fear, being guided to the shore by a lighthouse, at the base of which is an open Bible.

Other awards of $15 and $12 were won by Midland Homemakers, Mt. Savage Homemakers, Bedford Road Homemakers, Frostburg Homemakers and Eckhart Homemakers clubs.

The Midland club showed a scene of destruction from "Atoms" and to the side a sign, "For Peace?"

Mt. Savage club chose as its theme, "Man's's Hour of Decision." It showed an atom bomb, an H-bomb, and a cobolt bomb coming down, or the choice of a world conference with all nations represented.

Bedford Road's theme was "Time" and had an old fashioned clock giving the time and a card enscribed, "Take time when time cometh lest time steal away."

Frostburg's theme was "Our Daily Bread," and was a window scene. An open Bible and one loaf of bread were shown on a table.

Eckhart depicted its theme, "Gears of Progress" with the growing and marketing of food.

The other 17 clubs entered will each receive $10 for entering the contest. This was the fourth year the theme booth contests have been held and had the largest numbers of entries.

The Chaney Family reunion will be held at Mingo Park, W. Va., Sunday. Members are to bring a picnic lunch.

For the second consecutive year, U. S. domestic scheduled airlines in 1953 operated at a passenger fatality rate of less than on per 100 thousand passenger miles flown.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Your household pets' food and water bowls should be washed in hot, soapy water at least once a day. Put a rubber mat under food dishes to catch spills. After thorough washing, put the dishes out to air-dry in the sunshine occasionally.

Cosmopolitan Club Plans To Sell Cards

Members of the Cumberland Chapter of the Cosmopolitan Association decided to sell greeting cards to help raise club funds and considered having the meetings at the homes of members.

Tentative plans were made to hold the summer meetings at the rural homes and the winter meetings in town.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Smith, Route 2, Flintstone, with Mrs. John Cunningham presiding.

Two prospective members were introduced. They are Mrs. Upton Robinette of Fyfield, Essex, England; and Mrs. Paul Printy, Gloucester, England.

Mrs. Cunningham announced a gift has been sent to Mrs. Charles Fair, a former member, who recently joined her husband in Kentucky.

A corn and wiener roast followed the meeting.

Other members present were Mrs. Orville Swartley, Mrs. Charles Frame, Mrs. Joseph Martin, Mrs. Luther Hutter, Mrs. Joseph DiNicola, Mrs. Charles McIntosh, Mrs. Guy Thompson and Mrs. John Rhodes.

Details for the September meeting will be announced later.

Marcia Hilton Entertained At Miscellaneous Shower

Is Fiancee Of Thomas V. Hoggard

Mrs. George Schoenadel and Miss Sue Cunningham entertained in compliment to Miss Marcia Ann Hilton, fiancee of Thomas V. Hoggard, last evening at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Charles C. Wiant, Edgewood Drive.

Miss Hilton, daughter of Mrs. Marion Hilton, 311 Mt. View Drive, and the late George Paul Hilton, is to become the bride of Mr. Hoggard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hoggard, 127 Race Street, Saturday.

The double ring wedding ceremony is being solemnized at 2:30 p. m., Saturday in St. John's Lutheran Church, with Rev. Robert Hook officiating. Miss Doris Hartley is to be the bride's maid of honor while Mrs. Schoenadel, Miss Deloris Chase and Miss Judith Bramble are her bridesmaids and Marybeth Chase, College Park, flower girl. Ronald Paul Hilton is giving his sister in marriage and Donald DeHaven is serving as Mr. Hoggard's best man. Lonny Bond, Richmond, Va., Michael Smith and Joseph Steen will be the ushers.

A pink and green color scheme was carried out in the decorations for the miscellaneous shower, with the gifts arranged beneath a pink and white umbrella and shower of streamers. Pink flowers were combined with clusters of wedding bells throughout the house. The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of assorted pink blossoms and miniature pink and green umbrellas were given as favors. Mrs. Wiant presided at the punch bowl and was assisted in serving by Mrs. Michael Cunningham.

Games were played during the evening.

Other guests were Mrs. Clyde Dicken, Mrs. Herbert Bramble, Mrs. Grace Chase, Mrs. Hilton, Mrs. Helen Chase, Mrs. Patricia Metz, Miss Mary Murray, Mrs. Hoggard, Mrs. Henry Pittman, Mrs. Carrie Shaffer, Miss Hartley, Miss Deloras Chase, Miss Bramble, Miss Jeanne Hale, Miss Beverly Bruce, Mrs. Charles Drew, Mrs. Louis Windemuth, Mrs. Edith Duiguid, Miss Ann Lilya, Mrs. Edwin Lilya, Miss Sally Ice, Miss Catherine Morton, Miss Joann Stangel and Miss Ruth Hersch.

A rehearsal party is being held at the home of Mrs. Bramble, Christie Road, aunt of the bride-elect, Friday in the form of a lawn party.

Mrs. Hilton will be hostess for a wedding reception honoring her daughter and her bridal party following the ceremony. It will be held at Minke's Cottage Inn.

LaVale Residents Protest Against Junkyard Nuisance

An angry group of LaVale residents appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today to protest against what they say is a continuing nuisance in the operation of a junk yard in their neighborhood by Abe Feldstein.

The group included H. R. Freeman, Henry Wintermyer, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Campbell, Mrs. George Deal, Mrs. Elmer Beechley, Mrs. Ernest Emery and James Yeargan.

Among the incidents cited by the group was the unloading of junk at all hours of the night and as early as 4 or 5 a. m. They also said that Feldstein's junk yard has been expanded recently, further depreciating properties in that area.

Fumes From Fires

Mrs. Deal said that during one of the hottest nights of the year old wire or batteries were burned at the junk yard and the fumes forced her to close every window in her home. Another woman said she found two dead rats in her yard, which she said could only have come from the junk yard. She said she had resided in the neighborhood for 29 years and it was the first time such a thing had happened.

An interesting sidelight of the meeting was the appearance of Thomas L. Smith, an official of the Super Concrete Company on Henderson Avenue. Smith, who is also a resident of LaVale, said he was in attendance to clarify a situation which arose in connection with the sale of a piece of property to Feldstein.

Smith said that the firm at one time had planned on locating a batch plant on the property, which adjoins the junk yard. It changed its plans and decided to sell the land. It was given to a real estate man on option for sale.

To Seek Injunction

His firm did not enter into the proceedings other than having the real estate man handle the transaction, Smith said. He also said that he personally is against the junk yard being allowed to remain as a nuisance. In fact, he signed a petition which the LaVale group presented to the commissioners at yesterday's session.

After a lengthy explanation by Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, the group decided to call a mass meeting in the near future to make plans for filing injunction proceedings against Feldstein's operation of the junk yard.

Getty said the board's hands are tied in connection with the case as the law pertaining to licensing of junk yards was passed in 1945 and only provided for permits and regulations of ones established after that time.

The commissioners said they would assist the LaVale group in its efforts to have the alleged nuisance eliminated.

Delaney Slated To Participate In Roundtable

A member of the Allegany County Committee on the Employment of the Physically Handicapped will be on a national roundtable discussion in Washington, D. C., Friday.

He is J. Leo Delaney, counselor for Allegany and Garrett counties for the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation for the State Department of Education.

The roundtable will be conducted during the fall meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped Thursday and Friday.

Delaney will speak with three other commentators on "State and Community Experiences and Problems" in connection with employment of handicapped persons.

Personnel Changes Listed At ABL Here

James M. Smith of Mt. Savage and Thomas C. Neat of Barton have assumed their duties in the mail room of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

Smith replaces Gene Smith, who transferred to the inspection and quality control department, while Neat replaces Augustine Martirano, who transferred to the general design group.

Two ABL Workers Get 10-Year Service Awards

Two employes at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory have completed 10 years of service and have received service pins and certificates.

They are Thomas Brode of the grounds department and Guy E. Kimble of the maintenance department.

Carpenters Union Offers Room For Children's Aid

Local 1024 United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America has offered Friends Aware of Handicapped Children a large room for use as a classroom in the AFL Labor Temple.

F. Patrick Allender, business manager, made the offer on behalf of the union membership and also proposed to draw a blueprint of the room which Friends Aware will send to Mrs. Geneva Fleckinger, state supervisor of special education, for comments and recommendations. Friends Aware is concerned with mentally retarded children.

Plans for the first class to be opened at the Kiwanis Sunshine Camp were discussed at a recent meeting. Volunteers to assist with the training program are being sought. Additional information may be acquired from Mrs. John J. Long, 518 Ridgewood Avenue.

Friends Aware will hold a clothing sale Saturday, August 28, at the Canada Hose House, North Mechanic Street. Most of the articles for sale will be new and bear the tag of the merchant who donated them. Every article will be sold for half the price on the tag. Any one wishing to donate out-grown clothes but still suitable for school wear may call Mrs. David Hamilton, chairman of the sale, or Mrs. Long. Arrangements will be made to pick up the clothing at a convenient time.

The next meeting of Friends Aware will be held at 7 p. m. Friday, August 27 at Canada Hose House.

Confusion In Names Cited In Circuit Court Cases

An odd combination of names figured in hearings in Circuit Court on two petitions for writs of habeas corpus.

Associate Judge George Henderson heard the petition of William Alfred Henderson, who was sentenced to six years in the Maryland penitentiary from Wicomico County Circuit Court in December of 1953 upon his conviction on a charge of manslaughter.

Henderson, the prisoner, was turned down by Henderson, the judge, due to the failure of the petitioner to provide any facts to back up his contention. Twice before, Henderson, the prisoner, was turned down on petitions for writs of habeas corpus.

Cumberland Also Loses

The other case involved a hearing on the petition of Harry L. Cumberland, who was sentenced to the Maryland penitentiary for four years by Judge Joseph Carter in Baltimore City on a charge of forgery.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris denied the request of Cumberland (the prisoner) with a written opinion listing reasons for so doing.

Not Proper Claims

Judge Harris pointed out that the claims of Cumberland were not proper ones to be decided under the habeas corpus procedure. He also noted that Cumberland had been turned down by eight other judges in previous individual cases.

In the claims by Cumberland that he had been arrested illegally the court stated that the prisoner should have asked for a new trial or filed an appeal. In respect to the claim he had been held incommunicado, the court said the record in the case indicated that he had made no request to communicate with counsel. The final claim, that he had been denied the right of a jury trial, was held to be not subject to the habeas corpus procedure as the Maryland Court of Appeals has ruled on this matter in a number of cases.

Girls Softball Team Will Be Honored

The North End Playground Association will honor the playlots girls softball team tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at a hot dog and corn roast in Constitution Park.

The team, comprised of girls from 13 to 16 years of age, won the city's Northern Division finals by defeating Centre Street, and the city championship by beating Mapleside in two straight finals games.

Leo E. P. Law, manager of the team, said trophies will be presented to each player.

Robert R. Tabor Gets MA Degree In Education

Robert Ray Tabor, of Cumberland, has been awarded a master of education degree from the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va.

He was among a total of 63 students who received degrees during summer session commencement exercises. The exercises were held August 13 on the college campus.

Reservoir Will Be Cleaned On Friday

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards announced yesterday the Ridgedale reservoir will be drained and washed Friday, beginning early in the morning.

Edwards said service might be disrupted but assured residents of the area pressure will be restored at the earliest time possible.

The department washed the Fort Hill reservoir last week.

Segregation Continues

Six Will Leave For Induction

Six men from Midland, Frostburg and Lonaconing will leave Frostburg Thursday, September 9, for induction into the armed forces.

Earl L. Hill, clerk of Selective Service Board 30, said the inductees are:

Glenn O. Workman, 179 West Main Street; and Frederick D. Robeson, 7 Centennial Street, both of Frostburg.

Henry I. Stafford, 50 West Main Street, Lonaconing; and James R. Winters, Michael C. Crowe and Neil W. Alexander, all of Midland.

A chartered bus on the same day at 7:15 a. m. will leave Cumberland with 18 inductees whose names have been previously announced. The bus will pick up the six Frostburg area men at 8 a. m. at the Gunter Hotel.

Meanwhile, P. Emmett Fahey, clerk of Selective Service Boards 27, 28 and 29, reported 18 young men registered in the three boards will leave Thursday at 7 a. m. from here, to take physical examinations at Fairmont receiving station.

The Cumberland registrants will be joined at Frostburg by 12 men registered in Board 30. Fahey said a chartered bus will take the group to the examination center.

Bridge Steel To Arrive Next Week

Steel for the interstate bridge connecting Cumberland and Ridgeley is expected here by next Tuesday, according to G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission.

The steel for the new span will be erected on the abutments and center pier of the industrial dam built in the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection works.

The State Roads Commission is building the bridge from the approach on Greene Street to the West Virginia bank of the Potomac River. The West Virginia State Roads Commission will build the approach on that side of the river.

Both states share in the cost of the bridge while the Maryland SRC handles the engineering work.

Chaires said he has conferred with Robert A. Ferber, contracting manager for the American Bridge Company, in the Baltimore District, and has been informed the steel is being fabricated and is scheduled to arrive by the end of this month.

The bridge firm has an 80-day working schedule.

The same bridge building concern will erect the steel on the Valley Street bridge, having a sub-contract with the prime contractor, the S. T. Brotemarkle Company of this city.

Work at that important intra-city span is scheduled to start this week, according to C. Arthur Brotemarkle, president of the local construction company.

Social Legislation Could Launch Revolution In Hindu Family Life

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 24 India's government is giving highest parliamentary priority to social legislation which could start a revolution in Hindu family life and society.

Prime Minister Nehru's Cabinet has topped the agenda of the summer Parliament session which opened Monday with controversial proposals which would for the first time permit Hindu couples to get divorces and allow Hindu women to share in inheritances.

A comprehensive series of government bills, in the works since India gained independence from Britain in 1947, would also approve civil inter-marriage between Hindus and non-Hindus without either having to renounce their religion and outlaw the giving of a dowry by the bride's father.

The disputed legislation would replace the current Hindu code, based on customs thousands of years old. With orthodox Hindu members expected to continue their bitter fight against the measures, the session is not expected to find much time to take up other business before it adjourns at the end of September.

However, at least two foreign policy debates, each lasting about two days, probably will be held in each of Parliament's two houses. Nehru will open the first debate, tentatively scheduled for Aug. 26.

The Hindu code actually is not a written set of laws. But it came into legal effect under British rule in India.

British officials, while placing civil laws on the books to cover European residents of India, preferred to let Hindus — the great bulk of India's millions — live under their old customs.

Some of these customs went back thousands of years. The British simply gave these the status of civil law in relation to Hindus. Where there were conflicts in interpreting a custom, the British courts on the subcontinent were asked for a ruling. Through this pricess of interpretation, Hindu custom was, in effect, codified.

Nehru, when India became independent, sought to put through one sweeping reform act to replace the Hindu code. However, orothodox Hindu religious groups blocked him.

When the matter became a key issue in the 1951 elections, Nehru's governing congress party had to announce that it would go slow in replacing the Hindu code and would enact reform measures through piecemeal legislation.

It is the first of these measures that are before Parliament.

Krishnamurti Ramamurti, legal adviser to the Congress parliamentary party, says most controversy is expected to center on the bills permitting divorces and allowing Hindu women to share in the estates of their fathers. The controversy is expected to cross party lines.

At present, neither the Hindu husband nor his wife may seek a divorce.

McCoole Homemakers Club Wins Theme Booth Contest

McCoole Homemakers Club won first place in the theme booth contest at the Cumberland Fair yesterday, with its "Music Around the World Through Extension." Done in black and white, songs studied by the Homemakers, were printed in white ink on black musical notes with dolls, dressed in costumes of the countries originating the songs, standing by each. The club receives a $25 award.

The second prize of $22 was awarded to the Progressive Young Women's Club of Potomac Valley for its booth that was on the theme of "Prayer Solves Problems." It depicted a flight of steps with the words, "For the Individual" at the bottom, "For the Nation" ascending and "For the World," higher up, and on the top large praying hands against a background of red silk.

Lonaconing Young Women's Club won the $20, third prize for its, "The Unprejudiced Path," theme. It portrays a large school in the background with children of all races going up the path to it.

Mapleside Homemakers Club received the $18 fourth prize with the theme, "Our Guides." It depicts a sea with the ships of the four freedoms of Religion, Speech, Press and From Fear, being guided to the shore by a lighthouse, at the base of which is an open Bible.

Other awards of $15 and $12 were won by Midland Homemakers, Mt. Savage Homemakers, Bedford Road Homemakers, Frostburg Homemakers and Eckhart Homemakers clubs.

The Midland club showed a scene of destruction from "Atoms" and to the side a sign, "For Peace?"

Mt. Savage club chose as its theme, "Man's's Hour of Decision." It showed an atom bomb, an H-bomb, and a cobolt bomb coming down, or the choice of a world conference with all nations represented.

Bedford Road's theme was "Time" and had an old fashioned clock giving the time and a card enscribed, "Take time when time cometh lest time steal away."

Frostburg's theme was "Our Daily Bread," and was a window scene. An open Bible and one loaf of bread were shown on a table.

Eckhart depicted its theme, "Gears of Progress" with the growing and marketing of food.

The other 17 clubs entered will each receive $10 for entering the contest. This was the fourth year the theme booth contests have been held and had the largest numbers of entries.

Midland Methodist Church 63d Anniversary Planned

MIDLAND—The Grace Methodist Church is completing plans for its sixty-third anniversary.

The celebration will begin Sunday, September 19, at 11 a. m., when Dr. Harry C. Marsh will have a service of rededication. The anniversary will continue each night for two weeks, according to Rev. Emerick, pastor. A booklet is being printed for the occasion.

Prior to the year 1842, Midland church was included in a large circuit known as the Frederick Circuit, this was later changed to the Allegany Circuit. In the year 1842 the name was changed to the Frostburg Circuit.

From early years of Methodism the district was called the Cumberland District. In 1885 this was changed to the Frederick District. At the time of unification the boundary was changed as well as the name and the church is now in the Hagerstown District.

The first church on the Midland charge was located at Wrights' Crossing, and there is record that this church was in operation as far back as the year 1823. The Bible used in this church was presented by the late Meshack Frost, the founder of Frostburg, and when the present structure was built in Midland, the Bible was placed in the pulpit of that church.

As near as can be ascertained this church was moved to the Woodland section in the early 70's. The church in Woodland was sold to Charles Keafer in the early part of 1891 and the proceeds from the sale was used to help build the present church in Midland. The corner stone of the Midland Church was laid on October 24, 1891, and the Rev. D. Haskell was pastor at the time of dedication.

It is fitting to note some of the changes made to the original church. During the pastorate of Rev. Bird the large Sunday School room and belfry was added and while Rev. Arbogast was pastor, the pulpit was enlarged. During the pastorate of Rev. Raymond Crowe, two small Primary Sunday School rooms were erected. In 1951 a complete new basement was built with all facilities and recently the Sanctuary was renovated and new furniture installed.

Social Legislation Could Launch Revolution In Hindu Family Life

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 24 India's government is giving highest parliamentary priority to social legislation which could start a revolution in Hindu family life and society.

Prime Minister Nehru's Cabinet has topped the agenda of the summer Parliament session which opened Monday with controversial proposals which would for the first time permit Hindu couples to get divorces and allow Hindu women to share in inheritances.

A comprehensive series of government bills, in the works since India gained independence from Britain in 1947, would also approve civil inter-marriage between Hindus and non-Hindus without either having to renounce their religion and outlaw the giving of a dowry by the bride's father.

The disputed legislation would replace the current Hindu code, based on customs thousands of years old. With orthodox Hindu members expected to continue their bitter fight against the measures, the session is not expected to find much time to take up other business before it adjourns at the end of September.

However, at least two foreign policy debates, each lasting about two days, probably will be held in each of Parliament's two houses. Nehru will open the first debate, tentatively scheduled for Aug. 26.

The Hindu code actually is not a written set of laws. But it came into legal effect under British rule in India.

British officials, while placing civil laws on the books to cover European residents of India, preferred to let Hindus — the great bulk of India's millions — live under their old customs.

Some of these customs went back thousands of years. The British simply gave these the status of civil law in relation to Hindus. Where there were conflicts in interpreting a custom, the British courts on the subcontinent were asked for a ruling. Through this process of interpretation, Hindu custom was, in effect, codified.

Nehru, when India became independent, sought to put through one sweeping reform act to replace the Hindu code. However, orothodox Hindu religious groups blocked him.

When the matter became a key issue in the 1951 elections, Nehru's governing congress party had to announce that it would go slow in replacing the Hindu code and would enact reform measures through piecemeal legislation.

It is the first of these measures that are before Parliament.

Krishnamurti Ramamurti, legal adviser to the Congress parliamentary party, says most controversy is expected to center on the bills permitting divorces and allowing Hindu women to share in the estates of their fathers. The controversy is expected to cross party lines.

At present, neither the Hindu husband nor his wife may seek a divorce.

Outcome Of McCarthy Charges May Depend On Lawyers With Contrasting Personalities

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP) — The final outcome of censure charges filed in the Senate against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) may well depend on the legal talent of two lawyers who have come into the national spotlight almost overnight.

They are E. Wallace Chadwick, a gaunt, 70-year-old former judge and one-time congressman from Chester, Pa., and Edward Bennett Williams, a square-hawed, handsome 34-year-old Washington lawyer who achieved local prominence as a man having a persuasive way with a jury.

These two will sit across the table from each other when a Senate committee headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) considers 46 charges that McCarthy's conduct has tended to bring the Senate into disrepute.

The accusations—filed by Senators Fulbright (D-Ark), Flanders (R-Vt), and Morse (Ind-Ore)—range from allegations of improper treatment of committee witnesses to obtaining government secrets unlawfully.

Chadwick is counsel to the new committee, and in effect he may wear the hat of a prosecutor at times even though he has the official role of an impartial seeker of facts to be laid before the Senate as a whole. Williams is McCarthy's lawyer, and there will be nothing ambiguous about his role. He will be there to defend his client.

Despite their leading parts in the coming drama, however, the faces of Chadwick and Williams aren't likely to become as well known to the public as those of Tennessee's Ray Jenkins or Joseph N. Welch of Boston who became national figures in the recent McCarthy-Army row.

The reason is that Chairman Watkins has decided there'll be no radio or television equipment in the hearing room to project the show into millions of homes across the country.

Do the attorneys think the no-television rule is a good thing?

Chadwick: "I'd rather make no comment on that phase of the hearing."

Williams: "I think perhaps it's a good thing. Without the cameras, the principals aren't likely to assume the roles of actors and the hearings probably will move a good deal faster."

In appearance and mannerisms, there is a marked contrast between the two lawyers. Chadwick is a gangling man with a long, rough-cut face overhung by a forelock of gray hair. His clothes hang loosely on his tall, thin frame and he might pass as a double for the poet, Robert Frost.

Chadwick is rather deliberate and judicial in his manner of talking. In his interviews with the press, he has carefully avoided showing whether he approves or disapproves of McCarthy. He has given no hint as to what kind of an examination of witnesses he might conduct.

"The committee will decide the ground rules and methods of procedure," Chadwick said. "As to whether I will be in the role of a prosecutor, I don't wish to discuss that. I will abide by the decisions of the committee. I am not here to teach these gentlemen anything—but there is a reat deal I can learn from them."

Chadwick has likened himself to a man drafted into the armed forces and has said: "I am going to Washington to serve my country."

Williams is a broad-shouldered, brown-haired 200-pounder with the look of an athlete. He has a relaxed, casual manner and he talks easily and fluently, with a disarming and boyish air. In less than 10 years, he has established himself as one of the ablest trial lawyers in the capital.

A veteran courtroom reporter says of Williams: "He's one of the best in the business and don't let his youthful appearance fool you. He knows his way around and it's a pleasure to watch him at work."

If Chadwick himself doesn't regard his role as that of prosecutor—Williams does. The younger attorney believes that the committee in effect, if not in fact, is in the position of conducting a prosecution of charges against his client.

But Chadwick and Williams both made it clear in interviews they don't think the hearing will develop the "big show" overtones which marked the McCarthy-Army row. They feel this way largely because Chairman Watkins has has said that the hearing will be governed largely by federal court rules of evidence and procedure.

Also the strategy in the McCarthy camp appears to be this: McCarthy plans to sit on the sidelines for a most part this time and turn over to Williams the main responsibility for the cross examination of witnesses and trial of the case. There is some talk that Williams laid down these conditions before taking on the job.

On this point, all Williams had to say was: "I expect to handle the cross-examination and the trial of the case."

Williams said the hearings represent no ideological fight so far as he is concerned and that he didn't enter the case as the defender of any cause.

"I regard this as a law case," he said, "as a straight legal proceeding in which a lawyer can legally participate."

Chadwick has never met McCarthy (or hadn't before this weekend) but Williams and McCarthy have known each other since the Republican National Convention in Philadelphia in 1948.

Guided by the trends of fall fashions, you have many opportunities for individuality.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

I actually heard it stated the other day that "fashion is what makes every woman look like every other woman." My styling consultant disagreed with the definition, and so do I.

It happened that we had just seen a fashion show in which there was something for everybody—and no two "look-alikes." There are trends, of course, that set the pace for every new season, but a trend is not a pattern that removes individuality from a woman's wardrobe.

Let me show you what I mean by noting trends, and their various interpretations, in fall fashions. Follow the suggestions in "What's Your Line?" (see below) to determine which styles will be the most flattering additions to your own wardrobe.

Theme and Variations

Trend: Relaxed, easy lines. Interpretations: Coats that are reed-like in look, but made comfortably full by yokes, hidden pleats, or released fullness. Suit jackets which barely curve at the waistline, others which are gently bloused and neatly belted; suit skirts slim, never tight. Supple jerseys, bloused wool and silk dresses, coat dresses, costumes of dress-plus-jacket, or dress-plus-coat, or suit-plus-coat.

Trend: The shaped silhouette. Interpretations: Coats with molded shoulders, tightened sleeves, and clinging lines under the arms; others fitted to the waistline, flaring into a full skirt. Dresses defining the figure from neckline to hemline, without appearing taut—or dresses smoothed gently to the waist or hip, then released into back or front fullness, or into the flare at the sides.

Trend: The shirtwaist influence. Interpretations: Coats and suits with an easy, "shirt look" in tweeds, fleeces, cashmeres, and in formal velvets. Blouses related to the shirt, but softened by big collars and by elegant fabrics. late-day and evening dresses emphasizing the simple cut of the shirtwaist with formal fabrics and varied detailing.

Top Interest

Trend: Top-of-the-costume interest. Interpretations: Large collars, varied in cut and size, on coats, sutis, dresses, blouses, Scarves, fur ascots and ties, or big bows under the chin. Multiple ropes of colorful beads and pearls.

Trend: Beautiful, bold colors. Interpretations: A great range of colors in every kind of fabric, from brilliant reds, orange and copper, to jewel tones like sapphire, emerald, jade and amethyst. Strident pinks, unusual greens. Black — gleaming or textured — and darkened grays and neutrals. Costumes in varying shades of a single color.

Something for everybody? Yes, indeed! Watch this column for specific pointers on your best choices, figure-wise, from the wide world of fashion.

"WHAT'S YOUR LINE?" — Horizontal, vertical and diagonal lines make a world of difference in what clothing will do for (or to) your figure! This "P.S." gives you complete information on handling lines to your own best advantage. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed return envelope for a copy of WHAT'S YOUR LINE?

Tomorrow—A change of pace.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24—(INS)—Sitting in a quiet corner at Romanoff's over the weekend was Producer Charles Brackett and a grey-haired little lady.

Not many people knew that Charlie's luncheon guest was Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, the girl who was so much in the headlines half a century ago, after her multi-millionaire husband, Harry Thaw, shot and killed Stanford White, the world's most famous architect.

Thaw got off with a prison sentence on "the unwritten law," and part of the testimony was that Evelyn went to White's apartment, which had a red velvet swing.

Never let it be said that Charlie Brackett isn't hep. He's calling his picture "The Girl in the Red Velvet Swing."

Marilyn Monroe is being discussed for the role of Evelyn Nesbitt, unhappy show girl whose life was so tragic.

Aly Khan, who is back in France, is expected to file a brief on August 31 in a custody battle with Rita Hayworth over his daughter, Yasmin.

The old Aga Khan has repeatedly told people the one thing he wants in the world is to see his granddaughter, the only girl in the family. Aly is pretty eager to please his ailing father and there are no lengths that he won't go to see the little girl who is a darling.

No less an authority than Richard Aldrich writes: "I think you will like to know that one of your Hollywood starlets has developed into a very fine legitimate actress. Cathy O'Donnell is standing them up at my cape playhouse in Dennis in the star role in Collette's "Gigi." It's the same part which made Audrey Hepburn a star.

"I thought this would interest you because so many Hollywood stars fall flat on their faces when they attempt legitimate acting."

I don't know about that, Dick. Last season on Broadway Rosalind Russell, Barry Sullivan, Lloyd Nolan, John Hodiak, Janis Paige, David Wayne, Joan Fontaine and many other "Hollywood" names clicked big.

I am very sorry to hear that Theda Bara, whom I have known for many, many years, is to undergo a fourth operation. This one, however, is not as serious as the first. Theda is not able to see anybody but her friends tell me that she's in good spirits, which is always over 50 per cent toward getting well in any sickness.

I met Theda first so many years ago I'm not going to say it out loud. I had corned beef with her in her dressing room, which to her was an unforgivable sin. No siren and exotic lady would eat such a plebian dish. Years later I met her and she said that wasn't corned beef we had. I said, "shall I say it was humming bird tongues?"

While Neil Rau was on vacation he took a busman's holiday and visited the set of "Oklahoma!" in Arizona.

He told me that all of the actors are just crazy about Oscar Hammerstein who is on location most of the time. Either he or Dick Rodgers are always there to see that their pet child is done right by. I am told that MGM has upped the budget another million—but what's a million or more for a picture already ready-made for the box office.

I'd like to get down on the set myself, but I'd better stay chained to my desk for awhile. Times are hard and I don't want to lose my job.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at Random:

Gary Crosby gets his first trip to New York before resuming at Stanford. The boy has had offers from both radio and TV but Der Bingle says no, not while he's in school.

Speaking of Bing, I hear he's due back in St. John's Hospital. This I'm sorry to hear.

Straight from the stork: Mrs. Danny Mann, wife of the director, hears there will be twins in January.

Judd Bernard, the press agent, is being married September 5 to non-professional Natalie Levinson. They'll honeymoon in Canada.

From Paris I hear that Michele Morgan, once married to Producer Bill Marshall, has said au revoir to her current husband, Henry Vidal.

Lou Costello, who knows what it is to be sick, was one of the first permitted to see Jerry Lewis. He brought Jerry some film of the old-time comedians to cheer him up. Lewis is improved, but still a sick boy.

Tomorrow John Wayne and Pilar Palette are off for Honolulu — John for "The Sea Chase" and Pilar on a vacation. My guess is they'll be Mr. and Mrs. soon after John obtains his freedom in October.

Sorry to hear reports that Edmund Purdom, whom I considered one of the nicest young men I've met, is letting sudden success go to his head.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Mr. John Moyer Returns from New York Dance Studies

Mr. Moyer has just completed his 31st yearly session with the world's greatest dance teachers in all phases of stage and social dancing.

Outstanding among the teachers was Mr. John Gregory, who is considered one of New York's leading dance choreographers. Mr. Gregory teaches how to create dances . . . to make the dance suit the music, which knowledge Mr. Moyer will use in future editions of the Cumberland Follies. Regular patrons of the Follies will remember Mr. Moyer's outstanding original dances as danced by his pupils.

This year, as in the past, Mr. Moyer studied privately with instructors in Tap, Ballet, Acrobatic, Tumbling and Stage Technique, so that he could continue to bring fresh ideas and inspiration to his dance pupils.

Enrollments for September classes for children of all ages are now being accepted at the Moyer Studio, 231 South Mechanic Street.

"AMERICAN" by Fostoria

SELECT "AMERICAN" COLONIAL CRYSTAL FOR HOSPITABLE HOMES

Recently recreated by Fostoria, modern "American" retains the affection and popularity of its proud ancestry. Every facet in this antique, geometric pattern has a jewel-like capacity for reflecting light and color.

Authentic in design, "American" reproductions are rich companions for the cozy simplicity of colonial homes. And equally congenial in French Provincial or in any distinguished modern interior.

Fostoria's "American" is an open stock pattern; available in a complete assortment for every table service. Luxurious crystal! But durable and exceptionally inexpensive! In fact, some "American" pieces cost as little as 50c each.

The wise hostess or the gift-wise giver will be pleased to see our extensive displays of "American" crystalwares, they are handmade by Fostoria craftsmen.

Midland Methodist Church 63d Anniversary Planned

MIDLAND—The Grace Methodist Church is completing plans for its sixty-third anniversary.

The celebration will begin Sunday, September 19, at 11 a. m., when Dr. Harry C. Marsh will have a service of rededication. The anniversary will continue each night for two weeks, according to Rev. Emerick, pastor. A booklet is being printed for the occasion.

Prior to the year 1842, Midland church was included in a large circuit known as the Frederick Circuit, this was later changed to the Allegany Circuit. In the year 1842 the name was changed to the Frostburg Circuit.

From early years of Methodism the district was called the Cumberland District. In 1885 this was changed to the Frederick District. At the time of unification the boundary was changed as well as the name and the church is now in the Hagerstown District.

The first church on the Midland charge was located at Wrights' Crossing, and there is record that this church was in operation as far back as the year 1823. The Bible used in this church was presented by the late Meshack Frost, the founder of Frostburg, and when the present structure was built in Midland, the Bible was placed in the pulpit of that church.

As near as can be ascertained this church was moved to the Woodland section in the early 70's. The church in Woodland was sold to Charles Keafer in the early part of 1891 and the proceeds from the sale was used to help build the present church in Midland. The corner stone of the Midland Church was laid on October 24, 1891, and the Rev. D. Haskell was pastor at the time of dedication.

It is fitting to note some of the changes made to the original church. During the pastorate of Rev. Bird the large Sunday School room and belfry was added and while Rev. Arbogast was pastor, the pulpit was enlarged. During the pastorate of Rev. Raymond Crowe, two small Primary Sunday School rooms were erected. In 1951 a complete new basement was built with all facilities and recently the Sanctuary was renovated and new furniture installed.

Teacher Predicts New Dance Craze About To Hit Nation

Returning from two weeks in New York for advanced training in the newest in dancing steps and routines, John Moyer of Moyer Dance Studios, 231 South Mechanic Street, said yesterday a new dance craze is starting.

He declared a dance, known as the Mambo, a South American origination, is sweeping all segments of New York's population like wild fire. He predicts it will soon be a craze across the country, like many past fads in this art.

Moyer said he knew of the Mambo before, learned the routine several years ago, but paid little attention to it, as did other dancing masters. However, on this trip to New York, he said he went to the Paladium Ballroom on Broadway, and saw about 2,000 people of all ages, and colors, literally going crazy with the Mambo. Alternate bands beat out fox trot time for both fast and slow numbers, and played nothing else but Mambo numbers evening after evening.

Joe Pira, "King of the Mamba Teachers" told Moyer that the new idea in dance is spreading like wildfire. From Harlem to the Astor Roof Garden, all the New York bands are playing little more than the Mambo.

Moyer said there is no way of telling how long the fad will take hold of the nation's ballroom dancers. The well known local teacher said however, that in addition to the annual refresher he takes in all types of ballroom and stage routines, he too, concentrated on the Mambo.

Moyer said he was also impressed with the fact that a number of New York's theatres and playhouses have been closed completely, with their stages and facilities taken over by TV production companies. He said the television show producers are using the theatres to film or televise live shows. "Vaudeville," he said, "is staging a great comeback in New York, but mostly on TV."

Franklin, N. J., is said to be the only place in the world where willemite, a zinc silicate, is found in large enough quantities for zinc smelting.

Livestock Champion

H. Fred Downey, son of Fred C. Downey, of Williamsport, is pictured with Woodside Hall Ideal Odeen, adjudged the senior and grand champion female Guernsey at the Cumberland Fair. In addition to receiving the ribbon for the above prized animal, the Downeys also had the junior champion Guernsey heifer. J. Herbert Snyder, of Union Bridge, Carroll County, who judged the Gurnseys in yesterday's livestock judging, is also shown in the picture. This was the first time in several years that Guernseys have been shown at the fair here.

Celanese Notes Slow Comeback

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP) — Celanese Corp. of America, which has been hard hit during the slump in the textile industry, reported a slow comeback for the three months ended June 30.

The corporation announced it had a net income in the second quarter of $1,218,051 which compared with only $95,973 in March, or first quarter of the year. The showing, however, was still far behind the $3,729,256 reported as net profit in the second quarter of last year. Net sales in the June quarter rose to $37,326,152 from $28,971,685 in the preceding three-month period, and compared with $53,157,889 in the comparable quarter in 1953.

In the first six months the corporation reported net income of $1,314,024 compared with $6,438,296 in the first half of 1953. The company did not give its per share earnings for either period.

"While there was considerable improvement in business in the second quarter," Harold Blancke, president, said, "sales for the first six months are substantially less than those for the same period of 1953. However, each month this year has shown an improvement in sales over those of the preceding month. Should this trend continue, as is expected, our profit margin should materially improve."

City's Tax Rate

Street and Public Property appropriations include $200 for Canada Hose House, $8,500 for City Hall, $4,700 for City Hall Annex, $35,600 for Constitution Park, $7,500 for other city parks, $10,600 for repairs to public buildings, $53,400 for the Sewage Department, $10,600 for upkeep on flood control siphons and regulators, $127,300 for street and alley work, $67,800 for street cleaning and $10,500 for the Street Department warehouse.

The department had asked an appropriation of $610,852, which included $195,100 for various street improvement projects. Spent last year on the items was a total of $264,516.51 — lower than expected because of light snowfalls and payments for work done for the gas company.

Miscellaneous departments received a $184,696 share of the appropriations.

Airport Allocation

Allotted to the City Airport was $15,400; to the City Band—a new item, $5,296; city planning and zoning, $800; Civil Defense, $3,000; Civil Service Commission, $3,700; elections and registration, $10,000—which includes about $7,000 for a referendum; $39,000 for the Engineering Department, $24,000 for the Cumberland Free Public Library; $40,000 for Recreation, $7,000 for Smoke Abatement, and $36,500 for street lighting.

Cost of the miscellaneous items in last year's budget totaled $190,268.76, about what was asked.

Two miscellaneous appropriations include $15,000 toward the General Improvement Bond fund and $6,715.55 to the Potomac Edison Company for a right of way to replace a right of way turned over to the city when the port was built.

Ask Wage Boosts

At the special meeting, held in the Mayor's Office, Mayor Roy W. Eves read a letter from Local 812, Municipal Workers Union (AFL), asking for a meeting to discuss a general wage increase for street, sewer and water department workers.

Firemen, he reported, want seven paid holidays, with time and one-half pay if worked, plus hospitalization benefits. The Police Department had asked a monthly increase of $30.50 for each man.

Officials estimated a 10 per cent increase for all city employes would cost $80,000.

No action was taken on the suggestions, but Mayor Eves said any increases should be "across the board" to all, and Finance Commissioner John J. Long agreed, saying all workers should share in any increase.

The Mayor also pointed out that the Recreation Board has asked that the salary of Robert E. Pence be increased $250 a year to $5,500.

No action was taken, but plans were made to set the salary by an order on Monday. Pence's contract was renewed for one year on June 16, 1953, and is up for renewal.

Outcome Of McCarthy Charges May Depend On Lawyers With Contrasting Personalities

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP) — The final outcome of censure charges filed in the Senate against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) may well depend on the legal talent of two lawyers who have come into the national spotlight almost overnight.

They are E. Wallace Chadwick, a gaunt, 70-year-old former judge and one-time congressman from Chester, Pa., and Edward Bennett Williams, a square-hawed, handsome 34-year-old Washington lawyer who achieved local prominence as a man having a persuasive way with a jury.

These two will sit across the table from each other when a Senate committee headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) considers 46 charges that McCarthy's conduct has tended to bring the Senate into disrepute.

The accusations—filed by Senators Fulbright (D-Ark), Flanders (R-Vt), and Morse (Ind-Ore)—range from allegations of improper treatment of committee witnesses to obtaining government secrets unlawfully.

Chadwick is counsel to the new committee, and in effect he may wear the hat of a prosecutor at times even though he has the official role of an impartial seeker of facts to be laid before the Senate as a whole. Williams is McCarthy's lawyer, and there will be nothing ambiguous about his role. He will be there to defend his client.

Despite their leading parts in the coming drama, however, the faces of Chadwick and Williams aren't likely to become as well known to the public as those of Tennessee's Ray Jenkins or Joseph N. Welch of Boston who became national figures in the recent McCarthy-Army row.

The reason is that Chairman Watkins has decided there'll be no radio or television equipment in the hearing room to project the show into millions of homes across the country.

Do the attorneys think the no-television rule is a good thing?

Chadwick: "I'd rather make no comment on that phase of the hearing."

Williams: "I think perhaps it's a good thing. Without the cameras, the principals aren't likely to assume the roles of actors and the hearings probably will move a good deal faster."

In appearance and mannerisms, there is a marked contrast between the two lawyers. Chadwick is a gangling man with a long, rough-cut face overhung by a forelock of gray hair. His clothes hang loosely on his tall, thin frame and he might pass as a double for the poet, Robert Frost.

Chadwick is rather deliberate and judicial in his manner of talking. In his interviews with the press, he has carefully avoided showing whether he approves or disapproves of McCarthy. He has given no hint as to what kind of an examination of witnesses he might conduct.

"The committee will decide the ground rules and methods of procedure," Chadwick said. "As to whether I will be in the role of a prosecutor, I don't wish to discuss that. I will abide by the decisions of the committee. I am not here to teach these gentlemen anything—but there is a reat deal I can learn from them."

Chadwick has likened himself to a man drafted into the armed forces and has said: "I am going to Washington to serve my country."

Williams is a broad-shouldered, brown-haired 200-pounder with the look of an athlete. He has a relaxed, casual manner and he talks easily and fluently, with a disarming and boyish air. In less than 10 years, he has established himself as one of the ablest trial lawyers in the capital.

A veteran courtroom reporter says of Williams: "He's one of the best in the business and don't let his youthful appearance fool you. He knows his way around and it's a pleasure to watch him at work."

If Chadwick himself doesn't regard his role as that of prosecutor—Williams does. The younger attorney believes that the committee in effect, if not in fact, is in the position of conducting a prosecution of charges against his client.

But Chadwick and Williams both made it clear in interviews they don't think the hearing will develop the "big show" overtones which marked the McCarthy-Army row. They feel this way largely because Chairman Watkins has has said that the hearing will be governed largely by federal court rules of evidence and procedure.

Also the strategy in the McCarthy camp appears to be this: McCarthy plans to sit on the sidelines for a most part this time and turn over to Williams the main responsibility for the cross examination of witnesses and trial of the case. There is some talk that Williams laid down these conditions before taking on the job.

On this point, all Williams had to say was: "I expect to handle the cross-examination and the trial of the case."

Williams said the hearings represent no ideological fight so far as he is concerned and that he didn't enter the case as the defender of any cause.

"I regard this as a law case," he said, "as a straight legal proceeding in which a lawyer can legally participate."

Chadwick has never met McCarthy (or hadn't before this weekend) but Williams and McCarthy have known each other since the Republican National Convention in Philadelphia in 1948.

Guided by the trends of fall fashions, you have many opportunities for individuality.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

I actually heard it stated the other day that "fashion is what makes every woman look like every other woman." My styling consultant disagreed with the definition, and so do I.

It happened that we had just seen a fashion show in which there was something for everybody—and no two "look-alikes." There are trends, of course, that set the pace for every new season, but a trend is not a pattern that removes individuality from a woman's wardrobe.

Let me show you what I mean by noting trends, and their various interpretations, in fall fashions. Follow the suggestions in "What's Your Line?" (see below) to determine which styles will be the most flattering additions to your own wardrobe.

Theme and Variations

Trend: Relaxed, easy lines. Interpretations: Coats that are reed-like in look, but made comfortably full by yokes, hidden pleats, or released fullness. Suit jackets which barely curve at the waistline, others which are gently bloused and neatly belted; suit skirts slim, never tight. Supple jerseys, bloused wool and silk dresses, coat dresses, costumes of dress-plus-jacket, or dress-plus-coat, or suit-plus-coat.

Trend: The shaped silhouette. Interpretations: Coats with molded shoulders, tightened sleeves, and clinging lines under the arms; others fitted to the waistline, flaring into a full skirt. Dresses defining the figure from neckline to hemline, without appearing taut—or dresses smoothed gently to the waist or hip, then released into back or front fullness, or into the flare at the sides.

Trend: The shirtwaist influence. Interpretations: Coats and suits with an easy, "shirt look" in tweeds, fleeces, cashmeres, and in formal velvets. Blouses related to the shirt, but softened by big collars and by elegant fabrics. late-day and evening dresses emphasizing the simple cut of the shirtwaist with formal fabrics and varied detailing.

Top Interest

Trend: Top-of-the-costume interest. Interpretations: Large collars, varied in cut and size, on coats, sutis, dresses, blouses, Scarves, fur ascots and ties, or big bows under the chin. Multiple ropes of colorful beads and pearls.

Trend: Beautiful, bold colors. Interpretations: A great range of colors in every kind of fabric, from brilliant reds, orange and copper, to jewel tones like sapphire, emerald, jade and amethyst. Strident pinks, unusual greens. Black — gleaming or textured — and darkened grays and neutrals. Costumes in varying shades of a single color.

Something for everybody? Yes, indeed! Watch this column for specific pointers on your best choices, figure-wise, from the wide world of fashion.

"WHAT'S YOUR LINE?" — Horizontal, vertical and diagonal lines make a world of difference in what clothing will do for (or to) your figure! This "P.S." gives you complete information on handling lines to your own best advantage. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed return envelope for a copy of WHAT'S YOUR LINE?

Tomorrow—A change of pace.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24—(INS)—Sitting in a quiet corner at Romanoff's over the weekend was Producer Charles Brackett and a grey-haired little lady.

Not many people knew that Charlie's luncheon guest was Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, the girl who was so much in the headlines half a century ago, after her multi-millionaire husband, Harry Thaw, shot and killed Stanford White, the world's most famous architect.

Thaw got off with a prison sentence on "the unwritten law," and part of the testimony was that Evelyn went to White's apartment, which had a red velvet swing.

Never let it be said that Charlie Brackett isn't hep. He's calling his picture "The Girl in the Red Velvet Swing."

Marilyn Monroe is being discussed for the role of Evelyn Nesbitt, unhappy show girl whose life was so tragic.

Aly Khan, who is back in France, is expected to file a brief on August 31 in a custody battle with Rita Hayworth over his daughter, Yasmin.

The old Aga Khan has repeatedly told people the one thing he wants in the world is to see his granddaughter, the only girl in the family. Aly is pretty eager to please his ailing father and there are no lengths that he won't go to see the little girl who is a darling.

No less an authority than Richard Aldrich writes: "I think you will like to know that one of your Hollywood starlets has developed into a very fine legitimate actress. Cathy O'Donnell is standing them up at my cape playhouse in Dennis in the star role in Collette's "Gigi." It's the same part which made Audrey Hepburn a star.

"I thought this would interest you because so many Hollywood stars fall flat on their faces when they attempt legitimate acting."

I don't know about that, Dick. Last season on Broadway Rosalind Russell, Barry Sullivan, Lloyd Nolan, John Hodiak, Janis Paige, David Wayne, Joan Fontaine and many other "Hollywood" names clicked big.

I am very sorry to hear that Theda Bara, whom I have known for many, many years, is to undergo a fourth operation. This one, however, is not as serious as the first. Theda is not able to see anybody but her friends tell me that she's in good spirits, which is always over 50 per cent toward getting well in any sickness.

I met Theda first so many years ago I'm not going to say it out loud. I had corned beef with her in her dressing room, which to her was an unforgivable sin. No siren and exotic lady would eat such a plebian dish. Years later I met her and she said that wasn't corned beef we had. I said, "shall I say it was humming bird tongues?"

While Neil Rau was on vacation he took a busman's holiday and visited the set of "Oklahoma!" in Arizona.

He told me that all of the actors are just crazy about Oscar Hammerstein who is on location most of the time. Either he or Dick Rodgers are always there to see that their pet child is done right by. I am told that MGM has upped the budget another million—but what's a million or more for a picture already ready-made for the box office.

I'd like to get down on the set myself, but I'd better stay chained to my desk for awhile. Times are hard and I don't want to lose my job.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at Random:

Gary Crosby gets his first trip to New York before resuming at Stanford. The boy has had offers from both radio and TV but Der Bingle says no, not while he's in school.

Speaking of Bing, I hear he's due back in St. John's Hospital. This I'm sorry to hear.

Straight from the stork: Mrs. Danny Mann, wife of the director, hears there will be twins in January.

Judd Bernard, the press agent, is being married September 5 to non-professional Natalie Levinson. They'll honeymoon in Canada.

From Paris I hear that Michele Morgan, once married to Producer Bill Marshall, has said au revoir to her current husband, Henry Vidal.

Lou Costello, who knows what it is to be sick, was one of the first permitted to see Jerry Lewis. He brought Jerry some film of the old-time comedians to cheer him up. Lewis is improved, but still a sick boy.

Tomorrow John Wayne and Pilar Palette are off for Honolulu — John for "The Sea Chase" and Pilar on a vacation. My guess is they'll be Mr. and Mrs. soon after John obtains his freedom in October.

Sorry to hear reports that Edmund Purdom, whom I considered one of the nicest young men I've met, is letting sudden success go to his head.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Mr. John Moyer Returns from New York Dance Studies

Mr. Moyer has just completed his 31st yearly session with the world's greatest dance teachers in all phases of stage and social dancing.

Outstanding among the teachers was Mr. John Gregory, who is considered one of New York's leading dance choreographers. Mr. Gregory teaches how to create dances . . . to make the dance suit the music, which knowledge Mr. Moyer will use in future editions of the Cumberland Follies. Regular patrons of the Follies will remember Mr. Moyer's outstanding original dances as danced by his pupils.

This year, as in the past, Mr. Moyer studied privately with instructors in Tap, Ballet, Acrobatic, Tumbling and Stage Technique, so that he could continue to bring fresh ideas and inspiration to his dance pupils.

Chou's Words Differ From His Actions

Replete with shark fins and soybean soup, lotus roots and bamboo shoots, Premier Chou En-lai of Red China took another sip of fiery mao-tai, then rose to toast his guests. To the visiting members of the British Labor party he spoke fair words, as a host should, words of friendship and good will.

But actions, as Emerson remarked, are also a kind of words, and it would take a lot of mao-tai to dim the light his actions throw on his words.

"International cooperation and the maintenance of world peace," said genial Chou, "have been steadfastly upheld by China in her policy." (As, for example, when she sent armies to attack U.N. forces trying to restore peace in Korea).

"We wish for mutual respect for each other's territorial integrity and sovereignty, non-aggression. . . ." (As in Korea, Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia).

". . . non-interference in internal affairs, equality and mutual benefit . . ." (As in Tibet, Thailand, Indochina, Korea).

". . . and peaceful coexistence." (As when Chinese planes and ships in the South China Sea fired upon two United States planes engaged in a publicly announced humanitarian mission; as when, just previously, Chinese warplanes shot down a British passenger plane on a regularly scheduled flight in the same area).

Behind Chou En-lai's gracious and benevolent words, it appears, were words he did not speak. And they call to mind other words, contained in a Chinese proverb so ancient their author's very name has been forgotten. This proverb, in five curt Chinese monosyllables, might be translated thus: "Can talk, but not do."

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

G.A.T.T. And Congress

It had to come that at some point a conflict would arise between an executive agreement, concerning the United States and some foreign countries, and Congress. The Bricker Amendment was designed to prevent such incidents from occurring by requiring the constitutional confirmation of all such agreements which are really treaties in disguise. It will be recalled that the Bricker Amendment failed by one vote, that of Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan who changed his mind.

What is involved is a minor commodity in international trade, namely, hardboard, or as it is often called in this country, wallboard. Congress is interested in raising the rate without considering G.A.T.T. (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) which is an omnibus agreement worked out by an international body designed to make foreign trade easier, particularly to the United States.

We are told that Canadian trade officials are upset because the House of Representatives actually passed a rise in the tariff on hardboard. The Canadians regarded such an increase as a violation of G.A.T.T. Those who favor the increase ask what is G.A.T.T. and do we have a treaty about it. Should the increase go through, this might be a case for the Supreme Court, American dealers in the Canadian product coming into our courts to raise the issue of the binding force of an executive agreement dealing with a matter that more correctly should be left to Congress, or arranged by a treaty confirmed by the Senate. Then we shall have all the arguments, pro and con, which arose over the Bricker Amendment

Hardboard is a paper product used in this country as a wall board. The Swedes and Canadians do a good business in this product in the United States. It is one of Canada's numerous paper products which maintain the Canadian economy, largely by being sold in the United States at a high price.

To accommodate Canada but with little regard for the fact, hardboard comes into the United States as wood, which it is not, and not as paper which it is. As wood, hardboard is dutiable at the rate of 7½ to 15 per cent ad valorem; as paper, it would be dutiable at a straight 16⅔ per cent. The Canadians, being good business men, have taken advantage of the concession made at the G.A.T.T. conference. The G.A.T.T. agreements are based on the 1934 Trade Agreements Act which has been renewed for another year.

Now along comes James B. Utt, a congressman from California, who puts through a bill in the House of Representatives reclassifying hardboard from wood to paper. In other words, Utt's bill tells the truth about a commodity which, for some diplomatic reason, the United States enters into a collusion with Sweden and Canada to classify incorrectly. The Utt bill passed the House by a vote of 235 to 109, which in this almost evenly divided House is a good majority. The Canadians are sore because the American product would then be priced more competitively.

The Europeans, as well as the Canadians, are puzzled by a situation which they do not understand. They witnessed the Randall Commission travel all over Europe and they read the Randall report. No matter how one slices this document, it comes out as a free trade proposal. They read the speech of so prominent a business man as Henry Ford II, who advocates free trade. Then they discover that Congress ignores these great men and goes its own way. They do not understand our congressional system which is different from their parliamentary system. They also do not understand that Americans do not take their great men very seriously.

So, they believe that they are about to get free trade and they will have here a ready market for their goods and they see the President raise the duty on Swiss watches; they note that the Utt bill has passed the House; they note the excitement over British bicycles and they wonder who has the authority to speak for whom in this country.

Congress, of course, has the constitutional authority and, no treaty interventing Congress will do as it chooses. That is one reason why the Bricker Amendment would have been a sound method of preventing misunderstanding—every such arrangement would have had to be confirmed by the Senate after an open hearing before a congressional committee at which interested Americans would have a voice.

Inside Track At The '54 Political Picnic

Korean Armistice Agreement Comes In For Criticism

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Everybody is apparently to be asked to rejoice during the coming political campaign over the "achievement" claimed by the Republican administration—that it stopped the war in Korea.

Yet the same administration, through its Department of Defense, is conceding that the armistice agreement which terminated the fighting and pledged the return of all prisoners wasn't worth the paper it was written on.

An announcement by the Department of Defense reveals that at least 526 Americans still have not been accounted for by the Chinese Communists and that specifically 15 American fliers—who are admitted to be alive—are being held by the Peiping government as hostages in a form of blackmail unprecedented in world history.

A Defense Department official is given in a United Press dispatch as authority for the statement that the Chinese Reds have been holding the 15 U. S. Air Force fliers as "political prisoners." The dispatch says:

Used For Bargaining

"The (Defense Department) official disclosed that negotiations have been conducted through 'third parties' during the past year for the release of the airmen and other Americans being held by the Reds. He said the Communist position, in effect, has been: 'Admit us to the United Nations and we will release your men'."

It is revealed also by the Defense Department that during the recent conference at Geneva, Switzerland, the fact that the 15 airmen were being held as "political prisoners" was admitted by the Reds. This was also verified by returned prisoners of war who report that the Communists said the servicemen will be held "for use as one of the bargaining points to secure Chinese admission to the United Nations."

Under the circumstances, how can the Republican orators go up and down the country boasting about the Korean armistice when the Republican administration itself has failed to assert American rights in the face of the flagrant violations of the armistice agreement by the Communists?

Another pertinent question that will be asked is how the United States Government can continue to consent, as it is doing now, to the relaxation of trade restrictions between the Allies and Red China. The Red Chinese director of trade with Western countries, Lu Shu Chang, was recently quoted by British reporters accompanying Messrs. Attlee and Bevan of the British Parliament on their visit to Peiping as having said:

"We feel that West Germany, Belgium, France and others seem to be more interested in business with China than is Britain. We have imported steel, other metals, machinery and heavy equipment from them. But many British shipping companies have provided the shipping services to bring these goods to china."

Laborites Toast Reds

This astounding revelation has brought forth from the British Ministry of Transport in London the statement, as reported by the United Press, that "no British ships had carried strategic cargoes to Red China at least since March 1953, when strict new controls were put into effect."

But the Korean War lasted from June 1950 to the summer of 1953, so now it appears that for nearly three years of the Korean War British ships were carrying strategic goods to Red China. This is a tragic climax to the many denials and counterdenials which have been issued ever since Senator McCarthy, Republican, of Wisconsin, made his charges that British shipping had been carrying strategic goods to Red China.

It was on November 24, 1953, that the Wisconsin senator, in a nation-wide television broadcast, answering former President Truman's speech on "McCarthyism," aroused the hostility of many Republicans because he criticized the Republican administration, too, for failing to deal sternly with the Communists. He called attention to the fact that the Red Chinese were still holding American boys as prisoners despite their promise to release them when the armistice was signed. He urged that American billions be withheld from Allies who traded with the Reds. Those two points — about the prisoners and trade with Red China—were the principal charges he made in his speech but from that day on he incurred the wrath of the Eisenhower regime, and some of the advisers at the White House began at that time to lay the lines for the many moves that have come since to punish Senator McCarthy for his criticism of the administration.

But what is even more embarrassing to report now is that Messrs. Attlee and Bevan and a delegation from the British Labor party have been hobnobbing with the high officials of the Red China and the Soviet governments — toasting them and praising them. Coincidentally, the mothers and fathers of American boys held as prisoners as well as the parents of the 33,000 American boys killed and the 110,000 wounded are left to wonder whether the British government has any feeling of sympathy for them. For it does look as if the British legislators have forgotten all about the Americans who thought an agreement to return all prisoners meant what it said. It's going to be hard to persuade the American Congress to keep troops in Europe in the future if America's allies continue their indifference to sacrifices already made in the idealistic cause of collective security.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Philatelists' catalogue for summer of 1954 includes anniversary of United Nations trying to put brakes on Ripley's marching Chinese.

This stamp is a sticky job with mucilage on both sides. It is in red and yellow.

The Suez special commemorates Winnie Churchill swimming the canal the long way. Churchill has a wreath of seaweed in his hair and is bearing Neptune's trident microphone. The inscription reads, "Portiferous noddo tattistrat" or "An honest Arab does not steal sand."

The Pierre Mendes-France cachet with perforated parallels and invisible boundaries is ready in sheets of 100 stamps. It depicts Napoleon and Foch in the Invalides revolving like rotisserie chickens.

The Dulles decalcomania is in the portfolio classification and shows the air-cooled diplomat shooting the Nile rapids on Cleo's barge. His Egyptian title is King Tutt-Tutt.

Collectors are eager for the Senate-McCarthy stamp of a witch hunt out-of-season. The broom escadrille is flying chimney-wise. A misprint indicates Salem is the national capital. This stamp is a must among collectors of anything over five per cent.

More Playing Fields Will Help Effort To Stem Tide of Juvenile Delinquency

By Mrs. Babe Ruth

While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being Mrs. Babe Ruth, widow of the beloved "King of Swat."

WASHINGTON — The Babe was at my side the other day. I went to Washington for the Babe Ruth League world series—teams of kids 13 to 15 from every part of the country — and when they weren't playing baseball, they were looking in on their congressmen and senators and visiting the shrines of our magnificent capital. They were growing up.

Wherever we went, I felt the Babe was looking over my shoulder and listening in. Kids were his dish. We dropped in on Senator Robert Hendrickson, chairman of the Subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency. There's nothing phony about the senator's interest in the subject. He's a grandfather 11 times and he should know about children's problems.

He also knows there's no special cure-all for juvenile delinquency. He idolized the Babe and knew his background. Baseball helped my husband as it is helping thousands of kids in organized baseball programs today—kids who are restless and burning up with unspent energy.

We visited Senator Hennings of the same committee. "The Babe came of a broken home," he said, "but it didn't break him. How the Babe would hit 'em in Sportsmans Park, St. Louis! That must have been his favorite ball park." The senator gave a most inspiring talk to the group of youngsters from Joplin, Mo. I am sure they will remember the sage remarks as long as they live. Senator Hennings was a track star at Cornell—Senator Hendrickson played high school baseball, and Senator Kefauver played both baseball and football.

There were kids from Jackson, Tenn., and they were greeted by Senator Kefauver, also of the committee.

"I'm sure the Babe got his thrills, even while he was under 16, on the ball field instead of on dimly lit street corners," Kefauver told them. "You don't get into trouble on the ball field."

Senator William Langer of the Juvenile Delinquency Committee told me there is a higher rate increase in rural areas today then in our cities. This will surprise many as it did me.

One thing stands out in my mind with the Juvenile Delinquency Committee senators. They are trying to reverse a disgraceful national trend. By 1960, unless that trend is reversed, 1,600,000 youngsters each year will be in trouble with the law. America cannot afford to lose the good citizenship of these boys.

The Babe Had Tough Start

I wonder how many kids in America today know anything more about Babe Ruth than that he symbolized the home run?

The Babe meant much more than that to an older generation in his glory years—a big, good-natured orphan who learned to play ball at St. Mary's Industrial School in Baltimore.

What he stood for then, in what we have come to know as the golden age, was a blessed land of opportunity. Baseball made the Babe, and the Babe in turn made baseball.

Like so many kids out of broken homes, the Babe might have got into trouble, real trouble, but for the guidance and understanding of the brothers of St. Mary's. He owed much to Brother Mattias, and to the Brothers Paul, Albert, and Gilbert.

They taught him the moral values; they gave him religious training. They encouraged him to play ball in his free hours. He was not a good student, but he learned to distinguish between the good and the bad, and by the time he was 19 he was ready to make his way in professional baseball.

I don't know how old the Babe was when he set his mind in the right direction, but I'd guess it was under 16. That's why I'm so happy to have the Babe's name perpetuated by the Babe Ruth League, sponsored by the Coca-Cola Company, for those vital years of adolescent development. They get to play ball in an organized way; they get good coaching, and most of all they don't ever get to feel they're unwanted.

These were the elements the Babe remembered of his years at St. Mary's. He would tell me of the kids he had left behind. He often went back there, but most of those kids were no longer there. Still, he felt better for it.

Popular With Kids

The Babe's upbringing made him act so natural when he was around kids, they just happened to like him as he liked them. It wasn't just a case of putting his autograph to a scrap of paper or a scorecard or a baseball. He felt cleaner after a time with the kids. He never forgot he was once one of them.

The Babe told me a story of a little miracle in Tampa, Fla. The Yankees had played an exhibition that afternoon, and they were jogging to their bus behind the right field stands. A car was parked nearby, and seated in the front seat was a hunched-up kid with an adult beside him. The Babe glanced at the wasted kid, and he waved and yelled, "Hi-ya, kid!" Then he thought no more of it, but the greeting had a remarkable effect on the boy. He stood up and called something back.

Other Yankees and sports writer Fred Lieb followed in the Babe's path and they noticed the boy's father shedding a tear. The man was overwhelmed. He kept saying over and over, "My boy stood up, he stood up. It's the first time in two years. My boy stood up."

There was something inspiring about the Babe, and yet the problem of delinquency could easily have overwhelmed him if he hadn't been steered right. I think too much stress — too many headlines — on the destructive side have hurt the kids. Certainly the scare headlines had to be used. Communities had to be made aware of the problem. But now I say, let's bury those headlines. In one way they multiply the problem, make phony heroes of more kids. Let's tell them of the good the kids do. And let's keep them on the ball field where they won't get into trouble.

Though there is no one cure for juvenile delinquency, the more playing fields we have, the fewer delinquents we'll have, I'm sure.

On Averting Delinquency

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK (INS) — More, and still more, suggestions on what to do about a seemingly major breakdown in the respect our juveniles once held for law and order:

San Diego, Calif. — "Bring back the C.C.C. and put these jobless boys to work. I lost my only brother in Korea. He left three boys who are going to be better citizens because their father got his start in life among good men in a C.C.C. camp," Mrs. G. B. Phelps.

Memphis, Tenn. — "Our youth is running all over in tight jeans, sloppy shirts, dirty shoes. I believe when a girl is dressed as a lady she acts like a lady. Do the teen age blue jeaners look attractive or act ladylike? Will parents ever wake up? Will schools? This dreadful attire should not be allowed in any school," Mrs. Egan V. Lohberg.

Denver, Colo. — "Mister, you reform the parents first, and let them reform their kids. They are the only ones who can stop delinquency," R. M. Povondra.

Los Angeles, Calif. — "Shaving the heads of young hoodlums is no solution. What will happen is that instead of being ashamed of themselves they might even consider it a mark of toughness, like being knighted by the police. Or if not, there will be a booming business in wigs with crew cuts and duck tails. . . Juvenile delinquency is one of the results of the uneasy times in which we live; another manifestation of the 'what does it matter, we'll all probably be dead tomorrow' feeling," Albert R. Wechsler.

Trenton, N. J. — "Build more schools and fewer jails. . ." Fred J. Schweder.

Louisville, Ky. — "Religion in the home will always be a deterrent against youngsters breaking the civil laws. If they know and love God they will respect their fellow men," A.C.H.

Longwoods, Md. — "I taught rural school for many years and saw all kinds of children. As for the bad ones, I always pitied them. I believe the parents of the offender should be dealt with by the law as well as the offender," C. S. Collier.

Philadelphia, Pa. — "How can we expect our children, who spend a great deal of their time in school, to live by the golden rule when our teachers are forbidden by a Supreme Court ruling to teach them about its author — God?" Bob Welsch.

Cincinnati, O. — "Teen agers are going to get worse and worse until we have a national curfew law, higher age limit on driving a car, and a law where parents are held responsible for the acts of their teen age kids. The Cincinnati council tried to pass a curfew law here recently and a bunch of high school kids scared them out of it. When we let the kids take over, who is to blame?" R. J. Hilton.

Fort Worth, Tex. — "Why don't you get after the things that are really responsible? Most of the TV programs are crammed with murder, mystery and shooting. The same on radio. And what about the comic strips in our daily papers? . . . Youths will come out all right if the right things are put before them. Don't blame it on the schools and the parents entirely," Blanche B. Llewellyn.

Detroit, Mich. — "The average citizen's son never gets into any serious trouble. He goes to high school and at the age of 18 or so gets drafted into the army. But when a young hoodlum with a police record reaches 18, Uncle Sam says nix. My simple solution is this: When an 18-year-old comes before a judge for sentence, put him in the Army immediately. The Army is a vast organization which can easily obsorb these delinquents and discipline them, too."

Sitting Up Sometimes Advocated After Heart Attack

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Four to six weeks in bed is the customary treatment for coronary thrombosis. Oxygen and pain relieving drugs are administered during the height of the heart attack, and rest and relaxation are encouraged through various means. This plan offers the best results because the blood is not being diverted from the heart muscle by mental and physical exertion.

But the armchair treatment is an alternative method that came into vogue a few years ago. In a recent study, Dr. Samuel A. Levine and colleagues of Boston reported results equal to if not better than those obtained with complete bed rest.

In this new plan, 24 to 48 hours after acute pain subsides, the victime of coronary thrombosis is helped out of bed toward a chair. When he becomes tired, he is helped back into bed.

The majority who were permitted to sit up felt better immediately and morale improved. But sitting in a chair does not mean roaming about the room or hall; the patient must remain as quiet in the chair as he would in bed. The only drawback to this therapy is the old idea many people have that anyone well enough to sit in a chair is not very sick.

Was the scar that formed in the heart muscle (the healing process) as strong after the armchair treatment as after the more conventional bed rest? Extensive studies showed no evidence to the contrary.

Forty-two persons who had undergone the armchair regimen were examined by the Boston physicians 15 to 28 months after the heart attack. Only two had encountered recurrences of symptoms; 18 had returned to their usual work; 13 had taken part time jobs; seven were unable or unwilling to work; and four had retired.

In addition, the medical men studied the effect on pulse, respiration, and blood pressure in 13 of this series. Moving from bed to chair and vice versa brought no change except for a slight lowering of blood pressure. This indicated that the load on the heart was not increased by the minor exertion involved. Meanwhile, the usual medications were continued and complete rest along this line was carried on for three to six weeks before additional activity was permitted.

More and more physicians during the past decade have been converted to the back-to- work movement for their coronary patients. These individuals no longer are advised to retire or vegetate in a mild climate. Returning to the old job is a morale builder by making the man realize he is not through. This is logical because, after the heart muscues heals, there is no reason why work cannot be resumed.

TOMORROW: Low thyroid activity.

INJURED KIDNEY

W. C. writes: A 17-year-old boy had a gym accident and blood appeared in his urine. The doctor said he suffered consussion of one kidney. Will he recover completely or will the affected kidney always remain weak?

REPLY

Complete healing may be expected. This young man is lucky because bleeding stopped spontaneously. In more serious accidents, it is necessary to remove the involved kidney.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

A famous film beauty was sunbathing at her secluded pool, attired in practically nothing, when a brash photographer invaded the premises, snapped her picture, and made for the exit on the double. During one of Wall Streets spells of extreme dullness, the senior partner in a brokerage house came down with a virus infection, and was confined to his bed. His associates began phoning him early the next morning, and kept it up at 15-minute intervals, asking solicitously, "How are you doing, old man? Fever abating?" Finally the senior partner rebelled. "See here," he bellowed, "I'm not as sick as you boys seem to imagine. What's the idea of botherin, me every quarter of an hour?" "Well," admitted the caller, "the tape is moving so slowly down here, the customers have taken to betting on the fluctuations in your temperature."

Teacher Predicts New Dance Craze About To Hit Nation

Returning from two weeks in New York for advanced training in the newest in dancing steps and routines, John Moyer of Moyer Dance Studios, 231 South Mechanic Street, said yesterday a new dance craze is starting.

He declared a dance, known as the Mambo, a South American origination, is sweeping all segments of New York's population like wild fire. He predicts it will soon be a craze across the country, like many past fads in this art.

Moyer said he knew of the Mambo before, learned the routine several years ago, but paid little attention to it, as did other dancing masters. However, on this trip to New York, he said he went to the Paladium Ballroom on Broadway, and saw about 2,000 people of all ages, and colors, literally going crazy with the Mambo. Alternate bands beat out fox trot time for both fast and slow numbers, and played nothing else but Mambo numbers evening after evening.

Joe Pira, "King of the Mamba Teachers" told Moyer that the new idea in dance is spreading like wildfire. From Harlem to the Astor Roof Garden, all the New York bands are playing little more than the Mambo.

Moyer said there is no way of telling how long the fad will take hold of the nation's ballroom dancers. The well known local teacher said however, that in addition to the annual refresher he takes in all types of ballroom and stage routines, he too, concentrated on the Mambo.

Moyer said he was also impressed with the fact that a number of New York's theatres and playhouses have been closed completely, with their stages and facilities taken over by TV production companies. He said the television show producers are using the theatres to film or televise live shows. "Vaudeville," he said, "is staging a great comeback in New York, but mostly on TV."

In addition to receiving the ribbon for the above prized animal, the Downeys also had the junior champion Guernsey heifer. J. Herbert Snyder, of Union Bridge, Carroll County, who judged the Gurnseys in yesterday's livestock judging, is also shown in the picture. This was the first time in several years that Guernseys have been shown at the fair here.

Street and Public Property appropriations include $200 for Canada Hose House, $8,500 for City Hall, $4,700 for City Hall Annex, $35,600 for Constitution Park, $7,500 for other city parks, $10,600 for repairs to public buildings, $53,400 for the Sewage Department, $10,600 for upkeep on flood control siphons and regulators, $127,300 for street and alley work, $67,800 for street cleaning and $10,500 for the Street Department warehouse.

The department had asked an appropriation of $610,852, which included $195,100 for various street improvement projects. Spent last year on the items was a total of $264,516.51 — lower than expected because of light snowfalls and payments for work done for the gas company.

Miscellaneous departments received a $184,696 share of the appropriations.

Airport Allocation

Allotted to the City Airport was $15,400; to the City Band—a new item, $5,296; city planning and zoning, $800; Civil Defense, $3,000; Civil Service Commission, $3,700; elections and registration, $10,000—which includes about $7,000 for a referendum; $39,000 for the Engineering Department, $24,000 for the Cumberland Free Public Library; $40,000 for Recreation, $7,000 for Smoke Abatement, and $36,500 for street lighting.

Cost of the miscellaneous items in last year's budget totaled $190,268.76, about what was asked.

Two miscellaneous appropriations include $15,000 toward the General Improvement Bond fund and $6,715.55 to the Potomac Edison Company for a right of way to replace a right of way turned over to the city when the port was built.

Ask Wage Boosts

At the special meeting, held in the Mayor's Office, Mayor Roy W. Eves read a letter from Local 812, Municipal Workers Union (AFL), asking for a meeting to discuss a general wage increase for street, sewer and water department workers.

Firemen, he reported, want seven paid holidays, with time and one-half pay if worked, plus hospitalization benefits. The Police Department had asked a monthly increase of $30.50 for each man.

Officials estimated a 10 per cent increase for all city employes would cost $80,000.

No action was taken on the suggestions, but Mayor Eves said any increases should be "across the board" to all, and Finance Commissioner John J. Long agreed, saying all workers should share in any increase.

The Mayor also pointed out that the Recreation Board has asked that the salary of Robert E. Pence be increased $250 a year to $5,500.

No action was taken, but plans were made to set the salary by an order on Monday. Pence's contract was renewed for one year on June 16, 1953, and is up for renewal.

Celanese Notes Slow Comeback

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP) — Celanese Corp. of America, which has been hard hit during the slump in the textile industry, reported a slow comeback for the three months ended June 30.

The corporation announced it had a net income in the second quarter of $1,218,051 which compared with only $95,973 in March, or first quarter of the year. The showing, however, was still far behind the $3,729,256 reported as net profit in the second quarter of last year. Net sales in the June quarter rose to $37,326,152 from $28,971,685 in the preceding three-month period, and compared with $53,157,889 in the comparable quarter in 1953.

In the first six months the corporation reported net income of $1,314,024 compared with $6,438,296 in the first half of 1953. The company did not give its per share earnings for either period.

"While there was considerable improvement in business in the second quarter," Harold Blancke, president, said, "sales for the first six months are substantially less than those for the same period of 1953. However, each month this year has shown an improvement in sales over those of the preceding month. Should this trend continue, as is expected, our profit margin should materially improve."

Cumberland at Romney (5:00 EST)

Centerville nosed out the Frostburg Demons in an important All-States Baseball Association game yesterday at Centerville, Pa., enabling Cumberland's Old Germans to tie Frostburg in the hot battle for the fourth place playoff spot. The score was 3-2.

The win, fourth in a row, gave Centerville sole possession of second place. Cumberland and Frostburg now are tied for 4th place with 10-13 records. The Old Germans could move ahead a half game if they defeat the Rockets in a game today at 5 p. m. in Romney. The league season ends on Saturday.

Centerville won yesterday's game in the 9th inning to give Glenn Deremer the verdict over Lynn Kitzmiller in a pitching duel. The win was the 8th of the campaign for Deremer against two losses. The Centerville twirler struck out eight.

Dave Rose was safe on an error to open the ninth. Veryle Nave laid down a bunt and beat it out. Johnny Growden advanced both runners with a sacrifice and Homer Rose squeezed over Dave Rose with the deciding tally.

Two Centerville runners were thown out at the plate before the Reds tied the score in the 6th. Homer Rose tripled and was cut down at home when he tried to go all the way. Trout singled and Dwight Rose doubled. Trout was thrown out at home on Welsh's fielder's choice but Manager Glentis Streett delivered the hit that sent Dwight Rose home with the tying marker.

Frostburg got one run on an error and the other on Shuck's triple and Langan's single. Langan had two hits for the Demons, including a double. Veryle Nave slammed a triple and two singles, John Growden belted a 3-bagger and single and Homer Rose had a triple for the winners.

Eagles Have Proof Pollard Signed Pact

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24 — (INS)—The Philadelphia Eagles dispatched a photostat copy of Al Pollard's contract to Vancouver, B. C. today after the British Columbia Lions promised to "chase him out of camp" if the Eagles can show he was under contract when he "jumped" to the Canadian League.

Vince McNally, general manager of the Eagles, had wired both Pollard and the Lions of the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union to advise that the Eagles expected Pollard to honor his contract and warn of impending legal action.

The 26-year-old ex-Loyola (L.A.) and West Point star, who had signed to play his fourth season with the Eagles, "jumped" unexpectedly to Vancouver, B. C.

Central Lunch Evens Series

Phillips Is Hit Hard, Decker Winner, 10-4

Central Quick Lunch's swatsmiths found the range yesterday and belted Hayden Phillips, the County Softball League's leading winning pitcher, for 14 hits and a 10-4 decision over the Potomac Valley Cubs in the second game of the circuit's final playoff series at Corriganville.

The victory enabled Central to tie up the series at one-all. The grand finale is scheduled for Friday at 6:15 at Triple Lakes.

Bob Keyser and Gene Basilio sparked the Lunchers by getting three hits each. Keyser had a double and two singles, Basilio had three one-base knocks and Frank Scarpelli obtained a two-bagger and single. Joe Wolfe and Ronnie Cage also smacked doubles.

Moreland banged a homer and single and Hanna rapped a double to account for three of the seven hits yielded by Ed Decker who went the route for Central.

LaVale, Hyndman Cop Little Loop Playoff Openers

LaVale's Maroons edged Barrelville, 5-4, and Hyndman defeated Ellerslie's pennant winners, 12-8, as the Pen-Mar Little League playoffs got under way yesterday.

Ted Femi gained a decision over Leroy Morris in the contest at LaVale. Femi yielded six hits and whiffed seven while Morris was nicked for seven safeties and he fanned 11.

Scaletta banged a homer and single, Femi blasted a pair of triples and Steve Holler obtained a triple and single for the Maroons. A. Crowe garnered two singles and Emerick rapped a triple for Barrelville.

Bill Wanless featured afield with a nice stop of a hot grounder at third base.

Twenty-one hits were racked up by the teams in the game at Ellerslie. Browning, Bittner and Minnick had two hits each for Hyndman while Don Lowery larruped a triple, double and single and Royce Waltman pounded three singles to pace the losers.

Second games of these series are set for Thursday at Barrelville and Hyndman at 6 p. m. Scores:

Southern High Gridders Will Report Monday

60 Boys Sign To Play; Four Games Arranged

Candidates for Southern High School's football team will report at the high school gymnasium in Oakland Monday, August 30 at 9 a. m., according to announcement by Kyle Wilson, director of athletics at the Garrett County school.

Sixty boys have signed up to play and have obtained the consent of their parents. These and others interested are invited to report on the first day. Boys are asked to bring shorts for the initial practice session.

James DeMoss of Wheeling will be the coach of the first high school football team in Garrett county. Leonard Ritchie, who tutored Southern High School's unbeaten baseball team, will be DeMoss' assistant.

The team will sport red and white uniforms and will make its debut against the West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney on the Southern High School field Saturday, Sept. 25 at 1:30 p. m.

Other contests on Oakland's four-game schedule are with the Beall High Jayvees at Frostburg and Terra Alta High and the Keyser Jayvees at home. The schedule:

Sat. Sept. 25—West Va. School for Deaf, home, 1:30.
Fri. Oct. 1—Beall Jayvees, away, 8:00
Wed. Oct. 13—Terra Alta, home, 1:00
Sat. Oct. 23—Keyser Jayvees, home, 1:30

Hout Stopped 10-5 By Andy's; Jimmie's Tops Wilson, 12-1

Andy's Liquor Store squared accounts with Hout Construction Company in the City Rec Softball League playoffs by winning yesterday to the tune of 10-5 at East Side Field.

The loss was the first of the season for Hout's which had a 16-0 record prior to yesterday's game, including an 8-7 decision in the series opener on Monday.

McGregor practically beat Hout's single-handed by pounding home six runs with three hits while Jim Miller blasted a homer and single. Dick Rank hit a three-run homer and a single to pace Hout's.

Bob Pence, City Recreation Department director, announced last night that the final game of this series has been changed from today until Friday. The site will be announced.

Jimmie's Market drew first blood in its playoff series with Wilson Hardware by taking the opener yesterday at Allegany Field, 12 to 1.

Joe Biggs and Buddy Meade headed Jimime's attack with a homer and single each. Logue limited the losers to three hits.

AT EAST SIDE:

WILSON	000	010	0	1	3	3

Schenectady Wins

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP)—Schenectady, N. Y., today hammered Lakeland, Fla., 16-0, to become the third team to win its way into the semi-final round of the Little League World Series.

Melrose Park, Ill., defeated Galveston, Tex., 6-5, and Colton, Cal., won over Hampton-Wythe, Va., 4-2, to gain berths in second day games tomorrow.

Colton meets Melrose Park tomorrow, while Schenectady, runner-up for the title last year, will meet the winner of tonight's Masontown, Pa.,-Needham, Mass., game.

Admit Red China

BERNE, Aug. 24 (INS)—The International Amateur Athletic Federation — composed of national bodies such as the American AAU —admitted Red China to membership today without opposition but rejected an East German application.

The decision paralleled action last May by the International Olympic Committee, which certified Red China for the 1956 games at Melbourne but also turned down East Germany.

Elks Defeat Outdoor, 4-3

Vern Penner Hits Two Home Runs For Losers

Vern Penner, home run king of the Rocking Chair League, socked a pair of round-trippers yesterday but they were not enough to stop the B.P.O. Elks who won the opening game of their playoff series with the pennant winning Outdoor Club at Stitcher Field. The score was 4-3.

Penner hit his first four-bagger in the fifth with the Elks leading 2-0. His second circuit belt, a terrific drive that landed on the bank in left field, came with one mate aboard in the final inning and fell one run short of knotting the score.

Bill Underdonk yielded only three hits, Penner's two homers and a single by Ted Durbin. Bill also had two of the Elks' eight hits collected off Jim Morrison and "Pooch" Orndorff smashed a triple.

Paul Roeder, Elks' outfielder, lost a fly ball in the sun and after it struck him on the neck he retrieved the pellet before it struck the ground. "Butch" Johnson, Outdoor Club fly chaser, also turned in a nice catch.

The Elks and O.D.C. clash again Thursday at 6 p. m. at Stitcher Field.

Today the Moose and Eagles opened their best-of-three series at 6 p. m. at Stitcher Field. Yesterday's score:

B. P. O. ELKS	110	001	1	4	8	1
OUTDOOR CLUB	000	010	2	3	3	2

Underdonk and Pence. Morrison and Brady.
HR—Penner (Outdoor Club) 2.

Zuverink Finds Stride At 28 With Detroit

DETROIT — It would be nice to say that George Zuverink, who seems to have found himself with the Detroit Tigers, was a high school pitching sensation. But not Zuvvy.

"I had a big fat 0-7 record when I pitched for Holland (Mich.) High," the smiling Dutchman explains. "Maybe that will be an inspiration to youngsters who are finding the going tough in high school."

Zuverink, a 28-year-old right-hander, has some positive ideas about the major leagues, and his "zinker" ball.

Ted Williams? "He doesn't bother me," says Zuverink. "He can pop out like the rest of them."

The "Zinker" ball? "I throw it half of the time. I'm not fast. So I get the batters out with a little of this, and a little of that."

Zuverink was obtained from Cincinnati on April 26. Last year he had a 13-8 record for Indianapolis, Cleveland's No. 1 farm team. Zuvvy was with Cleveland all of 1951 but until this year he had never been involved in a pitching decision in the majors.

British Champ Wins

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Sammy McCarthy, 127¼, British featherweight champion, won on a technical knockout tonight in the fifth round over Enrico Micale, 127, Italy. The referee stopped the fight to save the Italian from further punishment.

Philadelphia Wins Over Cleveland's Indians, 4-1

Johnny Gray Victor Over Mike Garcia

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24 (AP) — Jim Hegan and Bobby Avila committed throwing errors in the middle of four Philadelphia hits tonight and the seventh-place Athletics scored three big runs to upset the league-leading Indians 4-1 behind a fine pitching performance by rookie Johnny Gray.

The A's clipped big Mike (The Bear) Garcia with his seventh loss of the season against 15 wins while Gray, a lanky, hard-throwing former New York Yankee farmhand, won his second against seven losses.

The winning rally came in the third, with two out. Lou Limmer walked on a full count and Jim Finigan rapped a single to left, Limmer moving to third.

Bill Renna beat out a single in front of the plate scoring Limmer, and when Hegan threw wild over first, Finigan moved to third. Avila, backing up the play at first, retrieved Hegan's wild throw behind first and heaved it into the stands back of third, allowing Finigan to score and sending Renna to third.

The A's scored in the first on a walk to Spook Jacobs and Finigan's double to center. Jacobs' slide at home eluded a throw from Larry Doby.

Gray, who normally has trouble with his control, was nicking the corners tonight but had trouble at the outset. He threw 10 straight balls before righting himself.

Chou's Words Differ From His Actions

Replete with shark fins and soybean soup, lotus roots and bamboo shoots, Premier Chou En-lai of Red China took another sip of fiery mao-tai, then rose to toast his guests. To the visiting members of the British Labor party he spoke fair words, as a host should, words of friendship and good will.

But actions, as Emerson remarked, are also a kind of words, and it would take a lot of mao-tai to dim the light his actions throw on his words.

"International cooperation and the maintenance of world peace," said genial Chou, "have been steadfastly upheld by China in her policy." (As, for example, when she sent armies to attack U.N. forces trying to restore peace in Korea).

"We wish for mutual respect for each other's territorial integrity and sovereignty, non-aggression. . . ." (As in Korea, Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia).

". . . non-interference in internal affairs, equality and mutual benefit . . ." (As in Tibet, Thailand, Indochina, Korea).

". . . and peaceful coexistence." (As when Chinese planes and ships in the South China Sea fired upon two United States planes engaged in a publicly announced humanitarian mission; as when, just previously, Chinese warplanes shot down a British passenger plane on a regularly scheduled flight in the same area).

Behind Chou En-lai's gracious and benevolent words, it appears, were words he did not speak. And they call to mind other words, contained in a Chinese proverb so ancient their author's very name has been forgotten. This proverb, in five curt Chinese monosyllables, might be translated thus: "Can talk, but not do."

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

G.A.T.T. And Congress

It had to come that at some point a conflict would arise between an executive agreement, concerning the United States and some foreign countries, and Congress. The Bricker Amendment was designed to prevent such incidents from occurring by requiring the constitutional confirmation of all such agreements which are really treaties in disguise. It will be recalled that the Bricker Amendment failed by one vote, that of Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan who changed his mind.

What is involved is a minor commodity in international trade, namely, hardboard, or as it is often called in this country, wallboard. Congress is interested in raising the rate without considering G.A.T.T. (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) which is an omnibus agreement worked out by an international body designed to make foreign trade easier, particularly to the United States.

We are told that Canadian trade officials are upset because the House of Representatives actually passed a rise in the tariff on hardboard. The Canadians regarded such an increase as a violation of G.A.T.T. Those who favor the increase ask what is G.A.T.T. and do we have a treaty about it. Should the increase go through, this might be a case for the Supreme Court, American dealers in the Canadian product coming into our courts to raise the issue of the binding force of an executive agreement dealing with a matter that more correctly should be left to Congress, or arranged by a treaty confirmed by the Senate. Then we shall have all the arguments, pro and con, which arose over the Bricker Amendment

Hardboard is a paper product used in this country as a wall board. The Swedes and Canadians do a good business in this product in the United States. It is one of Canada's numerous paper products which maintain the Canadian economy, largely by being sold in the United States at a high price.

To accommodate Canada but with little regard for the fact, hardboard comes into the United States as wood, which it is not, and not as paper which it is. As wood, hardboard is dutiable at the rate of 7½ to 15 per cent ad valorem; as paper, it would be dutiable at a straight 16⅔ per cent. The Canadians, being good business men, have taken advantage of the concession made at the G.A.T.T. conference. The G.A.T.T. agreements are based on the 1934 Trade Agreements Act which has been renewed for another year.

Now along comes James B. Utt, a congressman from California, who puts through a bill in the House of Representatives reclassifying hardboard from wood to paper. In other words, Utt's bill tells the truth about a commodity which, for some diplomatic reason, the United States enters into a collusion with Sweden and Canada to classify incorrectly. The Utt bill passed the House by a vote of 235 to 109, which in this almost evenly divided House is a good majority. The Canadians are sore because the American product would then be priced more competitively.

The Europeans, as well as the Canadians, are puzzled by a situation which they do not understand. They witnessed the Randall Commission travel all over Europe and they read the Randall report. No matter how one slices this document, it comes out as a free trade proposal. They read the speech of so prominent a business man as Henry Ford II, who advocates free trade. Then they discover that Congress ignores these great men and goes its own way. They do not understand our congressional system which is different from their parliamentary system. They also do not understand that Americans do not take their great men very seriously.

So, they believe that they are about to get free trade and they will have here a ready market for their goods and they see the President raise the duty on Swiss watches; they note that the Utt bill has passed the House; they note the excitement over British bicycles and they wonder who has the authority to speak for whom in this country.

Congress, of course, has the constitutional authority and, no treaty interventing Congress will do as it chooses. That is one reason why the Bricker Amendment would have been a sound method of preventing misunderstanding—every such arrangement would have had to be confirmed by the Senate after an open hearing before a congressional committee at which interested Americans would have a voice.

Inside Track At The '54 Political Picnic

Korean Armistice Agreement Comes In For Criticism

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Everybody is apparently to be asked to rejoice during the coming political campaign over the "achievement" claimed by the Republican administration—that it stopped the war in Korea.

Yet the same administration, through its Department of Defense, is conceding that the armistice agreement which terminated the fighting and pledged the return of all prisoners wasn't worth the paper it was written on.

An announcement by the Department of Defense reveals that at least 526 Americans still have not been accounted for by the Chinese Communists and that specifically 15 American fliers—who are admitted to be alive—are being held by the Peiping government as hostages in a form of blackmail unprecedented in world history.

A Defense Department official is given in a United Press dispatch as authority for the statement that the Chinese Reds have been holding the 15 U. S. Air Force fliers as "political prisoners." The dispatch says:

Used For Bargaining

"The (Defense Department) official disclosed that negotiations have been conducted through 'third parties' during the past year for the release of the airmen and other Americans being held by the Reds. He said the Communist position, in effect, has been: 'Admit us to the United Nations and we will release your men'."

It is revealed also by the Defense Department that during the recent conference at Geneva, Switzerland, the fact that the 15 airmen were being held as "political prisoners" was admitted by the Reds. This was also verified by returned prisoners of war who report that the Communists said the servicemen will be held "for use as one of the bargaining points to secure Chinese admission to the United Nations."

Under the circumstances, how can the Republican orators go up and down the country boasting about the Korean armistice when the Republican administration itself has failed to assert American rights in the face of the flagrant violations of the armistice agreement by the Communists?

Another pertinent question that will be asked is how the United States Government can continue to consent, as it is doing now, to the relaxation of trade restrictions between the Allies and Red China. The Red Chinese director of trade with Western countries, Lu Shu Chang, was recently quoted by British reporters accompanying Messrs. Attlee and Bevan of the British Parliament on their visit to Peiping as having said:

"We feel that West Germany, Belgium, France and others seem to be more interested in business with China than is Britain. We have imported steel, other metals, machinery and heavy equipment from them. But many British shipping companies have provided the shipping services to bring these goods to china."

Laborites Toast Reds

This astounding revelation has brought forth from the British Ministry of Transport in London the statement, as reported by the United Press, that "no British ships had carried strategic cargoes to Red China at least since March 1953, when strict new controls were put into effect."

But the Korean War lasted from June 1950 to the summer of 1953, so now it appears that for nearly three years of the Korean War British ships were carrying strategic goods to Red China. This is a tragic climax to the many denials and counterdenials which have been issued ever since Senator McCarthy, Republican, of Wisconsin, made his charges that British shipping had been carrying strategic goods to Red China.

It was on November 24, 1953, that the Wisconsin senator, in a nation-wide television broadcast, answering former President Truman's speech on "McCarthyism," aroused the hostility of many Republicans because he criticized the Republican administration, too, for failing to deal sternly with the Communists. He called attention to the fact that the Red Chinese were still holding American boys as prisoners despite their promise to release them when the armistice was signed. He urged that American billions be withheld from Allies who traded with the Reds. Those two points — about the prisoners and trade with Red China—were the principal charges he made in his speech but from that day on he incurred the wrath of the Eisenhower regime, and some of the advisers at the White House began at that time to lay the lines for the many moves that have come since to punish Senator McCarthy for his criticism of the administration.

But what is even more embarrassing to report now is that Messrs. Attlee and Bevan and a delegation from the British Labor party have been hobnobbing with the high officials of the Red China and the Soviet governments — toasting them and praising them. Coincidentally, the mothers and fathers of American boys held as prisoners as well as the parents of the 33,000 American boys killed and the 110,000 wounded are left to wonder whether the British government has any feeling of sympathy for them. For it does look as if the British legislators have forgotten all about the Americans who thought an agreement to return all prisoners meant what it said. It's going to be hard to persuade the American Congress to keep troops in Europe in the future if America's allies continue their indifference to sacrifices already made in the idealistic cause of collective security.

Baering Down On The News

Philatelists' catalogue for summer of 1954 includes anniversary of United Nations trying to put brakes on Ripley's marching Chinese.

This stamp is a sticky job with mucilage on both sides. It is in red and yellow.

The Suez special commemorates Winnie Churchill swimming the canal the long way. Churchill has a wreath of seaweed in his hair and is bearing Neptune's trident microphone. The inscription reads, "Portiferous noddo tattistrat" or "An honest Arab does not steal sand."

The Pierre Mendes-France cachet with perforated parallels and invisible boundaries is ready in sheets of 100 stamps. It depicts Napoleon and Foch in the Invalides revolving like rotisserie chickens.

The Dulles decalcomania is in the portfolio classification and shows the air-cooled diplomat shooting the Nile rapids on Cleo's barge. His Egyptian title is King Tutt-Tutt.

Collectors are eager for the Senate-McCarthy stamp of a witch hunt out-of-season. The broom escadrille is flying chimney-wise. A misprint indicates Salem is the national capital. This stamp is a must among collectors of anything over five per cent.

The honeymoon stamp shows the 185,000-ton rock fall at Niagara. It is autographed by Rubirosa.

Sitting Up Sometimes Advocated After Heart Attack

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Four to six weeks in bed is the customary treatment for coronary thrombosis. Oxygen and pain relieving drugs are administered during the height of the heart attack, and rest and relaxation are encouraged through various means. This plan offers the best results because the blood is not being diverted from the heart muscle by mental and physical exertion.

But the armchair treatment is an alternative method that came into vogue a few years ago. In a recent study, Dr. Samuel A. Levine and colleagues of Boston reported results equal to if not better than those obtained with complete bed rest.

In this new plan, 24 to 48 hours after acute pain subsides, the victime of coronary thrombosis is helped out of bed toward a chair. When he becomes tired, he is helped back into bed.

The majority who were permitted to sit up felt better immediately and morale improved. But sitting in a chair does not mean roaming about the room or hall; the patient must remain as quiet in the chair as he would in bed. The only drawback to this therapy is the old idea many people have that anyone well enough to sit in a chair is not very sick.

Was the scar that formed in the heart muscle (the healing process) as strong after the armchair treatment as after the more conventional bed rest? Extensive studies showed no evidence to the contrary.

Forty-two persons who had undergone the armchair regimen were examined by the Boston physicians 15 to 28 months after the heart attack. Only two had encountered recurrences of symptoms; 18 had returned to their usual work; 13 had taken part time jobs; seven were unable or unwilling to work; and four had retired.

In addition, the medical men studied the effect on pulse, respiration, and blood pressure in 13 of this series. Moving from bed to chair and vice versa brought no change except for a slight lowering of blood pressure. This indicated that the load on the heart was not increased by the minor exertion involved. Meanwhile, the usual medications were continued and complete rest along this line was carried on for three to six weeks before additional activity was permitted.

More and more physicians during the past decade have been converted to the back-to- work movement for their coronary patients. These individuals no longer are advised to retire or vegetate in a mild climate. Returning to the old job is a morale builder by making the man realize he is not through. This is logical because, after the heart muscues heals, there is no reason why work cannot be resumed.

TOMORROW: Low thyroid activity.

INJURED KIDNEY

W. C. writes: A 17-year-old boy had a gym accident and blood appeared in his urine. The doctor said he suffered consussion of one kidney. Will he recover completely or will the affected kidney always remain weak?

REPLY

Complete healing may be expected. This young man is lucky because bleeding stopped spontaneously. In more serious accidents, it is necessary to remove the involved kidney.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A famous film beauty was sunbathing at her secluded pool, attired in practically nothing, when a brash photographer invaded the premises, snapped her picture, and made for the exit on the double. The star was after him in no time flat. "I'll teach you to play a dirty trick like that!" she screamed. "You shot the wrong profile!"

During one of Wall Streets spells of extreme dullness, the senior partner in a brokerage house came down with a virus infection, and was confined to his bed. His associates began phoning him early the next morning, and kept it up at 15-minute intervals, asking solicitously, "How are you doing, old man? Fever abating?" Finally the senior partner rebelled. "See here," he bellowed, "I'm not as sick as you boys seem to imagine. What's the idea of botherin_ me every quarter of an hour?" "Well," admitted the caller, "the tape is moving so slowly down here, the customers have taken to betting on the fluctuations in your temperature."

More Playing Fields Will Help Effort To Stem Tide of Juvenile Delinquency

By Mrs. Babe Ruth

While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being Mrs. Babe Ruth, widow of the beloved "King of Swat."

WASHINGTON — The Babe was at my side the other day. I went to Washington for the Babe Ruth League world series—teams of kids 13 to 15 from every part of the country — and when they weren't playing baseball, they were looking in on their congressmen and senators and visiting the shrines of our magnificent capital. They were growing up.

Wherever we went, I felt the Babe was looking over my shoulder and listening in. Kids were his dish. We dropped in on Senator Robert Hendrickson, chairman of the Subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency. There's nothing phony about the senator's interest in the subject. He's a grandfather 11 times and he should know about children's problems.

He also knows there's no special cure-all for juvenile delinquency. He idolized the Babe and knew his background. Baseball helped my husband as it is helping thousands of kids in organized baseball programs today—kids who are restless and burning up with unspent energy.

We visited Senator Hennings of the same committee. "The Babe came of a broken home," he said, "but it didn't break him. How the Babe would hit 'em in Sportsmans Park, St. Louis! That must have been his favorite ball park." The senator gave a most inspiring talk to the group of youngsters from Joplin, Mo. I am sure they will remember the sage remarks as long as they live. Senator Hennings was a track star at Cornell—Senator Hendrickson played high school baseball, and Senator Kefauver played both baseball and football.

There were kids from Jackson, Tenn., and they were greeted by Senator Kefauver, also of the committee.

"I'm sure the Babe got his thrills, even while he was under 16, on the ball field instead of on dimly lit street corners," Kefauver told them. "You don't get into trouble on the ball field."

Senator William Langer of the Juvenile Delinquency Committee told me there is a higher rate increase in rural areas today then in our cities. This will surprise many as it did me.

One thing stands out in my mind with the Juvenile Delinquency Committee senators. They are trying to reverse a disgraceful national trend. By 1960, unless that trend is reversed, 1,600,000 youngsters each year will be in trouble with the law. America cannot afford to lose the good citizenship of these boys.

The Babe Had Tough Start

I wonder how many kids in America today know anything more about Babe Ruth than that he symbolized the home run?

The Babe meant much more than that to an older generation in his glory years—a big, good-natured orphan who learned to play ball at St. Mary's Industrial School in Baltimore.

What he stood for then, in what we have come to know as the golden age, was a blessed land of opportunity. Baseball made the Babe, and the Babe in turn made baseball.

Like so many kids out of broken homes, the Babe might have got into trouble, real trouble, but for the guidance and understanding of the brothers of St. Mary's. He owed much to Brother Mattias, and to the Brothers Paul, Albert, and Gilbert.

They taught him the moral values; they gave him religious training. They encouraged him to play ball in his free hours. He was not a good student, but he learned to distinguish between the good and the bad, and by the time he was 19 he was ready to make his way in professional baseball.

I don't know how old the Babe was when he set his mind in the right direction, but I'd guess it was under 16. That's why I'm so happy to have the Babe's name perpetuated by the Babe Ruth League, sponsored by the Coca-Cola Company, for those vital years of adolescent development. They get to play ball in an organized way; they get good coaching, and most of all they don't ever get to feel they're unwanted.

These were the elements the Babe remembered of his years at St. Mary's. He would tell me of the kids he had left behind. He often went back there, but most of those kids were no longer there. Still, he felt better for it.

Popular With Kids

The Babe's upbringing made him act so natural when he was around kids, they just happened to like him as he liked them. It wasn't just a case of putting his autograph to a scrap of paper or a scorecard or a baseball. He felt cleaner after a time with the kids. He never forgot he was once one of them.

The Babe told me a story of a little miracle in Tampa, Fla. The Yankees had played an exhibition that afternoon, and they were jogging to their bus behind the right field stands. A car was parked nearby, and seated in the front seat was a hunched-up kid with an adult beside him. The Babe glanced at the wasted kid, and he waved and yelled, "Hi-ya, kid!" Then he thought no more of it, but the greeting had a remarkable effect on the boy. He stood up and called something back.

Other Yankees and sports writer Fred Lieb followed in the Babe's path and they noticed the boy's father shedding a tear. The man was overwhelmed. He kept saying over and over, "My boy stood up, he stood up. It's the first time in two years. My boy stood up."

There was something inspiring about the Babe, and yet the problem of delinquency could easily have overwhelmed him if he hadn't been steered right. I think too much stress — too many headlines — on the destructive side have hurt the kids. Certainly the scare headlines had to be used. Communities had to be made aware of the problem. But now I say, let's bury those headlines. In one way they multiply the problem, make phony heroes of more kids. Let's tell them of the good the kids do. And let's keep them on the ball field where they won't get into trouble.

Though there is no one cure for juvenile delinquency, the more playing fields we have, the fewer delinquents we'll have, I'm sure.

On Averting Delinquency

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK (INS) — More, and still more, suggestions on what to do about a seemingly major breakdown in the respect our juveniles once held for law and order:

San Diego, Calif. — "Bring back the C.C.C. and put these jobless boys to work. I lost my only brother in Korea. He left three boys who are going to be better citizens because their father got his start in life among good men in a C.C.C. camp," Mrs. G. B. Phelps.

Memphis, Tenn. — "Our youth is running all over in tight jeans, sloppy shirts, dirty shoes. I believe when a girl is dressed as a lady she acts like a lady. Do the teen age blue jeaners look attractive or act ladylike? Will parents ever wake up? Will schools? This dreadful attire should not be allowed in any school," Mrs. Egan V. Lohberg.

Denver, Colo. — "Mister, you reform the parents first, and let them reform their kids. They are the only ones who can stop delinquency," R. M. Povondra.

Los Angeles, Calif. — "Shaving the heads of young hoodlums is no solution. What will happen is that instead of being ashamed of themselves they might even consider it a mark of toughness, like being knighted by the police. Or if not, there will be a booming business in wigs with crew cuts and duck tails. . . Juvenile delinquency is one of the results of the uneasy times in which we live; another manifestation of the 'what does it matter, we'll all probably be dead tomorrow' feeling," Albert R. Wechsler.

Trenton, N. J. — "Build more schools and fewer jails. . ." Fred J. Schweder.

Louisville, Ky. — "Religion in the home will always be a deterrent against youngsters breaking the civil laws. If they know and love God they will respect their fellow men," A.C.H.

Longwoods, Md. — "I taught rural school for many years and saw all kinds of children. As for the bad ones, I always pitied them. I believe the parents of the offender should be dealt with by the law as well as the offender," C. S. Collier.

Philadelphia, Pa. — "How can we expect our children, who spend a great deal of their time in school, to live by the golden rule when our teachers are forbidden by a Supreme Court ruling to teach them about its author — God?" Bob Welsch.

Cincinnati, O. — "Teen agers are going to get worse and worse until we have a national curfew law, higher age limit on driving a car, and a law where parents are held responsible for the acts of their teen age kids. The Cincinnati council tried to pass a curfew law here recently and a bunch of high school kids scared them out of it. When we let the kids take over, who is to blame?" R. J. Hilton.

Fort Worth, Tex. — "Why don't you get after the things that are really responsible? Most of the TV programs are crammed with murder, mystery and shooting. The same on radio. And what about the comic strips in our daily papers? . . . Youths will come out all right if the right things are put before them. Don't blame it on the schools and the parents entirely," Blanche B. Llewellyn.

Detroit, Mich. — "The average citizen's son never gets into any serious trouble. He goes to high school and at the age of 18 or so gets drafted into the army. But when a young hoodlum with a police record reaches 18, Uncle Sam says nix. My simple solution is this: When an 18-year-old comes before a judge for sentence, put him in the Army immediately. The Army is a vast organization which can easily obsorb these delinquents and discipline them, too."

Next solution!

Giants Stretch Winning Streak To Seven Games

Gomez Beats Cubs 5-1, Mays Leads Attack

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (AP) — Willie Mays walloped two triples and a double in a barrage of extra base hits by the front-running New York Giants today that eased them to a 5-1 victory over the feeble Chicago Cubs and stretched their winning streak through seven games.

The Giants pecked away at lefty Paul Minner for 11 blows, six of them for extra bases, to hand the Chicago ace his ninth loss against 10 triumphs.

Meanwhile, Rube Gomez coasted to his 12th decision, yielding his only run in the first inning and limiting the Cubs to a scattering of five singles and a wasted double by Joe Garagiola.

The unflagging Mays belted a double and pair of triples in his first three turns, accounting for two runs. Don Mueller also tripled and Monte Irvin and Bob Hofman contributed doubles.

Righthander Gomez, who has lost eight games, struck out five today, walked only two and never was in serious trouble after Ernie Banks singled home the only Cub run in the first.

Nine Survive Junior Tennis Tourney Here

Five Boys, Four Girls Remain In Running

Nine players remain in the running for titles in the City Recreation Junior Tennis Tournament. Survivors include five boys and four girls out of an original entry list of 41 players.

Two Dingle girls and two from the Gephart courts play the semi-finals of the girls' division.

Helen Wanless and Sally McGreevy of the Dingle meet in the upper division today.

Jean Eichner and Barbara Balaban from the Gephart playground play each other in the lower division semi-final.

The winner of each of these matches meet for the City Junior Championship.

All five of the boys remaining in the tournament are from the Gephart courts.

Jerry McGreevy plays Bill Schutte; Vern Kenney meets the winner. In the lower division Ray Vernall tackles R. Love.

Results of yesterday's matches:

Helen Wanless defeated Sharon Growden, 8-6, 6-2.

Sally McGreevy won over Barbara Largent, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3.

Jean Eichner eliminated Lucille Wanless, 9-7, 6-2.

Barbara Balaban defeated Sara Murphy, 6-2, 6-0.

Jerry McGreevy bested Perry Shelton, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3.

Verna Kenney won over Doug. Sullivan, 6-2, 6-4.

Ray Vernall defeated Jimmy Twigg, 9-7, 6-3.

In the girls' doubles Brenda Johnson and Carol Dunlap defeated Vera MacKenzie and Blanche Brinker, 6-3, 6-4.

Matches in doubles and singles will continue today on the Fort Hill courts.

Parsons Grid Squad Includes Ten Lettermen

39 Players Report; Open At UHS Sept. 11

PARSONS, W. Va., Aug 24—Thirty-nine, including eight first stringers from last year, reported for football practice at Parsons High School, according to C. Robert Sullivan, Panthers' coach.

The list includes ten lettermen. Graduation took four lettermen, namely, Delton Mullennax, Jerry Newman, Willis Fansler and Glen Poling.

Name Co-Captains

Also returning from last year's squad are Robert Lewis, Dale Nestor, Robert Schoonover, James Kochenderfer, George Donalds and Clifford Phillips. Newcomers will be Dennis Flanagan, Joseph Bava, Roger Smith, Charles Loughry, Hampton Sherman, Clark Auvil, Allen Schilansky, Bill Hanlin, Robert and Bill Sturms, Howard Pyles, Thomas Warner, Robert Sobczak, Dale Schrecongast, Ross and Phil Simmons, Fred Champ, Paul McCrum, Carl Sherman, James Barr, Donald Black and Roy Rhoades.

The team will be playing in new Kramerton army cloth uniforms with purple jerseys and gold pants. The uniforms were presented to the team by the All Letter club auxiliary of Parsons.

Lights Are Installed

Practice is being held at the Parsons Park at the present time and it will be used as much as possible so that the new sod will be better at the athletic field. The work of lighting the field and improving the gridiron will be completed in time for the first home game. Most of the work has been done by volunteer labor. The Parsons High School Lighting Association has ordered three new sets of steel bleachers according to their president, W. Del Roy Harner. The new sets will be used along with an extra set of steel bleachers purchased by the Board of Education and now used in the gymnasium for basketball games. The new steel bleachers will have wooden seats with the lumber donated to the school by local lumbermen. The extra bleachers will assure seating capacity for 250 additional fans and will be placed on the high school building side of the field. The ground improvement and lighting of the field has cost $10,500.

Games will be played at night with the exception of those at Belington and Elkins.

Open At Morgantown

The Panthers kick off the lid with University High at Morgantown on Saturday, September 11.

Other opponents on the 8-game schedule are:

Sept. 17—Keyser, home.
Sept. 24—Kingwood, home.
Oct. 1—Belington, away
Oct. 8—LaSalle at Cumberland.
Oct. 15—Doddridge High (West Union), home.
Oct. 29—Thomas, home.
Nov. 11—Elkins, away.
Open dates are Oct. 22 and November 5.

Patton Moves To 3rd Round, Beats Holland

Larson Whips Foutche, Bill Campbell Wins, 64 Players Survive

By WILL GRIMSLEY

DETROIT, Aug. 24 (AP) — Billy Joe Patton, the irrepressible Houdini of the fairways, turned from scrambler to sharpshooter today and led an imposing group of Uncle Sam's international stars into the third round of the U. S. Amateur Golf Championship.

Never taking a bogey and playing near perfect golf after the third hole, the bespectacled lumberman from Morganton, N. C., cut down young Tim Holland of Rockville Centre, N. Y., 4 and 3. Holland was the first round conqueror of former champion Sam Urzetta.

Ward Plays Stranahan

His victory overshadowed the advance of Walker and America's cup veterans which set up a third round duel tomorrow between two of the best of them—Harvie Ward Jr., and Frank Stranahan.

Beating a short, snap thunderstorm, Ward, 28-year-old San Franciscan, whipped little Jim Vickers of Wichita, Kan., former college champion, 2 and 1, while Stranahan, Toledo heir to sparkplug millions, finished with a trio of threes to oust Ray Watson of Kansas City, 1 up.

These two, holders of a gaudy collection of international championships but neither a winner of this one, clash at 8:12 a.m. (EST) tomorrow over the ritzy Country Club of Detroit. The match features a double round of eliminations cutting the field from its present 64 to 16.

Campbell, Cherry Win

Others to advance included Bill Campbell of Huntington, West Va., runnerup this year in both the British and Canadian amateur events; crooner Don Cherry, former Canadian king, and Jim Jackson, a member of the 1953 Walker Cup squad.

Billy Joe departed from his famous script, disappointing a gallery of 2,000 who endured sporadic light showers just to see him recover from impossible situations with that lightning swing and devil-may-care attitude.

The North Carolinian lost only one hole—the first where Holland rolled in a 20-footer for a birdie three. He had two birdies—on the third, where he pulled off a fantastically difficult birdie four, and on the ninth, where he sank a 25-footer.

Campbell had to go overtime to subdue John Coyle of Springfield, Ill., 1 up on the 19th hole where he won with a five-foot birdie putt. Cherry, of Whicita Falls, Tex., ousted John Cree of Buffalo, N. Y., Jackson of St. Louis, threw a subpar round at Ben Hartig of Norbeck, Md., and won, 6 and 4, not losing a hole.

Par figures for the 6,875-yard Country Club course is 35-35—70.

Dick Foutche of Charleston, W. Va., conqueror of 1946 champion Ted Bishop yesterday, lost out on the 19th hole to Earl Larson of Minneapolis after winning the 16th, 17th and 18th to send the match into overtime.

Randolph Is Victor

Other results included:

Ed Tutwiler Jr. Charleston, W. Va., defeated John Ward, Clay, N. Y., 20th hole.

Jennings Randolph Jr., Bethesda, Md., defeated William Hyndman III, Abington, Pa., 1 up.

Ed Gonsky, Wilkes Barre, Pa., defeated David Clovis, Parkersburg, W. Va., 1 up.

Mans Suspended By Ring Solons

Freddie's Right Eye Is Completely Blind

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24 (AP)—Middleweight Fred Mans, who admits he's been fighting with a completely blind right eye for over a year, today was suspended indefinitely by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission.

John D. Holahan, the commission's Western Pennsylvania representative, ordered the suspension of the 24-year-old fighter—winner of 18 of 21 professional fights—after receiving a report from an eye specialist.

The eye damage is "not repairable," Dr. Murray F. McCaslin, said.

Holahan said he and the commission physician, Dr. J. J. Grant, suspected something was wrong with Mans' right eye before his Aug. 10 fight with Billy Tisdale of Detroit but didn't think it was "serious."

Mans lost the Aug. 10 fight to Tisdale.

Fight At Garden

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Moses Ward of Detroit and Tuzo (Kid) Portuguez, free-swinging middleweights, clash tomorrow night in a television ten rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Ward, a hastily recruited substitute for ailing Holly Mims, is a 1-2 favorite to outclub the burly Costa Rican champion. Mims, claiming a stomach ailment, bowed out of his scheduled scrap with Portuguez yesterday.

CBS will telecast the ten rounder starting at 9 p.m., EST.

Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (INS) — The tubs have been thumping furiously of late for Willie Mays, the Giants' sensational young outfielder.

And don't be surprised if the Giants win the pennant, as now appears likely, that Willie doesn't get the most valuable player award.

One MVP vote he don't get will be ours. And he don't get it because there still is a man named Stan Musial playing the game in his usual deadly efficient manner.

It's true Stan doesn't run from under his hat chasing a fly ball nor circling the bases, a la Mays. Nor does he misjudge fly balls or over run them or throw to the wrong base—again a la Mays.

Stan simply goes ahead playing the game as it always is played by the greatest player in the game.

Duke Snider, the Dodgers' truly brilliant outfielder, has been leading both majors in hitting most of the season. But had you noticed that when the dust settled on the ball fields Sunday night, Stan Musial had climbed up just one point behind Snider?

And don't risk the family plate betting that Musial won't be found on top for the seventh year when the season ends.

We also note that the wonderful Cardinal star is leading both leagues with 111 runs bated in. We also note that he is leading the National in runs scored with 102 to his credit.

It will be nothing new for Musial to lead in scoring runs for he has done it four times, and in 10 different years he scored more than 100 runs.

He also has led the league six times with most hits and as of Sunday night he had 162, putting him one behind Don Mueller and five behind his teammate Wally Moon.

Nor is that all. He has led the league seven years in hitting doubles and five times in banging triples. And right now he needs only two or three more to reach 500 in doubles for his career.

And how many do you suppose have hit 500 doubles in the history of major league baseball? Just 15.

You don't associate Musial with home runs and yet he stands twelfth on the all-time list for both leagues and could reach the 300 mark before the season ends. He now has 289.

By the way, here are the leaders: Babe Ruth 714, Jimmy Foxx 534, Mel Ott 511, Lou Gehrig 493, Ted Williams 382 (as of today), Johnny Mize 359, Ralph Kiner 367, Hank Greenberg 331, Al Simmons 307, Rajah Hornsby 302 and Chuck Klein 300.

We enjoy seeing Willie May play ball but we enjoy watching that old master, Stan Musial, even more. It's the difference between watching a billboard artist and a Rembrandt at work.

As for the most valuable player award, could we pick anbody but Musial? If you know of a better player, let's hear from you.

Game Today
Cumberland at Romney (5:00 EST)

Centerville nosed out the Frostburg Demons in an important All-States Baseball Association game yesterday at Centerville, Pa., enabling Cumberland's Old Germans to tie Frostburg in the hot battle for the fourth place playoff spot. The score was 3-2.

The win, fourth in a row, gave Centerville sole possession of second place. Cumberland and Frostburg now are tied for 4th place with 10-13 records. The Old Germans could move ahead a half game if they defeat the Rockets in a game today at 5 p. m. in Romney. The league season ends on Saturday.

Centerville won yesterday's game in the 9th inning to give Glenn Deremer the verdict over Lynn Kitzmiller in a pitching duel. The win was the 8th of the campaign for Deremer against two losses. The Centerville twirler struck out eight.

Dave Rose was safe on an error to open the ninth. Veryle Nave laid down a bunt and beat it out. Johnny Growden advanced both runners with a sacrifice and Homer Rose squeezed over Dave Rose with the deciding tally.

Two Centerville runners were thown out at the plate before the Reds tied the score in the 6th. Homer Rose tripled and was cut down at home when he tried to go all the way. Trout singled and Dwight Rose doubled. Trout was thrown out at home on Welsh's fielder's choice but Manager Glentis Streett delivered the hit that sent Dwight Rose home with the tying marker.

Frostburg got one run on an error and the other on Shuck's triple and Langan's single. Langan had two hits for the Demons, including a double. Veryle Nave slammed a triple and two singles, John Growden belted a 3-bagger and single and Homer Rose had a triple for the winners.

Score:

Eagles Have Proof Pollard Signed Pact

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24 — (INS)—The Philadelphia Eagles dispatched a photostat copy of Al Pollard's contract to Vancouver, B. C. today after the British Columbia Lions promised to "chase him out of camp" if the Eagles can show he was under contract when he "jumped" to the Canadian League.

Vince McNally, general manager of the Eagles, had wired both Pollard and the Lions of the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union to advise that the Eagles expected Pollard to honor his contract and warn of impending legal action.

The 26-year-old ex-Loyola (L.A.) and West Point star, who had signed to play his fourth season with the Eagles, "jumped" unexpectedly to Vancouver, B. C.

Central Lunch Evens Series

Phillips Is Hit Hard, Decker Winner, 10-4

Central Quick Lunch's swatsmiths found the range yesterday and belted Hayden Phillips, the County Softball League's leading winning pitcher, for 14 hits and a 10-4 decision over the Potomac Valley Cubs in the second game of the circuit's final playoff series at Corriganville.

The victory enabled Central to tie up the series at one-all. The grand finale is scheduled for Friday at 6:15 at Triple Lakes.

Bob Keyser and Gene Basilio sparked the Lunchers by getting three hits each. Keyser had a double and two singles, Basilio had three one-base knocks and Frank Scarpelli obtained a two-bagger and single. Joe Wolfe and Ronnie Cage also smacked doubles.

Moreland banged a homer and single and Hanna rapped a double to account for three of the seven hits yielded by Ed Decker who went the route for Central.

Score:

LaVale, Hyndman Cop Little Loop Playoff Openers

LaVale's Maroons edged Barrelville, 5-4, and Hyndman defeated Ellerslie's pennant winners, 12-8, as the Pen-Mar Little League playoffs got under way yesterday.

Ted Femi gained a decision over Leroy Morris in the contest at LaVale. Femi yielded six hits and whiffed seven while Morris was nicked for seven safeties and he fanned 11.

Scaletta banged a homer and single, Femi blasted a pair of triples and Steve Holler obtained a triple and single for the Maroons. A. Crowe garnered two singles and Emerick rapped a triple for Barrelville.

Bill Wanless featured afield with a nice stop of a hot grounder at third base.

Twenty-one hits were racked up by the teams in the game at Ellerslie. Browning, Bittner and Minnick had two hits each for Hyndman while Don Lowery larruped a triple, double and single and Royce Waltman pounded three singles to pace the losers.

Second games of these series are set for Thursday at Barrelville and Hyndman at 6 p. m. Scores:

Southern High Gridders Will Report Monday

60 Boys Sign To Play; Four Games Arranged

Candidates for Southern High School's football team will report at the high school gymnasium in Oakland Monday, August 30 at 9 a. m., according to announcement by Kyle Wilson, director of athletics at the Garrett County school.

Sixty boys have signed up to play and have obtained the consent of their parents. These and others interested are invited to report on the first day. Boys are asked to bring shorts for the initial practice session.

James DeMoss of Wheeling will be the coach of the first high school football team in Garrett county. Leonard Ritchie, who tutored Southern High School's unbeaten baseball team, will be DeMoss' assistant.

The team will sport red and white uniforms and will make its debut against the West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney on the Southern High School field Saturday, Sept. 25 at 1:30 p. m.

Other contests on Oakland's four-game schedule are with the Beall High Jayvees at Frostburg and Terra Alta High and the Keyser Jayvees at home. The schedule:

Sat. Sept. 25—West Va. School for Deaf, home, 1:30.
Fri. Oct. 1—Beall Jayvees, away, 8:00
Wed. Oct. 13—Terra Alta, home, 1:00
Sat. Oct. 23—Keyser Jayvees, home, 1:30

Hout Stopped 10-5 By Andy's; Jimmie's Tops Wilson, 12-1

Andy's Liquor Store squared accounts with Hout Construction Company in the City Rec Softball League playoffs by winning yesterday to the tune of 10-5 at East Side Field.

The loss was the first of the season for Hout's which had a 16-0 record prior to yesterday's game, including an 8-7 decision in the series opener on Monday.

McGregor practically beat Hout's single-handed by pounding home six runs with three hits while Jim Miller blasted a homer and single. Dick Rank hit a three-run homer and a single to pace Hout's.

Bob Pence, City Recreation Department director, announced last night that the final game of this series has been changed from today until Friday. The site will be announced.

Jimmie's Market drew first blood in its playoff series with Wilson Hardware by taking the opener yesterday at Allegany Field, 12 to 1.

Joe Biggs and Buddy Meade headed Jimime's attack with a homer and single each. Logue limited the losers to three hits.

The second game of this series is carded today at 6:15 at Allegany Field. Yesterday's scores:

Schenectady Wins

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 24 (AP)—Schenectady, N. Y., today hammered Lakeland, Fla., 16-0, to become the third team to win its way into the semi-final round of the Little League World Series.

Melrose Park, Ill., defeated Galveston, Tex., 6-5, and Colton, Cal., won over Hampton-Wythe, Va., 4-2, to gain berths in second day games tomorrow.

Colton meets Melrose Park tomorrow, while Schenectady, runner-up for the title last year, will meet the winner of tonight's Masontown, Pa.,-Needham, Mass., game.

Admit Red China

BERNE, Aug. 24 (INS)—The International Amateur Athletic Federation — composed of national bodies such as the American AAU —admitted Red China to membership today without opposition but rejected an East German application.

The decision paralleled action last May by the International Olympic Committee, which certified Red China for the 1956 games at Melbourne but also turned down East Germany.

Elks Defeat Outdoor, 4-3

Vern Penner Hits Two Home Runs For Losers

Vern Penner, home run king of the Rocking Chair League, socked a pair of round-trippers yesterday but they were not enough to stop the B.P.O. Elks who won the opening game of their playoff series with the pennant winning Outdoor Club at Stitcher Field. The score was 4-3.

Penner hit his first four-bagger in the fifth with the Elks leading 2-0. His second circuit belt, a terrific drive that landed on the bank in left field, came with one mate aboard in the final inning and fell one run short of knotting the score.

Bill Underdonk yielded only three hits, Penner's two homers and a single by Ted Durbin. Bill also had two of the Elks' eight hits collected off Jim Morrison and "Pooch" Orndorff smashed a triple.

Paul Roeder, Elks' outfielder, lost a fly ball in the sun and after it struck him on the neck he retrieved the pellet before it struck the ground. "Butch" Johnson, Outdoor Club fly chaser, also turned in a nice catch.

The Elks and O.D.C. clash again Thursday at 6 p. m. at Stitcher Field.

Yankees Send Stuart To Kansas City Club

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (INS)—Marlin Stuart, who pitched for Detroit, the St. Louis Browns, Baltimore and the New York Yankees, was sold to Kansas City by the Yanks today and might be pardoned for asking:

"What do you have to do to sitck in the major leagues?"

Stuart, obtained in a mid-season trade with the Orioles had a 3-0 record in ten Yankee relief appearances and a 4-2 overall record for the season.

Maine is named from an ancient province of France of the same name.

Persons desiring to enter dogs in this show must have their entries in by noon on Monday, August 30. Entries must be forwarded to the Foley Dog Show Organization, 2009 Ranstead Street, Philadelphia (3), Pa.

Application blanks may be obtained at Carolan's Restaurant, 249 North Centre Street or the Wilson Hardware Company, North Mechanic street.

Circuit Wallops Win For Wiley Ford, 7-2

Circuit wallops by Ross and Long acounted for five runs in the fourth inning and gave Wiley Ford a 7-2 victory over Fort Ashby yesterday in the opening game of their Mineral County Softball League playoff series.

After Ross belted a round-tripper with three aboard, Long also belted a four-bagger.

Silvious accounted for two of Fort Ashby's seven hits.

Fort Ashby and Wiley Ford play the second game of their series Thursday at 6 p. m. at Fort Ashby. Score:

FORT ASHBY	000	000	2	2	7	0

HR—Ross, C. Long (Wiley Ford).

Zuverink Finds Stride At 28 With Detroit

DETROIT — It would be nice to say that George Zuverink, who seems to have found himself with the Detroit Tigers, was a high school pitching sensation. But not Zuvvy.

"I had a big fat 0-7 record when I pitched for Holland (Mich.) High," the smiling Dutchman explains. "Maybe that will be an inspiration to youngsters who are finding the going tough in high school."

Zuverink, a 28-year-old right-hander, has some positive ideas about the major leagues, and his "zinker" ball.

Ted Williams? "He doesn't bother me," says Zuverink. "He can pop out like the rest of them."

The "Zinker" ball? "I throw it half of the time. I'm not fast. So I get the batters out with a little of this, and a little of that."

Zuverink was obtained from Cincinnati on April 26. Last year he had a 13-8 record for Indianapolis, Cleveland's No. 1 farm team. Zuvvy was with Cleveland all of 1951 but until this year he had never been involved in a pitching decision in the majors.

British Champ Wins

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Sammy McCarthy, 127¼, British featherweight champion, won on a technical knockout tonight in the fifth round over Enrico Micale, 127, Italy. The referee stopped the fight to save the Italian from further punishment.

Philadelphia Wins Over Cleveland's Indians, 4-1

Johnny Gray Victor Over Mike Garcia

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24 (AP) — Jim Hegan and Bobby Avila committed throwing errors in the middle of four Philadelphia hits tonight and the seventh-place Athletics scored three big runs to upset the league-leading Indians 4-1 behind a fine pitching performance by rookie Johnny Gray.

The A's clipped big Mike (The Bear) Garcia with his seventh loss of the season against 15 wins while Gray, a lanky, hard-throwing former New York Yankee farmhand, won his second against seven losses.

The winning rally came in the third, with two out. Lou Limmer walked on a full count and Jim Finigan rapped a single to left, Limmer moving to third.

Bill Renna beat out a single in front of the plate scoring Limmer, and when Hegan threw wild over first, Finigan moved to third. Avila, backing up the play at first, retrieved Hegan's wild throw behind first and heaved it into the stands back of third, allowing Finigan to score and sending Renna to third.

Vic Power followed with a single to center to score Renna.

The A's scored in the first on a walk to Spook Jacobs and Finigan's double to center. Jacobs' slide at home eluded a throw from Larry Doby.

Gray, who normally has trouble with his control, was nicking the corners tonight but had trouble at the outset. He threw 10 straight balls before righting himself.

Giants Stretch Winning Streak To Seven Games

Gomez Beats Cubs 5-1, Mays Leads Attack

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (AP) — Willie Mays walloped two triples and a double in a barrage of extra base hits by the front-running New York Giants today that eased them to a 5-1 victory over the feeble Chicago Cubs and stretched their winning streak through seven games.

The Giants pecked away at lefty Paul Minner for 11 blows, six of them for extra bases, to hand the Chicago ace his ninth loss against 10 triumphs.

Meanwhile, Rube Gomez coasted to his 12th decision, yielding his only run in the first inning and limiting the Cubs to a scattering of five singles and a wasted double by Joe Garagiola.

The unflagging Mays belted a double and pair of triples in his first three turns, accounting for two runs. Don Mueller also tripled and Monte Irvin and Bob Hofman contributed doubles.

Righthander Gomez, who has lost eight games, struck out five today, walked only two and never was in serious trouble after Ernie Banks singled home the only Cub run in the first.

Nine Survive Junior Tennis Tourney Here

Five Boys, Four Girls Remain In Running

Nine players remain in the running for titles in the City Recreation Junior Tennis Tournament. Survivors include five boys and four girls out of an original entry list of 41 players.

Two Dingle girls and two from the Gephart courts play the semi-finals of the girls' division.

Helen Wanless and Sally McGreevy of the Dingle meet in the upper division today.

Jean Eichner and Barbara Balaban from the Gephart playground play each other in the lower division semi-final.

The winner of each of these matches meet for the City Junior Championship.

All five of the boys remaining in the tournament are from the Gephart courts.

Jerry McGreevy plays Bill Schutte; Vern Kenney meets the winner. In the lower division Ray Vernall tackles R. Love.

Results of yesterday's matches:

Helen Wanless defeated Sharon Growden, 8-6, 6-2.

Sally McGreevy won over Barbara Largent, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3.

Jean Eichner eliminated Lucille Wanless, 9-7, 6-2.

Barbara Balaban defeated Sara Murphy, 6-2, 6-0.

Jerry McGreevy bested Perry Shelton, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3.

Verna Kenney won over Doug. Sullivan, 6-2, 6-4.

Ray Vernall defeated Jimmy Twigg, 9-7, 6-3.

In the girls' doubles Brenda Johnson and Carol Dunlap defeated Vera MacKenzie and Blanche Brinker, 6-3, 6-4.

Matches in doubles and singles will continue today on the Fort Hill courts.

Parsons Grid Squad Includes Ten Lettermen

39 Players Report; Open At UHS Sept. 11

PARSONS, W. Va., Aug 24—Thirty-nine, including eight first stringers from last year, reported for football practice at Parsons High School, according to C. Robert Sullivan, Panthers' coach.

The list includes ten lettermen. Graduation took four lettermen, namely, Delton Mullennax, Jerry Newman, Willis Fansler and Glen Poling.

Name Co-Captains

Also returning from last year's squad are Robert Lewis, Dale Nestor, Robert Schoonover, James Kochenderfer, George Donalds and Clifford Phillips. Newcomers will be Dennis Flanagan, Joseph Bava, Roger Smith, Charles Loughry, Hampton Sherman, Clark Auvil, Allen Schilansky, Bill Hanlin, Robert and Bill Sturms, Howard Pyles, Thomas Warner, Robert Sobczak, Dale Schrecongast, Ross and Phil Simmons, Fred Champ, Paul McCrum, Carl Sherman, James Barr, Donald Black and Roy Rhoades.

The team will be playing in new Kramerton army cloth uniforms with purple jerseys and gold pants. The uniforms were presented to the team by the All Letter club auxiliary of Parsons.

Lights Are Installed

Practice is being held at the Parsons Park at the present time and it will be used as much as possible so that the new sod will be better at the athletic field. The work of lighting the field and improving the gridiron will be completed in time for the first home game. Most of the work has been done by volunteer labor. The Parsons High School Lighting Association has ordered three new sets of steel bleachers according to their president, W. Del Roy Harner. The new sets will be used along with an extra set of steel bleachers purchased by the Board of Education and now used in the gymnasium for basketball games. The new steel bleachers will have wooden seats with the lumber donated to the school by local lumbermen. The extra bleachers will assure seating capacity for 250 additional fans and will be placed on the high school building side of the field. The ground improvement and lighting of the field has cost $10,500.

Games will be played at night with the exception of those at Belington and Elkins.

Open At Morgantown

The Panthers kick off the lid with University High at Morgantown on Saturday, September 11.

Other opponents on the 8-game schedule are:

Sept. 17—Keyser, home.
Sept. 24—Kingwood, home.
Oct. 1—Belington, away
Oct. 8—LaSalle at Cumberland.
Oct. 15—Doddridge High (West Union), home.
Oct. 29—Thomas, home.
Nov. 11—Elkins, away.
Open dates are Oct. 22 and November 5.

Patton Moves To 3rd Round, Beats Holland

Larson Whips Foutche, Bill Campbell Wins, 64 Players Survive

By WILL GRIMSLEY

DETROIT, Aug. 24 (AP) — Billy Joe Patton, the irrepressible Houdini of the fairways, turned from scrambler to sharpshooter today and led an imposing group of Uncle Sam's international stars into the third round of the U. S. Amateur Golf Championship.

Never taking a bogey and playing near perfect golf after the third hole, the bespectacled lumberman from Morganton, N. C., cut down young Tim Holland of Rockville Centre, N. Y., 4 and 3. Holland was the first round conqueror of former champion Sam Urzetta.

Ward Plays Stranahan

His victory overshadowed the advance of Walker and America's cup veterans which set up a third round duel tomorrow between two of the best of them—Harvie Ward Jr., and Frank Stranahan.

Beating a short, snap thunderstorm, Ward, 28-year-old San Franciscan, whipped little Jim Vickers of Wichita, Kan., former college champion, 2 and 1, while Stranahan, Toledo heir to sparkplug millions, finished with a trio of threes to oust Ray Watson of Kansas City, 1 up.

These two, holders of a gaudy collection of international championships but neither a winner of this one, clash at 8:12 a.m. (EST) tomorrow over the ritzy Country Club of Detroit. The match features a double round of eliminations cutting the field from its present 64 to 16.

Campbell, Cherry Win

Others to advance included Bill Campbell of Huntington, West Va., runnerup this year in both the British and Canadian amateur events; crooner Don Cherry, former Canadian king, and Jim Jackson, a member of the 1953 Walker Cup squad.

Billy Joe departed from his famous script, disappointing a gallery of 2,000 who endured sporadic light showers just to see him recover from impossible situations with that lightning swing and devil-may-care attitude.

The North Carolinian lost only one hole—the first where Holland rolled in a 20-footer for a birdie three. He had two birdies—on the third, where he pulled off a fantastically difficult birdie four, and on the ninth, where he sank a 25-footer.

Campbell had to go overtime to subdue John Coyle of Springfield, Ill., 1 up on the 19th hole where he won with a five-foot birdie putt. Cherry, of Whicita Falls, Tex., ousted John Cree of Buffalo, N. Y., Jackson of St. Louis, threw a subpar round at Ben Hartig of Norbeck, Md., and won, 6 and 4, not losing a hole.

Par figures for the 6,875-yard Country Club course is 35-35—70.

Randolph Is Victor

Other results included:

Ed Tutwiler Jr. Charleston, W. Va., defeated John Ward, Clay, N. Y., 20th hole.

Jennings Randolph Jr., Bethesda, Md., defeated William Hyndman III, Abington, Pa., 1 up.

Ed Gonsky, Wilkes Barre, Pa., defeated David Clovis, Parkersburg, W. Va., 1 up.

Mans Suspended By Ring Solons

Freddie's Right Eye Is Completely Blind

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24 (AP)—Middleweight Fred Mans, who admits he's been fighting with a completely blind right eye for over a year, today was suspended indefinitely by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission.

John D. Holahan, the commission's Western Pennsylvania representative, ordered the suspension of the 24-year-old fighter—winner of 18 of 21 professional fights—after receiving a report from an eye specialist.

The eye damage is "not repairable," Dr. Murray F. McCaslin, said.

Holahan said he and the commission physician, Dr. J. J. Grant, suspected something was wrong with Mans' right eye before his Aug. 10 fight with Billy Tisdale of Detroit but didn't think it was "serious."

Mans lost the Aug. 10 fight to Tisdale.

Fight At Garden

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Moses Ward of Detroit and Tuzo (Kid) Portuguez, free-swinging middleweights, clash tomorrow night in a television ten rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Ward, a hastily recruited substitute for ailing Holly Mims, is a 1-2 favorite to outclub the burly Costa Rican champion. Mims, claiming a stomach ailment, bowed out of his scheduled scrap with Portuguez yesterday.

CBS will telecast the ten rounder starting at 9 p.m., EST.

Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (INS) — The tubs have been thumping furiously of late for Willie Mays, the Giants' sensational young outfielder.

And don't be surprised if the Giants win the pennant, as now appears likely, that Willie doesn't get the most valuable player award.

One MVP vote he don't get will be ours. And he don't get it because there still is a man named Stan Musial playing the game in his usual deadly efficient manner.

It's true Stan doesn't run from under his hat chasing a fly ball nor circling the bases, a la Mays. Nor does he misjudge fly balls or over run them or throw to the wrong base—again a la Mays.

Duke Snider, the Dodgers' truly brilliant outfielder, has been leading both majors in hitting most of the season. But had you noticed that when the dust settled on the ball fields Sunday night, Stan Musial had climbed up just one point behind Snider?

We also note that the wonderful Cardinal star is leading both leagues with 111 runs bated in. We also note that he is leading the National in runs scored with 102 to his credit.

It will be nothing new for Musial to lead in scoring runs for he has done it four times, and in 10 different years he scored more than 100 runs.

He also has led the league six times with most hits and as of Sunday night he had 162, putting him one behind Don Mueller and five behind his teammate Wally Moon.

Nor is that all. He has led the league seven years in hitting doubles and five times in banging triples. And right now he needs only two or three more to reach 500 in doubles for his career.

And how many do you suppose have hit 500 doubles in the history of major league baseball? Just 15.

You don't associate Musial with home runs and yet he stands twelfth on the all-time list for both leagues and could reach the 300 mark before the season ends. He now has 289.

By the way, here are the leaders: Babe Ruth 714, Jimmy Foxx 534, Mel Ott 511, Lou Gehrig 493, Ted Williams 382 (as of today), Johnny Mize 359, Ralph Kiner 367, Hank Greenberg 331, Al Simmons 307, Rajah Hornsby 302 and Chuck Klein 300.

We enjoy seeing Willie May play ball but we enjoy watching that old master, Stan Musial, even more. It's the difference between watching a billboard artist and a Rembrandt at work.

Radio And Television

by John Crosby

How Many Eyes And Ears Have You?

I once knew a baseball fan who used to float about a swimming pool, listening to three radios. It's not easy. One would be turned to the Yankees, another to the Dodgers and the third to the Giants. Sometime the Giants were playing the Dodgers. Such afternoons he considered relatively empty. Only two baseball games at a time. Hardly enough to keep a man's mind free from worrying about the doctor's bill.

I bring it all up because I have a pseudo-scientific interest in multiple attention. I consider it fairly new and something which has attracted not nearly enough attention from the other pseudo-scientists. Mankind has lost a lot of skills through the corruption of civilization. We can no longer smell like a bird-dog or hear like a gazelle.

But, by George, we've picked up some skills on the way, too. I'd like to see any gazelle pay attention to three ball games at once without going out of his mind. I can't do it either, come to think of it, and neither can this man's wife. But then, we are throw-backs to an earlier, simpler way of life when simple attention to one comic strip at a time was considered all that a mortal brain could bear.

But not any more. Not any more. The man listening to three ball games at once shows the shape of things to come. He can—and will—tell you at any time who is on second in three different ball parks and how he got there. With appropriate side remarks on the quality of pitching and the density of thought on the part of each manager.

This is not only a feat of multiple attention—keeping three ball games in separate compartments of the brain—but also in multiple emotion. As it so happens this man loathes all three New York teams — Yankees, Dodgers and Giants—with about equal intensity and prays for the defeat of each with great fervor. Still, even that has to be done separately. If members of all three home teams were to whack home runs simultaneously, he would feel three separate and distinct fits of exasperation rather than one collective fit of it.

In other words, this sort of multiple listenership requires a fragmentation of the emotions as well as the intellect. It ain't easy. Still, that's what is required of modern man. Back in grandfather's day, a guy would go to a ball game and have all he could do to keep his eye on the batter and make some reasonably intelligent remarks about his stance. Now he's got to keep an eye on the physical deterioration of the pitcher, check to see how the outfield's playing the batter and keep an ear glued to his portable radio to find out what the Giants are up to at the Polo Grounds.

Grandfather could not possibly have managed this and I'm not sure I can either. By strenuous application I have succeeded in learning how to switch back and forth from one ball game to another keeping a pretty good grasp on the scores and potentialities of both of them. But switching back and forth to your real hard-bitten simultaneous listener—especially to one who can listen to three ball games at once—is just kid stuff. Maybe next year.

Back when I was a kid, radio was just emerging from the crystal set stage and the school boys had to learn how to do their Latin lessons while listening to the Cliquot Club Eskimos. It seemed hard at the time but it's nothing to what is required of your modern school boy. Hell, I know a girl who last winter used to study her French irregular verbs while simultaneously watching the killer creep up on Geraldnie Fitzgerald on Philco Playhouse. As a matter of fact, she wound up the year with not very good grades but the fact that she knew any French at all is one of the wonders of the modern world.

This question of the division of attention—of paying heed to three or four things at once—I was discussing the other day with a friend of mine who claims that the thing is just beginning.

"You mark my word," he said, "the time will come when your average husband will be able to read the morning paper, watch Dave Garraway on 'Today,' eat his breakfast and have a nice lively quarrel with his wife about the household bills — without missing out on any one of them."

Two Meteors Become Satellites Of Earth

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Aviation Week magazine said today two meteors have become satellites of the earth and are revolving with it 400 to 600 miles out in space.

The McGraw-Hill publication said discovery of the celestrial bodies "threw the Air Force into a flap"—a state of confusion—this summer.

It said alarm over the sightings ended only after Dr. Lincoln La Paz, head of the Extraterrestrial Bodies Institute at the University of New Mexico, definitely identified them as natural rather than man-made.

Peak Is Conquered

KARACHI, Pakistan, Aug. 24 (AP)—An Austrian - German expedition was reported today to have conquered an unnamed 23,900-foot mountain in the Karakoram range of the Himalayas.

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Barclay

EARLY GUESS IS HARD

SOME problems, to which you would have a precise solution if they arose late in the play, are completely a matter of guesswork when presented at an early stage. If you are a defender, you may have practically no salient information to guide your decision, yet know that you will profit if you guess right and suffer if you make the wrong choice. That is why it is sometimes smart for a keen declarer to put such a problem up to you as soon as he can.

	♠ K 9 ♥ K 10 9 6 3 ♦ Q 4 3 2 ♣ Q 10
♠ 10 8 7 3 ♥ 7 5 4 ♦ 10 7 ♣ A 4 3 2	N W E S	♠ Q ♥ Q J 8 ♦ A J 9 8 5 ♣ J 9 8 6
	♠ A J 6 5 4 2 ♥ A 2 ♦ K 6 ♣ K 7 5

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	2 ♥	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	2 NT	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠

Since this deal was in tournament, it was highly valuable to the declarer to take an extra trick above his contract, if he could. He might thereby excel other pairs and thus win a top score on the deal, or a tie for top. That's exactly what he managed to do.

After West led the club A and spade 3, the K dropping the Q, South figured out a way to try for his extra trick right away. He led the diamond 2 from dummy, hoping East had the A and would refuse to play it. He trusted East would read that as an effort to take tricks with both the K and Q, so East decided to lay in ambush for the Q, playing the 8.

The K of course won that, whereupon the heart A and K, plus the ruff of a heart, set up two useful cards in the dummy. The spade A and J were scored, leaving the 10 out as the high trump. Now the dummy was reached with the club Q and the high heart 10 led. The diamond 6 was put on that trick, which the spade 10 ruffed. This left South with the good club K and two trumps for the last three tricks. So East was left holding the bag—or, rather, the useless diamond A. This contract was actually beaten a trick at two tables where West, instead of obliging by leading the club A opened a trump.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ 10 8 6 4 ♥ Q 9 6 2 ♦ A Q J ♣ J 9
♠ Q 5 3 2 ♥ 10 7 3 ♦ 4 ♣ K Q 10 4 3	N W E S	♠ K 9 7 ♥ 5 ♦ 10 7 5 3 2 ♣ 7 6 5 2
	♠ A J ♥ A K J 8 4 ♦ K 9 8 6 ♣ A 8

(Dealer: East. Neither side vulnerable.)

NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 127 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, 1950 Edition, notice is hereby given that the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, did, in regular session on Monday, July 26, 1954, approve the Report of Commissioners on the closing of Creek Street or Creek Lane from its intersection with the westerly side of Market Street through the property of the Queen City Brewing Company to its terminus. Said Commissioners were appointed by virtue of Ordinance No. 1984 for the purpose of assessing any damages or benefits incurred by or accruing to any owners of property affected by the closing of said Creek Street or Creek Lane. After meeting on the premises and hearing those persons who would be affected by the closing of said Creek Street or Creek Lane, the commissioners present the following:

"It is the unanimous opinion of the undersigned, that as a result of the closing of Creek Street or Creek Lane from its intersection with the westerly side of Market Street through the property of the Queen City Brewing Company to its westerly terminus, that no damages have been sustained and no benefits have accrued, not already enjoyed, by the abutting property owner, which is the aforesaid Queen City Brewing Company. Accordingly, our decision is that no benefits are to be levied and no damages should be assessed.

We further direct that the Queen City Brewing Company should pay all costs attendant to the closing of said Creek Lane or Creek Street, which proceedings were instituted at the request of said corporation."

Any person, persons, firm or corporation feeling aggrieved by the decision of the commissioners may appeal therefrom within thirty (30) days after July 26, 1954, by filing written notice of such appeal with the City Clerk of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, who will transmit same to the Circuit Court for Allegany County to be docketed for jury trial.

Downward Readjustment Takes Place In Market

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP) — A moderate downward readjustment took place in the Stock Market today with lots of resistance signs along the way.

Steels continued to be sold in the midst of doubts whether the industry will show a pick up in orders soon. Railroads, plagued with low earnings, were lower again today. Strike news in the rubber industry made poor reading, and traders and others sold rubber shares down.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell back 70 cents at $133.20. It was down $1.00 yesterday. The industrial component of the average was off 80 cents, railroads slipped $1.00, and the utilities were down 20 cents.

The market narrowed down to 1,173 individual issues traded, 20 less than yesterday, with 305 up and 644 down.

Montgomery Ward lost ⅝ at 78⅞ on 68,800 shares, the day's most active issue. It was up 5 points yesterday when the possibility of a proxy fight was forecast in Wall Street.

It was followed by General Dynamics up ⅞ at 74⅛. The stock, which has been the subject of split rumors, moved wildly during the day between 75⅛ and 72⅜.

City's Tax Rate Remains At $1.36

$1,505,270 Municipal Budget Exceeds Past Year's Expenditures By $104,640

The Mayor and Council last night unanimously adopted ordinances which set the 1954-55 tax rate at $1.36, the same as last year, and for appropriations totaling $1,505,270 to meet the cost of debt service and city operations.

The budget exceeds by $104,640 the 1953-54 budget but leaves the total tax levy the same in spite of the fact that it will cost about a cent more this year to meet payments and interests on bonds and on the sinking fund.

For city operations, the budget provides a total of $1,262,848.47, which represents a cut of $295,941 from requests made by the various departments of the city.

Debt service costs during the coming year will total $242,421.53, as compared to last year's $228,953.21.

Tax Rate Is $1.36

The tax levy is divided into 12 and 45/100 cents for interest on the bonded debt, 17 and 30/100 for payments on several bond issues, three and 28/100 toward the sinking fund and $1.02 and 97/100 for current expenses of the city and 43 and 4/100 on each $100 of bank stock toward current expenses.

The tax base included $52,400,000 of real estate evaluations in the city, $17,700,000 of personal property of corporations and $3,300,000 of personal property held by individuals.

The $1.36 levied on this $73,400,000 will provide $998,240 of revenue. Tax on bank stock brings in another $13,000 to bring total tax revenues to the $1,011,240 mark.

Other revenues which the city expects to receive, $494,030, brings the total budget to the $1,505,270 mark.

$7,630 From County

This estimated income includes $7,630 from Allegany County, $60,000 from general licenses, $31,700 from general and special income, $3,000 from interest on taxes, $1,600 from permits, $8,000 from police fines, $200 from the city weights, $10,000 from bingo tax, $13,000 of recreation income, $4,400 of state admission tax, $35,000 from state auto license fees, $1,500 from state franchise taxes, $77,000 from gas and oil taxes, $47,000 from state income tax, $50,000 of state racing income and a 1953-54 surplus of $144,000.

The all-time high $1,262,848.47 which was appropriated for city operations and two miscellaneous appropriations include the following individual budgets:

General—accident awards, $5,000; city employes pensions, $68,500; collector, $12,500; contingent, $23,391.99; errors and insolvencies, $2,000; insurance and bonds, $3,500; interest, $500; Juvenile Court, $2,500; legal, $5,500; salaries, $37,000, and stationary and postage, $2,700 for a total of $163,091.99. Requests for these mandatory items totaled $163,200.

Actual expenditures during the past year for the above items totaled $133,483.99.

Health Items

Six health items in the budget cost a total of $117,290.75. These include $540 for clinic, $3,300.75 for the city's share of the cooperative laboratory, $72,000 for garbage collection and disposal, $36,500 for the Health Department, $2,200 for the humane activities and $2,750 for mosquito control.

Requests for these items totaled $117,290.75, the amount appropriated. Last year's expenditures were $115,256.28.

The Police and Fire Department received the lion's share of the budget — $439,354.18.

This includes $203,200 for the Fire Department, $15,354.18 for a new fire truck, $208,700 for the Police Department and a $12,100 payment into the Police Pension Fund.

A total of $454,820.74 was asked for these items which cost $397,794.93 last year.

Expressway Vote Costs Taxpayers

The Mayor and Council last night set the new city tax rate at $1.36, the same as last year, but except for one possible contingency the rate might have been reduced one cent.

Because of a petition for a referendum on construction of the proposed crosstown expressway and the South End Industrial Boulevard, the city officials were compelled to provide $10,000 for a special election. This meant adding a cent to the tax rate in order to raise the money to conduct the referendum. Had it not been for this petition the rate would have been set at $1.35.

Mercantile Bureau Will Elect

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce yesterday mailed ballots to its members containing the names of 28 nominees for the Board of Directors of the Chamber's Mercantile Bureau.

Members are to vote for 14 directors and return the ballots to the chamber office by 4 p. m. Friday, September 3, when the results will be tabulated.

Twenty-seven members serve on the board and elections are held each year, with 14 being named one year and 13 the next.

This year's nominees are W. I. Burton, Maurice Cohn, Edward L. Ewald, E. X. Fox, Thomas E. Gilchrist, Ward N. Hauger, A. D. Heacox, Mrs. Frances Holleman, Adolph Hirsch, Frank Kaplon, Mark Lazarus, Joseph H. Love, O. M. Marquis, W. W. Pealer.

Home Accident Prevention Idea In Second Phase

Health Department To Make Surveys

Hospitals and public health workers of Allegany County have promised full cooperation in the state-wide study of home accidents, which goes into its second phase September 1.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, said the first part of the survey began January 1 with a study of all fatal home accidents.

Beginning next month, the study will be expanded to include all home accidents serious enough to require admission to hospitals.

Hospitals To Aid

Officials of Memorial, Sacred Heart and Miners Hospitals, Dr. Frantz said, have promised to aid by notifying the Health Department of all home accidents which require admission.

Public health nurses will then visit the homes of the home accident victims to secure full information about the mishap.

This information will be confidential and is to be used for study purposes only, Dr. Frantz said.

The purpose behind the survey, being conducted by the State Department of Health under a Kellogg Foundation grant, is to learn enough about home accidents so something can be done to prevent them.

Complete Data Sought

The information sought includes not only the type of injury, cost of treatment and any contributing factors, such as poor lighting or stumbling over objects.

Public health nurses will also be asked, in their reports, to list any measures or suggestions made to prevent other such accidents.

The importance of the study is shown by the fact that home accidents was the leading cause of death in Allegany County between 1949 to 1952, causing 83 deaths as opposed to 62 motor vehicle fatalities.

Two Boys Picked Up For Shooting Out Lights In Constitution Park

Two local boys, who went on a spree with slingshots and broke nine lights out at Constitution Park, were picked up for questioning yesterday by city police.

The parents of the boys, who are 10 and 13, according to Joseph H. Stitcher, of the City Police Detective Bureau, have been notified to make restitution.

Robert R. Golden, superintendent of the park, told police a couple of boys were reported throwing rocks in a small pool at the park and were chased by Golden down over the hill.

When he went to the storage shed of the park he said he heard the lights being shot out and called police who later picked up the boys.

Car Reported Stolen At Morgantown, W. Va.

A 1940 black Chevrolet bearing W. Va. license tags, 132-609 has been reported stolen from Morgantown, W. Va., by two boys.

State police have notified local authorities that the two-door sedan has the running boards missing.

The Weather

Sweltering heat and high humidity made most Cumberlanders rather uncomfortable yesterday. The high official temperature reached 90 degrees, the low was 61, and at 6 p. m. the relative humidity registered a sultry 73 per cent. No letup is in sight immediately, as the forecast today calls for warmer and more humid weather, with the high between 87 and 94.

Fair "Fixtures" On Sidelines

Former County Agent Ralph F. McHenry, left, and Albert O'Neal, who have been vitally interested in the Cumberland Fair for more than 30 years, sit on a bale of hay at the fairgrounds and discuss old times. McHenry had been associated with every fair since 1920 and for most of that time had been superintendent of the livestock department. With his retirement as county agent May 1, he also relinquished his fair superintendency. O'Neal has even longer association with the agricultural exposition. He has been superintendent of the vegetable and fruit departments of the fair ever since the first one back in 1918. He finally decided to retire from that position this year so that a younger man could take over. McHenry's post has been assumed by his successor as county agent, Joseph M. Steger. O'Neal's job is now filled by Floyd Buser, president of the County Farm Bureau. Although they have given up their responsibilities McHenry and O'Neal couldn't forget the fair as the picture indicates.

Ten Exhibitors Display Championship Livestock

Ten different exhibitors showed championship beef and dairy cattle yesterday at the 37th annual Cumberland Fair, where judging of five different breeds took place.

Jerseys, Ayreshires and Guernseys, all breeds of dairy cattle, were judged yesterday morning, while Holsteins, also a breed of dairy cattle, and Aberdeen Angus, beef cattle, were judged in the afternoon.

The Jerseys were judged by J. R. Schabinger, dairy specialist at the University of Maryland. S. Braden King, of Boonsboro, had the grand champion bull, grand champion cow, and junior champion bull. George Styles, of Boonsboro, showed the grand champion cow.

In the Ayreshire breed, the senior champion bull and grand champion bull and senior and grand champion cow came from the herd of Samuel J. Diehl, RFD 4, Bedford, Pa., while the junior champion bull and junior champion cow were owned by W. I. Shank and Ralph Shank, of Hagerstown, respectively. The Ayreshire judging was done by Walter J. Hahn, of Frederick.

Another Hagerstown man, Harry O. Harbaugh, had most of the championship stock in the Holstein breed. He had the grand champion bull and junior champion female, and his Brenda Locust Brae was adjudged grand champion cow for the third consecutive year. Doty Romsburg, of Middletown, had the junior champion bull. Schabinger was the judge.

Longview Aberdeen Angus Farm of Burlington, W. Va., owned by W. G. Merrells, Clarksburg, W. Va., won 18 of the 21 classes in the Angus classification, including all championship honors.

Longview Emulator was the grand champion bull and Ellingmere 1953 was the reserve champion bull. Envious Juana Erica was adjudged grand champion female. Envious Emulous was first in the get of sir judging by Longview Emulator 42nd was second. Judging was done by Boyd C. Whittle, livestock specialist at the University of Maryland. County Agent Joseph M. Steger is superintendent of the livestock department.

Cumberland Fair Plans Matinee For Kids Today

4-H, FFA Activities Also Slated Today

Today is "Kid's Day" at the Cumberland Fair.

School children will be admitted to the grounds free of charge and the prices of all rides and shows on the midway will be reduced substantially. In addition, 12 valuable prizes, including a bicycle, will be given away. The special matinees will begin at noon and continue until 6 p. m.

Other activities scheduled today at the fair include the judging contest by the Future Farmers of America at 10 a. m., when about 30 boys will judge beef, hogs and sheep.

The 4-H Dairy Calf Club exhibit will be judged at 9 a. m. by J. R. Schabinger, dairy specialist at the University of Maryland, and then at 1 p. m. the 4-H fitting and showing contest will take place.

The 4-H Club theme booths, located in the clubhouse, which is being used for exhibtis for the first time this year, will also be judged today.

Miss Florabelle Walker, maple queen of Somerset County, will be introduced tonight and the nightly acts by the Cook and Rose Stage Shows will likewise be presented.

Tonight's fireworks display will feature "The Doggie in the Window, Wagging His Tail," in addition to other thrilling pyrotechnic spectacles.

To See Film

A film entitled "Tomorrow's Drivers" will feature the entertainment at the weekly meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club, tomorrow at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

Ft. Ashby Wins Prize In Fire Company Parade

42 Units Participate In March At Fair

Fort Ashby Volunteer Fire Company was adjudged the best appearing company participating in the parade held in conjunction with Firemen's Night at the Cumberland Fair last night. The West Virginians were awarded $25 first prize.

Fair officials estimated that about 13,000 persons thronged the fairgrounds last night to witness the parade and other events. They said it was the largest crowd ever to attend the fair.

Altogether 42 fire companies, auxiliaries, bands and drum corps appeared in the seven-division line of march which paraded around the race track prior to the beginning of the stage and fireworks shows.

Lonaconing Second

Other awards made by the judges included largest number of men in line of march, $25, Frostburg; second largest number of men in line, $15, Keyser Vigilant Reel and Hose Company; best appearing fire company with apparatus, $25, Barton Hose Company, second best with apparatus, $15, Bowling Green; best appearing ladies auxiliary, $15, LaVale; and second best ladies auxiliary, $15, Bedford Road.

Judges for the prizes were Thomas Whalley, Raymond Whitehair and Harry Skelly.

Cromwell Zembower of LaVale was the parade marshal. Appearing in the line of march were, first division, Marine Color Guard, Ridgeleyettes, Meyersdale, Pa. Drum and Bugle Corps, Keyser fire company, district 16 ladies auxiliary, District 16 fire company, Confluence, Pa., Fire Company, Deer Park Fire Company, Filey Ford Fire Company and Clarysville Fire Company.

Second Division

Second division, Arion Band of Frostburg, Frostburg Fire Company, Shaft Fire Company, McCoole Fire Company, Petersburg, W. Va., Fire Company, Grantsville Fire Company and Bloomington Fire Company.

1,500 Trees To Be Given Away At Fair

Before the end of the Cumberland Fair Saturday, the State Department of Forests and Parks will distribute 1,500 white spruce seedlings to persons who visit its display at the fair, located beside the paddock.

The department has placed two of the seedlings in glass jars, showing the right and wrong way to plant them. This distribution, it is hoped, will encourage reforestation.

Another miniature display depicts a mill and millrace, with water furnishing power to operate the mill, An electric train is used to bring logs to the sawmill.

The remainder of the cleverly-designed display consists of replicas of a state park and forest warden's headquarters, and a showing of wood samples and all the products that can be made from wood.

Parade Division Gets Ready

The first division of the seven-division parade of fire companies, musical units and ladies auxiliary groups readies itself just prior to the beginning of the huge Firemen's Night parade on the race track at the fairgrounds during the Cumberland Fair last night. The truck belongs to the Keyser Vigilant Reel and Hose Company and the ladies getting ready to the left are District 16 auxiliary.

County Sewage Disposal Plan To Be Discussed

Two Groups To Meet At City Hall Tonight

The Mayor and Council and the Board of Allegany County Commissioners will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall to explore the possibilities of a county-wide sewage treatment plan.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said he has asked Robert T. Regester, Baltimore consulting engineer who prepared plans for Cumberland's proposed plant, and Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, to attend.

He said the city wants to know what plans the county has for sewage treatment before it embarks on its own program.

Will Ask Bids

City officials this week announced plans for asking bids Monday on the Cumberland plant, estimated to cost about $2,00,000.

This plant will be located off Offutt Street, between the Potomac River and the old C & O Canal and will be large enough to treat sewage from the Greater Cumberland area.

The State Department of Health last year urged that a county sewage authority be formed, with outlying communities channeling their sewage to Cumberland, where it could be treated

No Action Taken

No action was taken by the county on the proposal.

Senator Robert B. Kimble recently urged that efforts to form a county-wide plan be revived, pointing out that aid from the state, government and area industries might be possible under such a program.

The senator warned that if Cumberland builds a sewage treatment plant and other communities do not solve their sewage problems, citizens of Cumberland will still not be protected from the danger of water-borne diseases.

Missing Jet Parts Found At Edgewood

Search Presumed To Be Concluded

The search for a F-86 Sabrejet, missing since Saturday out of Wilmington, Del., which extended into Western Maryland, apparently has come to a close as pieces of metal and wire believed to be part of the plane, were fished from the mouth of the Gunpowder River at Edgewood, in Harford County yesterday.

Pilots of Fort Cumberland Flight, Civil Air Patrol, joined in the search and scanned the mountainous terrain of Allegany and Garrett counties and parts of nearby West Virginia.

Air Force officers said the material was "definitely" from a jet plane. The presumption was it was the Sabrejet flown by Capt. Frank H. Stern Jr., 35, of the Delaware Air National Guard. No sign of the pilot has been discovered.

The plane apparently was buried in the mud below 10 feet of water, they said. Grappling operations by boats from the U. S. Coast Guard, the Army's Aberdeen test center and Edgewood Chemical Center were still going on. Authorities said a diver would be sent down to help.

Several fishermen reported hearing the roar of a jet and seeing a big splash in the water in the area and that set off the grappling operations.

Three Damage Suits Filed In Auto Collision

Howard Brehm Sued For Total $10,000

Three damage suits totaling $10,000 were filed yesterday afternoon in Allegany County Circuit Court against Howard F. Brehm, Mexico Farms, as a result of a two-car collision on Route 51 last November 29.

The suits, docketed by William H. Geppert and Richard F. Wertheimer as attorneys for the plaintiffs, charged Brehm was negligent in operating his motor vehicle west along State Route 51, resulting in the collision with another automobile driven by John T. Kesler, Washington, D. C., heading east.

One suit for $5,000 was filed by Kesler for himself and the Government Employees Insurance Company of Washington, charging that because of the mishap which occurred about 17 miles east of Cumberland Kesler was hospitalized in Cumberland for a long period of time, losing many weeks work with the Department of Defense in Washington where he is employed.

The suit asked claims against Brehm for hospital, medical and loss of work fees as well as seeking judgment of $1,532.50 for the insurance company which insured Kesler's automobile. The suit claimed the Kesler vehicle was completely demolished.

The other two suits were filed by Carl Bowers, Paw Paw, W. Va., in behalf of his two infant daughters who were also injured in the collision of the two vehicles. The girls, Elma Bowers and Jean Bowers, were passengers in the Kesler car at the time of the mishap.

The suit for Elma Bowers asks for $3,000 damages as a result of severe injuries received in the crash as well as loss of work from her job as an IBM operator in Washington, D. C.

The third claim for Jean Bowers asks for $2,000 as a result of her hospitalization and medical expenses, permanent injuries incurred and the loss of attendance at school.

Crab Feast Set By Shrine Units

A crab feast, sponsored by the activity committee and uniformed units of Ali Ghan Temple, will be held on Friday from 5 to 8 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Country Club picnic grounds.

The affair is open to the public, according to Russell H. Shafer, chairman of the activity committee. The crabs are being purchased at Cambridge and will be shipped by truck to the picnic grounds.

Other refreshments will be served. A three-piece hillbilly band is being secured by the committee to furnish music for an old time square dance. Awards will be given during the affair.

Tickets are available at Hauger's Jewelry Store, Potomac Fruit Market, Wagoner's Esso Station, Greene Street, Chaney's Cigar Store, South Cumberland Hardware, Truitt Drug Store, Dingle Drug Store and at the recorder's office of Ali Ghan Temple, South Centre Street.

Dog Bites Boy

A seven-year-old boy, Joseph Forbeck, of 1110 Rolling Mill Alley, was treated at Memorial Hospital last night after being bitten by a dog. Police said the dog broke loose from the yard of 232 West Oldtown Road.

County To Ask Work To Begin On Plant Road

Letter To Be Sent To State Roads Group

Allegany County Board of Commissioners plan to request the State Roads Commission to begin immediate preparations for the construction of a roadway and bridge to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company site.

Gorman E. Getty Jr., attorney to the board of commissioners, said yesterday he expects to prepare a letter to be sent to the SRC this week asking the road work to begin now that the plate glass company has announced its intention of building a large plant here.

Plans agreed upon at earlier meetings of the SRC, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and county commissioners call for the State Roads Commission to complete the actual construction which will be financed by county, federal and railroad funds.

Formality Needed

"The county has only the formality of requesting the SRC to begin the actual construction of the county road and bridge across the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks to the plant site," Getty explained. "Funds for the work, which is expected to cost between $450,000 and $500,000 are available or provided for," he added.

"All that is needed now is for an agreement to be entered into between the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and the SRC for the work to be started," Getty said.

Overhead Bridge

The plan involves the construction of a bridge over the B&O tracks, relocation of the county road, construction of a service road connection from the Western Maryland Railway underpass under the proposed new road and an overhead structure providing for a 100 foot track span and a 38 foot underpass for vehicular traffic.

The project will be financed by the county with assistance from the federal aid seconary roads program fund, the B&O has agreed to pay 10 per cent of the cost of the bridge under the grade crossing elimination program. The county has provided for 4.11 cents on the county's tax rate set by the commissioners April 20 at $1.80 per $100 to be used as supplemental matching funds for the North Branch program.

The county will receive $150,000 from the federal aid funds not used by other counties in the state, is expected to save some $27,000 in fill material to be made available in cooperation with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, plus at least $17,000 from the railroad.

Bus Inspections Will Begin Today

The pre-school inspection of buses and passenger cars used to transport students to and from Allegany County schools will be held today and tomorrow.

Today, Flintstone, 8:30 a. m.; Piney Plains, 10:30 a. m.; Oldtown, 1 p. m. and Beall High, Frostburg, 3 p. m. Tomorrow, Fort Hill High School, 8:30 a. m.; Bruce High, Westernport, 1:15 p. m.; Valley High, Lonaconing, 1:45 p. m. and Mt. Savage, Bus Garage, 3 p. m. Contractors are urged to have their buses and passenger cars at the appointed inspection centers at the date and time specified.

Raymond C. Thompson, newly-appointed school bus inspector from the Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles, will assist with the inspections.

Governor And Wife Greeted Warmly At Mt. Savage

Governor and Mrs. Theodore R. McKeldin received an enthusiastic welcome during a brief visit to Mt. Savage yesterday morning.

Governor McKeldin presented autographed photographs of himself and President Eisenhower to a number of Mt. Savage residents, including Fire Chief Edward Malloy.

As a going-away gift, he received a tip from Edward Farrell for the seventh race at Hagerstown, where he and his wife were headed.

Beall High Boosters To Elect Officers

Beall High Boosters Club of Frostburg will hold election of officers for the coming year and clean up all outstanding old business at an important meeting tonight at the school.

The meeting will be held in the school auditorium at 8:30 p. m. and all members of the organization will be eligible to vote during the election. New members will be accepted at the meeting also.

Retiring officers of the organization are Cliff Fearer, president, Leo McNeil, vice president, Walter Rank, secretary and Pinkney Holmes, treasurer.

NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 127 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, 1950 Edition, notice is hereby given that the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, did, in regular session on Monday, July 26, 1954, approve the Report of Commissioners on the closing of Creek Street or Creek Lane from its intersection with the westerly side of Market Street through the property of the Queen City Brewing Company to its terminus. Said Commissioners were appointed by virtue of Ordinance No. 1984 for the purpose of assessing any damages or benefits incurred by or accruing to any owners of property affected by the closing of said Creek Street or Creek Lane. After meeting on the premises and hearing those persons who would be affected by the closing of said Creek Street or Creek Lane, the commissioners present the following:

"It is the unanimous opinion of the undersigned, that as a result of the closing of Creek Street or Creek Lane from its intersection with the westerly side of Market Street through the property of the Queen City Brewing Company to its westerly terminus, that no damages have been sustained and no benefits have accrued, not already enjoyed, by the abutting property owner, which is the aforesaid Queen City Brewing Company. Accordingly, our decision is that no benefits are to be levied and no damages should be assessed.

We further direct that the Queen City Brewing Company should pay all costs attendant to the closing of said Creek Lane or Creek Street, which proceedings were instituted at the request of said corporation."

Any person, persons, firm or corporation feeling aggrieved by the decision of the commissioners may appeal therefrom within thirty (30) days after July 26, 1954, by filing written notice of such appeal with the City Clerk of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, who will transmit same to the Circuit Court for Allegany County to be docketed for jury trial.

Downward Readjustment Takes Place In Market

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP) — A moderate downward readjustment took place in the Stock Market today with lots of resistance signs along the way.

Steels continued to be sold in the midst of doubts whether the industry will show a pick up in orders soon. Railroads, plagued with low earnings, were lower again today. Strike news in the rubber industry made poor reading, and traders and others sold rubber shares down.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell back 70 cents at $133.20. It was down $1.00 yesterday. The industrial component of the average was off 80 cents, railroads slipped $1.00, and the utilities were down 20 cents.

The market narrowed down to 1,173 individual issues traded, 20 less than yesterday, with 305 up and 644 down.

Montgomery Ward lost ⅝ at 78⅞ on 68,800 shares, the day's most active issue. It was up 5 points yesterday when the possibility of a proxy fight was forecast in Wall Street.

It was followed by General Dynamics up ⅞ at 74⅛. The stock, which has been the subject of split rumors, moved wildly during the day between 75⅛ and 72⅜.

City's Tax Rate Remains At $1.36

$1,505,270 Municipal Budget Exceeds Past Year's Expenditures By $104,640

The Mayor and Council last night unanimously adopted ordinances which set the 1954-55 tax rate at $1.36, the same as last year, and for appropriations totaling $1,505,270 to meet the cost of debt service and city operations.

The budget exceeds by $104,640 the 1953-54 budget but leaves the total tax levy the same in spite of the fact that it will cost about a cent more this year to meet payments and interests on bonds and on the sinking fund.

For city operations, the budget provides a total of $1,262,848.47, which represents a cut of $295,941 from requests made by the various departments of the city.

Debt service costs during the coming year will total $242,421.53, as compared to last year's $228,953.21.

Tax Rate Is $1.36

The tax levy is divided into 12 and 45/100 cents for interest on the bonded debt, 17 and 30/100 for payments on several bond issues, three and 28/100 toward the sinking fund and $1.02 and 97/100 for current expenses of the city and 43 and 4/100 on each $100 of bank stock toward current expenses.

The tax base included $52,400,000 of real estate evaluations in the city, $17,700,000 of personal property of corporations and $3,300,000 of personal property held by individuals.

The $1.36 levied on this $73,400,000 will provide $998,240 of revenue. Tax on bank stock brings in another $13,000 to bring total tax revenues to the $1,011,240 mark.

Other revenues which the city expects to receive, $494,030, brings the total budget to the $1,505,270 mark.

$7,630 From County

This estimated income includes $7,630 from Allegany County, $60,000 from general licenses, $31,700 from general and special income, $3,000 from interest on taxes, $1,600 from permits, $8,000 from police fines, $200 from the city weights, $10,000 from bingo tax, $13,000 of recreation income, $4,400 of state admission tax, $35,000 from state auto license fees, $1,500 from state franchise taxes, $77,000 from gas and oil taxes, $47,000 from state income tax, $50,000 of state racing income and a 1953-54 surplus of $144,000.

The all-time high $1,262,848.47 which was appropriated for city operations and two miscellaneous appropriations include the following individual budgets:

General—accident awards, $5,000; city employes pensions, $68,500; collector, $12,500; contingent, $23,391.99; errors and insolvencies, $2,000; insurance and bonds, $3,500; interest, $500; Juvenile Court, $2,500; legal, $5,500; salaries, $37,000, and stationary and postage, $2,700 for a total of $163,091.99. Requests for these mandatory items totaled $163,200.

Actual expenditures during the past year for the above items totaled $133,483.99.

Health Items

Six health items in the budget cost a total of $117,290.75. These include $540 for clinic, $3,300.75 for the city's share of the cooperative laboratory, $72,000 for garbage collection and disposal, $36,500 for the Health Department, $2,200 for the humane activities and $2,750 for mosquito control.

Requests for these items totaled $117,290.75, the amount appropriated. Last year's expenditures were $115,256.28.

The Police and Fire Department received the lion's share of the budget — $439,354.18.

This includes $203,200 for the Fire Department, $15,354.18 for a new fire truck, $208,700 for the Police Department and a $12,100 payment into the Police Pension Fund.

A total of $454,820.74 was asked for these items which cost $397,794.93 last year.

Expressway Vote Costs Taxpayers

The Mayor and Council last night set the new city tax rate at $1.36, the same as last year, but except for one possible contingency the rate might have been reduced one cent.

Because of a petition for a referendum on construction of the proposed crosstown expressway and the South End Industrial Boulevard, the city officials were compelled to provide $10,000 for a special election. This meant adding a cent to the tax rate in order to raise the money to conduct the referendum. Had it not been for this petition the rate would have been set at $1.35.

Mercantile Bureau Will Elect

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce yesterday mailed ballots to its members containing the names of 28 nominees for the Board of Directors of the Chamber's Mercantile Bureau.

Members are to vote for 14 directors and return the ballots to the chamber office by 4 p. m. Friday, September 3, when the results will be tabulated.

Twenty-seven members serve on the board and elections are held each year, with 14 being named one year and 13 the next.

This year's nominees are W. I. Burton, Maurice Cohn, Edward L. Ewald, E. X. Fox, Thomas E. Gilchrist, Ward N. Hauger, A. D. Heacox, Mrs. Frances Holleman, Adolph Hirsch, Frank Kaplon, Mark Lazarus, Joseph H. Love, O. M. Marquis, W. W. Pealer.

Home Accident Prevention Idea In Second Phase

Health Department To Make Surveys

Hospitals and public health workers of Allegany County have promised full cooperation in the state-wide study of home accidents, which goes into its second phase September 1.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, said the first part of the survey began January 1 with a study of all fatal home accidents.

Beginning next month, the study will be expanded to include all home accidents serious enough to require admission to hospitals.

Hospitals To Aid

Officials of Memorial, Sacred Heart and Miners Hospitals, Dr. Frantz said, have promised to aid by notifying the Health Department of all home accidents which require admission.

Public health nurses will then visit the homes of the home accident victims to secure full information about the mishap.

This information will be confidential and is to be used for study purposes only, Dr. Frantz said.

The purpose behind the survey, being conducted by the State Department of Health under a Kellogg Foundation grant, is to learn enough about home accidents so something can be done to prevent them.

Complete Data Sought

The information sought includes not only the type of injury, cost of treatment and any contributing factors, such as poor lighting or stumbling over objects.

Public health nurses will also be asked, in their reports, to list any measures or suggestions made to prevent other such accidents.

The importance of the study is shown by the fact that home accidents was the leading cause of death in Allegany County between 1949 to 1952, causing 83 deaths as opposed to 62 motor vehicle fatalities.

Two Boys Picked Up For Shooting Out Lights In Constitution Park

Two local boys, who went on a spree with slingshots and broke nine lights out at Constitution Park, were picked up for questioning yesterday by city police.

The parents of the boys, who are 10 and 13, according to Joseph H. Stitcher, of the City Police Detective Bureau, have been notified to make restitution.

Robert R. Golden, superintendent of the park, told police a couple of boys were reported throwing rocks in a small pool at the park and were chased by Golden down over the hill.

When he went to the storage shed of the park he said he heard the lights being shot out and called police who later picked up the boys.

Car Reported Stolen At Morgantown, W. Va.

A 1940 black Chevrolet bearing W. Va. license tags, 132-609 has been reported stolen from Morgantown, W. Va., by two boys.

State police have notified local authorities that the two-door sedan has the running boards missing.

The Weather

Sweltering heat and high humidity made most Cumberlanders rather uncomfortable yesterday. The high official temperature reached 90 degrees, the low was 61, and at 6 p. m. the relative humidity registered a sultry 73 per cent. No letup is in sight immediately, as the forecast today calls for warmer and more humid weather, with the high between 87 and 94.

Fair "Fixtures" On Sidelines

Former County Agent Ralph F. McHenry, left, and Albert O'Neal, who have been vitally interested in the Cumberland Fair for more than 30 years, sit on a bale of hay at the fairgrounds and discuss old times. McHenry had been associated with every fair since 1920 and for most of that time had been superintendent of the livestock department. With his retirement as county agent May 1, he also relinquished his fair superintendency. O'Neal has even longer association with the agricultural exposition. He has been superintendent of the vegetable and fruit departments of the fair ever since the first one back in 1918. He finally decided to retire from that position this year so that a younger man could take over. McHenry's post has been assumed by his successor as county agent, Joseph M. Steger. O'Neal's job is now filled by Floyd Buser, president of the County Farm Bureau. Although they have given up their responsibilities McHenry and O'Neal couldn't forget the fair as the picture indicates.

Ten Exhibitors Display Championship Livestock

Ten different exhibitors showed championship beef and dairy cattle yesterday at the 37th annual Cumberland Fair, where judging of five different breeds took place.

Jerseys, Ayreshires and Guernseys, all breeds of dairy cattle, were judged yesterday morning, while Holsteins, also a breed of dairy cattle, and Aberdeen Angus, beef cattle, were judged in the afternoon.

The Jerseys were judged by J. R. Schabinger, dairy specialist at the University of Maryland. S. Braden King, of Boonsboro, had the grand champion bull, grand champion cow, and junior champion bull. George Styles, of Boonsboro, showed the grand champion cow.

The Guernsey herd of R. A. McCauley and sons, Hagerstown, produced the grand champion bull, junior champion bull, and senior champion bull, while Fred Downey and sons, of Williamsport, had the junior champion heifer and senior and grand champion cow. This breed was judged by J. Herbert Snyder, of Union Bridge, Carroll County.

In the Ayreshire breed, the senior champion bull and grand champion bull and senior and grand champion cow came from the herd of Samuel J. Diehl, RFD 4, Bedford, Pa., while the junior champion bull and junior champion cow were owned by W. I. Shank and Ralph Shank, of Hagerstown, respectively. The Ayreshire judging was done by Walter J. Hahn, of Frederick.

Another Hagerstown man, Harry O. Harbaugh, had most of the championship stock in the Holstein breed. He had the grand champion bull and junior champion female, and his Brenda Locust Brae was adjudged grand champion cow for the third consecutive year. Doty Romsburg, of Middletown, had the junior champion bull. Schabinger was the judge.

Longview Aberdeen Angus Farm of Burlington, W. Va., owned by W. G. Merrells, Clarksburg, W. Va., won 18 of the 21 classes in the Angus classification, including all championship honors.

Longview Emulator was the grand champion bull and Ellingmere 1953 was the reserve champion bull. Envious Juana Erica was adjudged grand champion female. Envious Emulous was first in the get of sir judging by Longview Emulator 42nd was second. Judging was done by Boyd C. Whittle, livestock specialist at the University of Maryland. County Agent Joseph M. Steger is superintendent of the livestock department.

School children will be admitted to the grounds free of charge and the prices of all rides and shows on the midway will be reduced substantially. In addition, 12 valuable prizes, including a bicycle, will be given away. The special matinees will begin at noon and continue until 6 p. m.

Other activities scheduled today at the fair include the judging contest by the Future Farmers of America at 10 a. m., when about 30 boys will judge beef, hogs and sheep.

The 4-H Dairy Calf Club exhibit will be judged at 9 a. m. by J. R. Schabinger, dairy specialist at the University of Maryland, and then at 1 p. m. the 4-H fitting and showing contest will take place.

The 4-H Club theme booths, located in the clubhouse, which is being used for exhibtis for the first time this year, will also be judged today.

Miss Florabelle Walker, maple queen of Somerset County, will be introduced tonight and the nightly acts by the Cook and Rose Stage Shows will likewise be presented.

Tonight's fireworks display will feature "The Doggie in the Window, Wagging His Tail," in addition to other thrilling pyrotechnic spectacles.

To See Film

A film entitled "Tomorrow's Drivers" will feature the entertainment at the weekly meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club, tomorrow at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

Ft. Ashby Wins Prize In Fire Company Parade

42 Units Participate In March At Fair

Fort Ashby Volunteer Fire Company was adjudged the best appearing company participating in the parade held in conjunction with Firemen's Night at the Cumberland Fair last night. The West Virginians were awarded $25 first prize.

Fair officials estimated that about 13,000 persons thronged the fairgrounds last night to witness the parade and other events. They said it was the largest crowd ever to attend the fair.

Altogether 42 fire companies, auxiliaries, bands and drum corps appeared in the seven-division line of march which paraded around the race track prior to the beginning of the stage and fireworks shows.

Lonaconing Second

Other awards made by the judges included largest number of men in line of march, $25, Frostburg; second largest number of men in line, $15, Keyser Vigilant Reel and Hose Company; best appearing fire company with apparatus, $25, Barton Hose Company, second best with apparatus, $15, Bowling Green; best appearing ladies auxiliary, $15, LaVale; and second best ladies auxiliary, $15, Bedford Road.

Judges for the prizes were Thomas Whalley, Raymond Whitehair and Harry Skelly.

Cromwell Zembower of LaVale was the parade marshal. Appearing in the line of march were, first division, Marine Color Guard, Ridgeleyettes, Meyersdale, Pa. Drum and Bugle Corps, Keyser fire company, district 16 ladies auxiliary, District 16 fire company, Confluence, Pa., Fire Company, Deer Park Fire Company, Filey Ford Fire Company and Clarysville Fire Company.

Parade Division Gets Ready

The first division of the seven-division parade of fire companies, musical units and ladies auxiliary groups readies itself just prior to the beginning of the huge Firemen's Night parade on the race track at the fairgrounds during the Cumberland Fair last night. The truck belongs to the Keyser Vigilant Reel and Hose Company and the ladies getting ready to the left are District 16 auxiliary.

County Sewage Disposal Plan To Be Discussed

Two Groups To Meet At City Hall Tonight

The Mayor and Council and the Board of Allegany County Commissioners will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall to explore the possibilities of a county-wide sewage treatment plan.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said he has asked Robert T. Regester, Baltimore consulting engineer who prepared plans for Cumberland's proposed plant, and Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, to attend.

Will Ask Bids

City officials this week announced plans for asking bids Monday on the Cumberland plant, estimated to cost about $2,00,000.

This plant will be located off Offutt Street, between the Potomac River and the old C & O Canal and will be large enough to treat sewage from the Greater Cumberland area.

The State Department of Health last year urged that a county sewage authority be formed, with outlying communities channeling their sewage to Cumberland, where it could be treated

No Action Taken

No action was taken by the county on the proposal.

Senator Robert B. Kimble recently urged that efforts to form a county-wide plan be revived, pointing out that aid from the state, government and area industries might be possible under such a program.

The senator warned that if Cumberland builds a sewage treatment plant and other communities do not solve their sewage problems, citizens of Cumberland will still not be protected from the danger of water-borne diseases.

1,500 Trees To Be Given Away At Fair

Before the end of the Cumberland Fair Saturday, the State Department of Forests and Parks will distribute 1,500 white spruce seedlings to persons who visit its display at the fair, located beside the paddock.

The department has placed two of the seedlings in glass jars, showing the right and wrong way to plant them. This distribution, it is hoped, will encourage reforestation.

The seedlings were obtained from the department's nursery, located at Harmans, Anne Arundel County.

Another miniature display depicts a mill and millrace, with water furnishing power to operate the mill, An electric train is used to bring logs to the sawmill.

The remainder of the cleverly-designed display consists of replicas of a state park and forest warden's headquarters, and a showing of wood samples and all the products that can be made from wood.

Missing Jet Parts Found At Edgewood

Search Presumed To Be Concluded

The search for a F-86 Sabrejet, missing since Saturday out of Wilmington, Del., which extended into Western Maryland, apparently has come to a close as pieces of metal and wire believed to be part of the plane, were fished from the mouth of the Gunpowder River at Edgewood, in Harford County yesterday.

Pilots of Fort Cumberland Flight, Civil Air Patrol, joined in the search and scanned the mountainous terrain of Allegany and Garrett counties and parts of nearby West Virginia.

Air Force officers said the material was "definitely" from a jet plane. The presumption was it was the Sabrejet flown by Capt. Frank H. Stern Jr., 35, of the Delaware Air National Guard. No sign of the pilot has been discovered.

The plane apparently was buried in the mud below 10 feet of water, they said. Grappling operations by boats from the U. S. Coast Guard, the Army's Aberdeen test center and Edgewood Chemical Center were still going on. Authorities said a diver would be sent down to help.

Several fishermen reported hearing the roar of a jet and seeing a big splash in the water in the area and that set off the grappling operations.

Three Damage Suits Filed In Auto Collision

Howard Brehm Sued For Total $10,000

Three damage suits totaling $10,000 were filed yesterday afternoon in Allegany County Circuit Court against Howard F. Brehm, Mexico Farms, as a result of a two-car collision on Route 51 last November 29.

The suits, docketed by William H. Geppert and Richard F. Wertheimer as attorneys for the plaintiffs, charged Brehm was negligent in operating his motor vehicle west along State Route 51, resulting in the collision with another automobile driven by John T. Kesler, Washington, D. C., heading east.

One suit for $5,000 was filed by Kesler for himself and the Government Employees Insurance Company of Washington, charging that because of the mishap which occurred about 17 miles east of Cumberland Kesler was hospitalized in Cumberland for a long period of time, losing many weeks work with the Department of Defense in Washington where he is employed.

The suit asked claims against Brehm for hospital, medical and loss of work fees as well as seeking judgment of $1,532.50 for the insurance company which insured Kesler's automobile. The suit claimed the Kesler vehicle was completely demolished.

The other two suits were filed by Carl Bowers, Paw Paw, W. Va., in behalf of his two infant daughters who were also injured in the collision of the two vehicles. The girls, Elma Bowers and Jean Bowers, were passengers in the Kesler car at the time of the mishap.

The suit for Elma Bowers asks for $3,000 damages as a result of severe injuries received in the crash as well as loss of work from her job as an IBM operator in Washington, D. C.

The third claim for Jean Bowers asks for $2,000 as a result of her hospitalization and medical expenses, permanent injuries incurred and the loss of attendance at school.

Crab Feast Set By Shrine Units

A crab feast, sponsored by the activity committee and uniformed units of Ali Ghan Temple, will be held on Friday from 5 to 8 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Country Club picnic grounds.

The affair is open to the public, according to Russell H. Shafer, chairman of the activity committee. The crabs are being purchased at Cambridge and will be shipped by truck to the picnic grounds.

Other refreshments will be served. A three-piece hillbilly band is being secured by the committee to furnish music for an old time square dance. Awards will be given during the affair.

Tickets are available at Hauger's Jewelry Store, Potomac Fruit Market, Wagoner's Esso Station, Greene Street, Chaney's Cigar Store, South Cumberland Hardware, Truitt Drug Store, Dingle Drug Store and at the recorder's office of Ali Ghan Temple, South Centre Street.

Dog Bites Boy

A seven-year-old boy, Joseph Forbeck, of 1110 Rolling Mill Alley, was treated at Memorial Hospital last night after being bitten by a dog. Police said the dog broke loose from the yard of 232 West Oldtown Road.

County To Ask Work To Begin On Plant Road

Letter To Be Sent To State Roads Group

Allegany County Board of Commissioners plan to request the State Roads Commission to begin immediate preparations for the construction of a roadway and bridge to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company site.

Gorman E. Getty Jr., attorney to the board of commissioners, said yesterday he expects to prepare a letter to be sent to the SRC this week asking the road work to begin now that the plate glass company has announced its intention of building a large plant here.

Plans agreed upon at earlier meetings of the SRC, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and county commissioners call for the State Roads Commission to complete the actual construction which will be financed by county, federal and railroad funds.

Formality Needed

"The county has only the formality of requesting the SRC to begin the actual construction of the county road and bridge across the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks to the plant site," Getty explained. "Funds for the work, which is expected to cost between $450,000 and $500,000 are available or provided for," he added.

"All that is needed now is for an agreement to be entered into between the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and the SRC for the work to be started," Getty said.

Overhead Bridge

The plan involves the construction of a bridge over the B&O tracks, relocation of the county road, construction of a service road connection from the Western Maryland Railway underpass under the proposed new road and an overhead structure providing for a 100 foot track span and a 38 foot underpass for vehicular traffic.

The project will be financed by the county with assistance from the federal aid seconary roads program fund, the B&O has agreed to pay 10 per cent of the cost of the bridge under the grade crossing elimination program. The county has provided for 4.11 cents on the county's tax rate set by the commissioners April 20 at $1.80 per $100 to be used as supplemental matching funds for the North Branch program.

The county will receive $150,000 from the federal aid funds not used by other counties in the state, is expected to save some $27,000 in fill material to be made available in cooperation with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, plus at least $17,000 from the railroad.

Bus Inspections Will Begin Today

The pre-school inspection of buses and passenger cars used to transport students to and from Allegany County schools will be held today and tomorrow.

A schedule set up by Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation of county schools, is as follows:

Today, Flintstone, 8:30 a. m.; Piney Plains, 10:30 a. m.; Oldtown, 1 p. m. and Beall High, Frostburg, 3 p. m. Tomorrow, Fort Hill High School, 8:30 a. m.; Bruce High, Westernport, 1:15 p. m.; Valley High, Lonaconing, 1:45 p. m. and Mt. Savage, Bus Garage, 3 p. m. Contractors are urged to have their buses and passenger cars at the appointed inspection centers at the date and time specified.

Raymond C. Thompson, newly-appointed school bus inspector from the Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles, will assist with the inspections.

Governor And Wife Greeted Warmly At Mt. Savage

Governor and Mrs. Theodore R. McKeldin received an enthusiastic welcome during a brief visit to Mt. Savage yesterday morning.

He had his car serviced at the Walters service station there while he was getting his hair trimmed by John Fabbri, Mt. Savage barber.

Governor McKeldin presented autographed photographs of himself and President Eisenhower to a number of Mt. Savage residents, including Fire Chief Edward Malloy.

As a going-away gift, he received a tip from Edward Farrell for the seventh race at Hagerstown, where he and his wife were headed.
